Were Made Against Several Offenders in Police Court

Charles J. McKenna was arraigned before Judge Hadley in police court this morning on a complaint charging him with breaking and entering the store of Antonio Homans at 227 Gorham street last Thursday noon and the larceny therefrom of two pairs of clippers and two razors.

Antonio Homans, the complainant, was the first witness, and he testified that he keeps a barber shop at 227 Gorham street. Thursday noon about 12:25 o'clock he left his place, locking the door, and went to dinner. He returned about 1:15 o'clock and upon entering the place found that the rear window had been opened and two pairs of clippers and two razors were missing. The window had been pried open.

J. J. Highland, employed by William H. Hayes, a pawnbroker in Central street, said that McKenna called at his place and offered the clippers for sale and he refused them.

Inspector Martin A. Maher explained about the arrest of McKenna, who at the time of his arrest denied that he knew anything about the clippers. Continuing the inspector said: "When I spoke to McKenna he said that he did not know what I was talking about." Inspector Maher produced a rather crude jimmy which had been used to force the window and in answer to questions put by the court he said that he had fitted the end of the jimmy into the impression under the window frame and found that it fitted the opening.

McKenna, testifying in his own behalf, said that he would be able to prove an alibi if given an opportunity. He said that he was at the city farm until after 1 o'clock and going down to the South common met several men and it was during a conversation with one of them that the latter gave him the clippers to sell, promising him a drink if he got rid of them.

Probable cause of guilt being found, McKenna was held under $400 bond for his appearance before the superior court.

Threatened His Wife
Napoleon Perreault was charged with threatening to do bodily harm to his wife, Rose Perreault.

During the course of the testimony it was brought out that Perreault and his wife have been living apart for some time and Mrs. Perreault testified that on May 5th he told her that if she did not return to him he would chop her up into sausage meat or shoot her. She also produced several threatening letters alleged to have been sent her by her husband.

Perreault said that he meant no harm to his wife, but would like to have her return to him. If she did not wish to do that he was willing to pay whatever it might cost her to get a divorce. She said that she would never live with him and that it is her intention to get a divorce from him.

He was found guilty and ordered under $200 to keep the peace for six months.

Was Drunk in Court

Charles Ambrosini appeared in court this morning on a complaint of drunkenness. It seems that after his arrest he was hauled out and when he put in an appearance in court this morning his condition was such that he was taken downstairs to a cell. He will appear in court tomorrow morning.

Sent to Reformatory

Joseph Geoffroy was charged with stealing groceries from the store of Pierre Drapeau in Salem street on April 20 and 21. It seems that the young man by either breaking a pane of glass or finding the glass broken, was able, by reaching his hand through the aperture, to steal sugar, bottles of olives and other articles.

Inspector Charles Laframme, who arrested Geoffroy, informed the court that the boy's father was going to have a warrant sworn out, claiming that he was a stubborn child, but at the suggestion of the inspector, who informed the father that it would be unnecessary owing to the fact that complaints of larceny had been made, the warrant was not issued.

The young man was sentenced to the Massachusetts reformatory at Concord.

Present at a Game

Joseph Boudrenn was charged with being present at a game of craps yesterday. Joseph stands about four feet with his high heel shoes, wears knee pants and looks to be about 14 years of age, but he claims to be 21 years old. He admitted that he was present and a fine of $5 was imposed. The others escaped.

Judge Hadley inquired where the defendant had been found and he was informed that he was taken from Richmond avenue. "Worthing street seems to be the centre of crap shooting from my own personal observation," said Judge Hadley.

Stole Flowers From Church

Napoleon Gerard entered the First Congregational church yesterday morning while the service was going on and it is alleged stole a box containing 35 carnations which was on a table in the vestry. Gerard had little or nothing to say other than that he was under the influence of liquor at the time and did not know what he was doing. He belongs in Maine and said that he was able to pay a fine, but did not want to be sent to jail. The flowers were the property of Miss Charlotte Lee of Tewksbury, who is organist at the church. Gerard was held under $400 bonds for his appearance Friday morning.

Drunken Offenders

Annie Manning, who was charged with drunkenness, said that she took a little glass of punch last night and that it knocked her out. Patrolman Sheridan found her about 12:30 o'clock this morning lying on the sidewalk in Elliot street. She was fined $5. Joseph Gilet was also fined $5.

Thomas McCaffrey, Robert McNamara, Peter Martin, John J. McNamara and Edward P. Curry were each fined $5.

Louis Perreault, a parole man from the state farm, will be returned to that institution. William H. Reagan was sentenced to four months in jail. There was one first offender who was fined $2 and several simple drunks were released.

mounted the balcony of Friary court at St. James palace where Queen Victoria presented herself to the people upon the opening of her memorable reign, and blew a fanfare through their long silver trumpets.

The precincts of the palace by this time were crowded with a great mass of people, many of whom could secure but the briefest glimpse of the proceedings. The balconies and roofs of the ancient palace which had been draped with red cloth were reserved for the nobles all of whom were in deep mourning. Members of the royal household, the ministers and their wives and high officers of state, all in brilliant uniforms, were gathered around the court. General Sir John French with the headquarters staff in full dress uniform stood surrounded by a troop of horseguards in their red tunics and breast plates of polished steel.

From the windows of Marlborough house immediately opposite the duke of Cornwall, the young heir to the throne, the younger princess and princesses watched the ceremony. The heralds having concluded their duties the officers of arms, chief of whom is the duke of Norfolk, hereditary earl marshal and chief butler of England took their places on the balcony forming the great heraldic company. None were mourning, this having been removed for the occasion. Sir Alfred Scott-Gatty, garter principal king of arms, with the duke of Norfolk and two officers, leading the staff of officers, stepped to the front of the balcony and in a voice which could be heard across the court and in the streets adjoining read the proclamation while great throngs stood uncovered in a drizzling rain.

The duke and Sir Alfred then called for three cheers for the king and the people responded with fairly deafening hurrahs which were silenced only by the reappearance of the heralds who sounded another fanfare.

The last note had hardly died away when the band of the Coldstream guards, which had taken up a position in the square, struck up "God Save the King." The young princes from their point of vantage in the windows of Marlborough house stood with their hands at salute and the officers and troops stood at attention.

As the national anthem was concluded the first gun of the battery in St. James park belched forth a royal salute and the people in the square and streets at the same moment took up the refrain "God Save the King." This was probably the most impressive part of the ceremony, the fervent cheering of the crowds which first read those in the balcony as a hum, growing in volume as more and more singers joined in while at minute intervals the sun half drowned the chorus. Meanwhile the royal standard had been hoisted over Marlborough house, indicating that the king was in the royal residence and flags upon the public offices throughout the city were raised to the masts.

The royal standard on Buckingham palace alone remained at half-mast. The flag will remain at half-mast until sunset this evening and again will be lowered to half-mast tomorrow.

The duke of Norfolk and Sir Alfred Scott-Gatty, the officers of state and other officers of distinguished company in Friary court continued in their positions until the people having concluded their cheering, the national anthem turned towards Marlborough house and renewed their cheers for the king, a glimpse of whom was caught as he stood at the window with Queen Mary at his side. A moment later his majesty lowered the blind.

Besides the heraldic officers and members of the cabinet who had hurriedly returned from their holidays abroad, diplomats including American Ambassador Bredt, and the embassy staff and other notables including J. P. Morgan watched the proceedings from the balcony. The officers of the king's household and a few others who witnessed the ceremony from Marlborough house, a scaffolding having been erected behind the wall which shuts out a view of the grounds from the street which separates St. James palace and the residence which the king occupied while he was the prince of Wales.

The popular demonstration, at an end, the early marshal and his attendants proceeded to the ambassador's court whence they drove to Charing Cross and thence to the city of London to read the proclamation to the people at the designated points. The route to the city proper was lined with 7000 troops while at the places at which the procession stopped and repeated the ceremony troops and horseguards were stationed. The royal carriages of the duke of Norfolk, Sir Alfred Scott-Gatty and the officers of arms followed by General D'Oyly, the chamberlain, the staff and a cavalry troop drove briskly from St. James to Charing Cross.

Thousands upon thousands who had waited since early morning silently watched the stately progress of the heraldic procession. At Charing Cross there was such a rush that the troops had great difficulty in keeping a space clear for the heralds. The royal announcers again blew a fanfare and Sir Alfred once more read the proclamation. Again the people sang the national anthem, their voices being accompanied by the music of military bands.

Along the strand the procession continued through lines of troops and crowds of people to Temple bar at the boundary of the city, where the lord mayor, sheriffs, aldermen, and officers of the city of London, all in their robes of office, awaited the coming of the early marshal.

HUMPHREY O'SULLIVAN

Chosen Chief Marshal of the Great A. O. H. Parade

Mr. Humphrey O'Sullivan will ride at the head of the great Hibernian parade to be held in this city in August in connection with the state convention of the order which also will be held here and will extend over four days.

At a mass meeting of the local Hibernians, held in A. O. H. hall yesterday and which was attended by the state officers, Mr. O'Sullivan was the unanimous choice for the position of chief marshal of the parade. The gathering was a most enthusiastic one and was presided over by Michael J. McMullin. There were speeches delivered that met with a most general approval. Seated on the platform were the state officers, Mr. John W. McEvoy, Mr. James O'Sullivan, Fred H. Rourke, Michael J. Markham, Alderman Connors, John C. Rourke, president of Division 3, and delegate from this county to the national convention at Portland, Oregon. It was decided to appoint a committee of ten to act with the central council in making arrangements for the coming state convention. It was also voted to appoint a committee to interview the mill agents and see if it can be arranged to have the annual vacation for mill employees take place during convention week in August.

Mr. McMullin in opening the meeting told the central council is doing to make the convention and parade a great success, and he referred to the necessity of united and earnest action.

The State President
State President John J. Rogers of Worcester received a warm welcome when he was introduced. He referred most enthusiastically to the prospects for the parade. He said he had been in some of the western counties of the state and the members and their wives and children are already preparing to come to Lowell in large numbers. In many of the places divisions of the A. O. H. and Hibernian military companies are drilling and organizations are combining to bring bands to Lowell. He said that he has received many letters relative to the details of the parade, and even from New Hampshire and Maine inquiries were received asking whether or not the A. O. H. organizations of those states will be allowed to take part in the parade. He said he has no doubt that every state in New England will be represented and that not less than 15,000 men will be in line. He spoke of the great crowds that will come to Lowell during the convention week, and he added that they will not be here for the day alone but will remain for the entire week, and he doubted if the hotels and lodging houses will be able to accommodate the throng. "Your merchants," he said, "will reap an immense benefit in the way of trade and advertising, and the city and its advantages will be given great publicity."

John W. McEvoy
It remained for Mr. McEvoy to bring the great gathering to its feet when, after being introduced by President McMullin, he suggested that action relative to the selection of a chief marshal for the parade be taken at once, and said that he knew of none better qualified for that position than Mr. Humphrey O'Sullivan. The men stood up and cheered at the mention of Mr. O'Sullivan's name. During the course of his remarks, Mr. McEvoy said:

"We are all actuated by the hope that not only will the state convention be productive of the most beneficial results for the future welfare of our organization but that the great parade will be in numbers, in appearance and enthusiasm such a spectacle as will impress upon all our fellow citizens the respect which our Ancient Order and its members are entitled to receive. The first suggestion that I could offer would be the necessity for choosing immediately a man well fitted to lead the way, a man who, by experience, could be able to grasp the multitude of details confronting us and who could so shape the situation as to insure its success. We have such a man, I was almost tempted to say such a hero, one whose name comes spontaneously and irresistibly to my lips as it does, doubtless, to the minds of all the men who have already demonstrated his capacity to manipulate and control great occasions. I refer to our generous, our patriotic and our esteemed brother, H. O'Sullivan. With him as manager of the day or of the week, the Hibernians of this city and of the entire state, will rally in such numbers and enthusiasm as to make a procession a memorable event and one worthy of the best traditions of our race. Let it be known that the parade is to come under the skillful guidance of H. O'Sullivan and the Hibernians of our city, as well as those in the remote towns and cities of our commonwealth, will rush into line, knowing that in the future annals of Hibernianism they will not be likely to participate again in such a grand affair. His leadership will also spur this entire community and the city of Lowell will enjoy such a day and this society such an honor as its history in this state and nation may never be able to duplicate."

Our organization and this city bear a peculiar relationship to each other. Both were born in the year 1838 and here Hibernianism has found fertile soil in which the precepts of our order have flourished and borne good fruit. I venture to say that, proportionately, no city in this commonwealth surpasses Lowell in its allegiance to the A. O. H. and no more congenial or suitable place could be found than this city in which to hold the annual convention and parade. It behooves us, therefore, as members to contribute our efforts in every possible way for the success of the obligations that we have assumed and for the honor and privilege conferred by the last state convention, to prove that Lowell is worthy of the convention's confidence and that the choice was not misplaced.

Let us all unite and let no personal or interior considerations divide us. Let every member be loyal to his division and all of us faithful to our principles and proud to promote them. We can then look forward to that great August when the Hibernians of this city will be put to a supreme test and when it comes, may you be equal to the occasion.

At the conclusion of Mr. McEvoy's remarks, Mr. Michael J. Markham arose and said that judging from the demonstration at the mention of Mr. O'Sullivan's name, the sentiment of the meeting was that he should be chosen chief marshal of the parade and therefore he offered a motion that it be the sense of the meeting that Mr. Humphrey O'Sullivan be chosen chief marshal of the state parade. The motion passed unanimously and a committee of two was appointed to wait on Mr. O'Sullivan at his home and escort him to the hall. During the absence of the committee other speakers were heard and when Mr. O'Sullivan entered the hall there was loud applause and cheering that continued for some time. State President Rogers, in forming him, said that speaking for himself and the state officers he would place in the hands of Mr. O'Sullivan all the arrangements for the state parade. He explained that the usual custom is to have the state officers make all arrangements but he felt that Mr. O'Sullivan, because of his experience could better attend to this matter and secure the best results.

Mr. O'Sullivan
Mr. O'Sullivan expressed to the meeting his great appreciation of the honor conferred upon him and said that from now on his great endeavor will be to make this parade the greatest in the history of the A. O. H. and the highest affair that the city of Lowell has ever witnessed. He spoke of the work done by the order in this city and told of his own connection with it. He said that plans will be made at once to carry on the preliminary details of the parade and convention and he felt that with the cooperation of the members both events would be magnificent successes.

Fred H. Rourke told of what he was doing by the committee to raise funds to finance the two big events, and the other speakers were Hubert McQuade, Daniel E. Hogan, Charles Callahan, James O'Sullivan, state vice president, John H. Dillon, Alderman Connors and Patrick Connolly.

ST. JOSEPH'S

LEADS ARCHDIOCESE IN PROPAGATION WORK

The column devoted to the Propagation of the Faith in this week's issue of the Pilot has the following:

As is already known to our readers, St. Joseph's church at Lowell, Mass., has the honor of being the "banner branch" in the archdiocese. This is a French-speaking congregation provided over by the Oblates of Mary Immaculate, to whom as their Provincial lately wrote to the diocesan office—"the mission work is always peculiarly dear."

The director of this great branch alludes frequently in public and private to the mission cause. Many of his members make full returns for the year within the first few months and regular meetings are held. Souvenir cards are distributed occasionally to the promoters and special premiums awarded to those who have charge of several bands.

THE KINGDOM

SHILOH SOCIETY BOAT HOME FROM MEDITERRANEAN

PORTLAND, Me., May 9.—Two barkentine Kingdom of the Holy Ghost and St. Society, of Shiloh in this state, arrived here yesterday from the Mediterranean. Rev. Frank Sanford, the head of the sect is on board, and it is believed that the ship has brought back the society's colonists at Palestine, many of whom have been there several years and who, it is said, were in danger of falling into want. The ship was swarming with men and women and many little children, none of whom disembarked today. One of the men on board said the Kingdom sailed from Gibraltar March 17 and came by the way of St. Thomas, where a stop of a day was made. He said that Mr. Sanford was with the party, they had only pleasant weather across.

The colony at the Holy Land has been established for eight or 10 years and Leader Sanford has spent considerable of his time there.

EX-SUPT. BYRNES

Well Known Detective is Dead

NEW YORK, May 9.—The death of Thomas Byrnes, known familiarly as Inspector Byrnes, although he had been chief of police in this city, occurred Saturday night after a long illness from chronic indigestion and gastritis.

The end was not unexpected, Mrs. Byrnes and their five daughters being at his bedside.

In his death there passes away one of the greatest detectives this country has ever known. Byrnes retired from the New York police in 1885 with a yearly pension of $3000. Besides, he was millionaire through funds he had secured by fortunate investment.

Mr. Byrnes was born in Ireland June 15, 1842, but came to this country with his parents when four months old. He was educated in New York and when the war broke out enlisted in the First regiment New York volunteers. He served until the regiment was disbanded and then returned to the city and Dec. 10, 1863, was appointed a policeman.

In a short time he was assigned to special duties and soon made a reputation as a successful catcher of confidence men and other criminals. He became the terror of the crooks and rose rapidly, being made a captain in 1869.

In 1892 he became superintendent of police and held the position until 1896, when he voluntarily resigned.

Organized Detective Bureau
It was while inspector and in charge of detective bureau, his office headquarters in Mulberry street that Byrnes won his greatest fame.

From the day he became a member of the police until he retired on May 27, 1896, Byrnes was a thief catcher, and it was as such that he became a valuable servant of the people.

Thomas Byrnes rose quickly from the ranks. He was first a patrolman, then a roundsman, later on a sergeant, and finally a captain.

Thirty years ago New York was overrun with thieves and thugs. A reign of terror had spread over the town. Murders were committed almost nightly.

It was at that time that Byrnes was called to Mulberry street and told to organize a detective bureau. He had shown considerable detective ability while occupying positions of lower rank in the police department, and this had attracted the attention of his superiors to the quiet but determined man.

Force of Picked Men
In a very short time he had organized what became known as the central office of detectives and assigned to that bureau were the best thief catchers in the department.

He had only a very limited number of detective sergeants under his command, but had the power to reduce those at any time, and without trial. In that way he was able to surround himself with the best talent the department could afford.

CHAS. J. GLIDDEN

Acted as Critic of Balloon Trip

ORANGE, May 9.—A unique balloon trip, in which three men, Jay B. Benton of Boston, J. Walter Flagg of Worcester and William Van Sleet of Pittsfield, made their final qualifying ascensions as pilots under a critic, ended near here yesterday, after a flight of almost 60 miles in an air line. Chas. J. Glidden of Boston, a licensed pilot, was the critic, and William Moisan of Pittsfield was taken as passenger.

The ascent was made in the balloon basket from Aero park, Pittsfield, at 4 o'clock yesterday morning. It was the first trip of the balloon since it was rebuilt last winter, the journey being considered an unusual one for distance and number of passengers carried in a balloon of 25,000 cubic feet capacity. After rising to a considerable height, the balloon was brought to earth about 10 minutes following the start. This was repeated twice that, each of the three pilots might handle the air craft separately on the short flights. All three flights were made within the city limits of Pittsfield.

Mr. Glidden left the basket after the third descent and his place in the car was taken by Mr. Moisan, who, with the three pilots, started on their long flight. A north wind carried the balloon over the Berkshires, but the air currents soon shifted, and took the aeronauts southeastward. The highest altitude reached was 7300 feet.

When they neared this town the balloonists decided to land and did so easily in a meadow about two miles north of here. It was 8:25 a. m. when the basket touched the earth.

STONES HURLED

Strike Breakers Used Their Revolvers

GREENVILLE, R. I., May 9.—Enraged by a shower of stones hurled by children, most of the members of a band of thirty-four strike breakers, who were being brought from out of town to the mills of the Sullivan Water Power Co., here, 150 men are on strike, pulled revolvers and fired a volley of shots, early last evening. No one was hurt, but the attitude of the strike breakers was so menacing that the crowds attracted by the shooting allowed the men to enter the mills without protest.

The end of the strike, now four weeks old, is apparently a far off affair. The importation of strike breakers, it is said, has intensified the bitter feeling among the operatives, who struck for higher wages. The company, it is said, will attempt shortly to reopen the mills.

CASTELLANE DEFEATED

PARIS, May 9.—The second ballots for 229 seats in the chamber of deputies, held yesterday, throughout France, passed off quietly. Early returns indicate that there is no change in the situation of the parties. Roul de Castellane was defeated for re-election by the radical republican, Perchod.

MAYOR GAYNOR

Shows How to End Accident Arrests

NEW YORK, May 9.—Mayor Gaynor sent yesterday to Police Commissioner Baker a communication directing him to do away with the practice followed by the police of arresting crews on railroad trains and of the motorman and conductor of rapid transit trains and surface cars in cases where some one has been run over. This is the letter that the mayor sent to Commissioner Baker:

Complaint has been made to me that on April 21 Joseph F. Mullin, a locomotive engineer of the New York Central and Hudson River Railroad Co., was arrested without a warrant and locked up by two policemen over night, that he was taken to the police court next morning and held in $1000 bail for examination on the charge of assault, that he offered H. E. Dwyer as his bondsmen; that the magistrate rejected Mr. Dwyer for the reason that he had once practiced law (which was no reason at all in criminal practice) and sent the prisoner back to jail; that thereupon a justice of the supreme court accepted Mr. Dwyer as bondsman and discharged the prisoner on bail; that on examination day the officers who made the arrest could furnish no evidence against the prisoner; that an adjournment was had and on the adjourned day they could furnish no evidence; that subsequently the coroner called up the Thirty-seventh street police station house and had the prisoner arrested again without a warrant and that he was afterward discharged again for lack of any evidence.

All this was done because a brakeman on the cars attached to the said Mullin's engine was hurt while he was standing on the running board of the tender of the engine in the yard of the New York Central and Hudson River Railroad company. There was nothing to show that the engineer assaulted him. It appears to have been an accident. We have all observed that policemen very often make similar arrests of motorman and others simply because an accident happened. I write this to you not merely to redress the wrong which was committed to this man but also to have you gradually do away with such occurrences in the future.

The members of the force seem to be under the erroneous notion that it is their duty to make arrests in all such cases. They should not do so unless there be some evidence after careful examination that a felony was committed, and even then they should avoid the issuing of a warrant unless the case be reasonably clear and the defendant may run away. The way is to first make an examination and see whether the person has committed a felony and whether anybody can testify against him. To arrest an engineer or motorman for assault or manslaughter simply because an accident happened and without any evidence against him is an oppression forbidden by law.

PEACE CONFERENCE

HARTFORD, Conn., May 9.—With special services in the churches of Hartford, New Britain and neighboring towns yesterday morning, and mass meetings in the afternoon and evening, the New England Arbitration and Peace conference was formally opened here yesterday, under the auspices of the American Peace society and the Connecticut State Peace society. This conference will be the only one held in this country this year, and a part of the sessions will be held in New Britain, in honor of the 100th anniversary of the birth of Elihu Burritt of this city, who inspired the international congress in 1848.

Rev. C. Glenn Hopkins, D. D., of Providence, R. I., spoke on "The Cost of Peace."

TWO VITAL THINGS REQUIRED IN TREATING SKIN DISEASES

In treating and curing Eczema and other well defined skin diseases, two vital things must be done. One is to exclude dust, germs and air from the diseased parts, and the other is to set up the healing process at the same time. The new medical preparation called Cadum accomplishes both these results so effectively that the itching is stopped as soon as it is applied, and the sore parts heal up in a wonderfully short time. Anyone with skin trouble can test Cadum by getting a 10-cent box at any drug store, and thus personally realize the power of this new compound, which is just as effective in the cure of pimples, blotches, blackheads, eruptions, acne, herpes, scaly skin, rash, sores, chaffings, etc.

Why does an imported Panatela cost more than a "Blackstone"?

The tobacco isn't any finer, the flavor isn't any richer, it is not made any better. But, the Panatela costs 15 cents and the "Blackstone" only 10 cents

—WHY?

You'll wonder why men pay the difference after you smoke the Blackstone Cigar.

The difference in cost is due to the tariff on foreign-made goods, the whims of smokers, and the vanity of man which impels him to buy the high-priced article regardless of quality. The

COUNTY OFFICIALS

Invite an Investigation of Published Charges

Sheriff John R. Fairbairn and Deputy Sheriff Harry E. Shaw, keeper of the Lowell jail, two of the Middlesex county officials for whose removal an award of contracts has been filed with Atty. Gen. Dana Malone by a committee of Middlesex county residents, deny the charges made against them and express their willingness for an investigation.

The officials thus charged include, in addition to Sheriff Fairbairn and Keeper Shaw, the three county commissioners, Levi S. Gould, Charles H. Richardson and Chester B. Williams, and Deputy Sheriff William H. Walsh.

HARRY E. SHAW
Keeper of Jail

The commissioners are charged with waste, extravagance and favoritism in award of contracts; the others with malfeasance in office.

The charges were presented by Atty. Archibald M. Howe of Cambridge for the Cambridge Taxpayers association, Atty. Arthur Brooks for the Civil Service Reform league and Atty. Jackson Palmer of Woburn and Atty. Philip R. Dunbar for the committee. On the committee are Richard Henry Dana, Louis D. Brandeis, John H. Cogswell, Jesse Morton, Albin M. Richards, Prof. Lowell Kennedy and James P. Tolman.

Questioned regarding the charges, Sheriff Fairbairn said last night: "I don't know as I have anything to say. I don't know what they are talking about. I am glad if they are going to investigate, and if there is anything wrong, I hope they'll show it up. I have nothing to fear."

Deputy Sheriff Harry E. Shaw, keeper of the Lowell jail, says he is ready for an investigation on any charges that may be preferred against the management of that institution. "I know nothing about any investigation except what I read in a newspaper today," said Mr. Shaw. "If there has been any mismanagement at the Lowell jail while I have been in charge it is only fair to the taxpayers that they should know all about it."

"If the people who have been hinting at an investigation do not intend to ask for it, then I believe it is up to the county officials to demand an investigation. I am ready at any time to meet any charge, and now that charges have been publicly made, in justice to the officials involved, it is only fair that an investigation should be made."

IN CONVENTION

THE MERRIMACK RIVER BIBLE SCHOOL WORKERS MET.

The 44th annual meeting of the Merrimack River Baptist Bible School convention will be held at the Central Baptist church at Chelmsford Centre, Wednesday.

The opening will be at 10 o'clock with a devotional service conducted by Rev. C. H. Williams of North Billerica. At 10.30 an address will be given by Rev. W. J. Swaffield, D. D., of the First Baptist church, Lawrence, and this will be followed by a discussion on "Phases of Sunday School Work," conducted by Rev. F. A. Macdonald of the Fifth Street Baptist church of Lowell, whose part of the topic will be the social life; other sub-divisions of this main topic are benevolence, educational and spiritual, and the speakers include Supt. P. F. Gilbert of Andover and Mrs. W. G. Shortless of Haverhill. Dinner is to be served at 12.15, and the afternoon will be given over to business and addresses by G. E. Murray of Lawrence and W. W. Main, the state secretary, and Rev. A. R. Dilts of the Calvary Baptist church of Lowell.

Supper will be served at 5 o'clock, and at 6.30 Rev. H. H. Bishop of North Tewksbury will lead a praise service. Unfinished business will be disposed of and the evening address will be given by Rev. Edward Krassin, D. D., of Boston. The exercises leave Merrimack square for Chelmsford Centre at 5 and 35 minutes past the hour.

DRACUT

As a result of the petition of the Boston & Northern Street Railway Co. for permission to lay 400 feet of tracks through Aldrich street from the Lowell line to Hovey square, the selectmen have set May 25 as the date for the hearing upon the matter. The hearing will be held at the town office in the evening so as to give the residents of the town a chance to talk on the question.

The regular meetings of the board of selectmen, which have heretofore been held on Saturdays, will in the future be held on Friday evenings.

A lively brush fire broke out yesterday afternoon in the rear of the Birchmead residence off Lakeview avenue. Word was sent to the Navy Yard company and a detachment of men was sent to the scene and after considerable trouble succeeded in extinguishing the blaze.

LOWELL SEES TWO DAYS OF SPORT AHEAD

PLAN UNDER WAY NATIONAL HOME "JIM" JEFFRIES

To Readjust the Railroad Rates

WASHINGTON, May 8.—A rate readjustment is being made by all interstate carriers in the territory between the Mississippi river and the Atlantic seaboard. The routes included are the water and rail, as well as the standard and differential lines.

Officials of the interstate commerce commission are expecting any day to receive tariffs making increases in the eastern territory. It is understood, tentatively, that the increased rates will become effective about July 1. The desire of the carriers, of course, is to anticipate the passage of the pending railroad bill by congress.

That measure carries at present a provision that any advance in rates shall not become effective until its reasonableness has been passed upon by the commission. If the rates are fixed before the bill is crystallized into law, the commission will have authority to take up the advances only after they have gone into effect and on the complaint of a shipper.

The scheme of readjustment to be followed by the eastern lines, probably will contemplate an advance on articles of luxury with the increases graded down to small advances on articles of the lower classes.

The preparation of tariffs to be filed with the interstate commerce commission involves an immense amount of detail work and it is not likely, therefore, that the new tariffs can be compiled in time to become effective before July 1.

Thus far only three lines in the east have advanced their passenger rates and none has advanced its freight rates.

These advance rates, while not subject to review by the commission under the present law, almost certainly will be the object of attack by the public, and in the end the commission will have to pass upon the reasonableness of any advances made by the carriers of any advances made by the carriers before the increases become effective.

If the pending railroad measure should be passed as it stands, the commission would have authority to pass upon the reasonableness of any advances made by the carriers of any advances made by the carriers before the increases become effective.

BROTHERHOOD OF ST. ANDREW
WORCESTER, May 8.—The New England assembly, Brotherhood of St. Andrew, which has been in session here the past few days, closed its 22d annual conference yesterday with four services.

To be Built by Cigar-makers of America

At the next meeting of the Cigar Makers' local union a vote will be taken on a proposed amendment to the constitution as follows: "That an assessment of three dollars be levied on each member, payable in 12 monthly assessments, due on the first Saturday of each month, commencing June, 1910." The purpose of this assessment is to establish a home for invalid, aged and infirm members of the Cigar Makers' International Union of America.

The cigar makers of Lowell are particularly interested in the matter from the fact that the president and secretary of the local union have continually agitated through the Cigar Makers' Journal for a Cigar Makers' home. Mitchell Killean, who is president and Thomas E. Garvey, the secretary, are to be congratulated on their success in having the question brought before the Cigar Makers throughout the country to be voted upon.

If the amendment should be adopted the home will be built at the cost not to exceed one hundred thousand dollars and will be built either in Colorado, Utah, New Mexico or Arizona.

SLIGHT INJURIES

CHILD FELL A DISTANCE OF 28 FEET

WARREN, R. I., May 8.—The 18 months old child of Edward Creech of Metcalf avenue had a remarkable escape from being killed by a fall of 28 feet out of a third story window yesterday. The baby struck on a slender sidewalk and escaped with a scratch on one of its legs. In a couple of minutes it revived from the shock and was as lively as ever.

Dr. M. H. Merchant made an examination and found no injuries.

The child, while playing in its home, climbed upon a stool and tumbled out of the window.

ALL CAPTURED

MEN CHARGED WITH GAMING ON SUNDAY

WAKEFIELD, May 8.—In a desperate attempt to escape a squad of officers who surprised them in Kimball's woods while it is said they were engaged in illegal gaming, eight out of a company of 13 men and youths, dashed out of the woods, and still wearing all their clothes, hurled themselves into the waters of Crystal lake. Before going far, seven were compelled, by exhaustion, to return to the shore and the waiting officers. The others swam entirely across the half mile wide lake and were captured on landing.

BILLERICA

The board of selectmen of Billerica, as a result of the recent tour of inspection of public property, has decided to make a number of improvements at Union hall, which is owned by the town. The grounds surrounding the hall will also be improved. A brush fire near the East Billerica-Williamston line yesterday afternoon gave the members of the Billerica Centre fire department a long run.

Did Good Work With Choynski

BEN LOMOND, May 8.—None of Jim Jeffries' workouts has pleased his trainers more than his Saturday bouts with Choynski and Papke. The speed and endurance shown by the fighter and the ease with which he handled his two opponents through nine fast rounds is still the talk of the camp. According to Farmer Burns, Jeffries' improvement in condition in the last week has been little less than remarkable and he is of the opinion that the big fellow could be in finished fighting trim two weeks hence if necessary. Jeffries, it is pointed out, has demonstrated that he can take off his fat and acquire wind and staying powers. His trainers now say that his future work will be directed mainly to the acquisition of speed and cleverness. Daily sparring and tussling with Jim Corbett and Frank Gotch, which is expected soon to be the order of the day, will give the former champion the seasoning that his trainers wish him to undergo.

Tex Rickard arrived at Ben Lomond last night for a stay of two or three days. The promoter is expected to talk over the referee problem with Manager Berger and Jeffries, though Rickard denied that such is his intention.

JOHNSON'S AUTO TRIP

SAN FRANCISCO, May 8.—Jack Johnson made an auto trip to San Jose to witness an aviation meet yesterday afternoon and a punctured tire which delayed the negro's return here started a rumor that he had been killed in a smashup.

Jack professed great indignation when told of the circulated report. "It's strange they're trying to kill me off," he said. "It was the same way in Chicago, but I'm still on the job and I'll be on it July 4."

Johnson began regular training for the fight today. He announced that he intended to drop all discussion of the referee question for a while.

It is said the fighter weighs about 220 pounds and that he plans to take about 20 pounds off during his training. He will try to reduce his weight very gradually. The negro seems to be apprehensive of the possibility of going stale before the battle and he has mapped out a plan of work which he declares he will faithfully adhere to throughout his training. He says that for the first few days he will devote himself chiefly to light boxing every other day and road work along the beach.

WILL RECOVER

MRS. HOUGHTON RESTING COMFORTABLY AT HOSPITAL

Mrs. Henry Houghton of 157 West Meadow road, who attempted to end her life Friday afternoon by taking a dose of Paris green, is resting comfortably at the Lowell hospital, to which place she was taken almost immediately after she took the poison. The hospital officials state that she has shown considerable improvement during the past 24 hours, and it is expected that she will recover.

Mrs. Houghton was cleaning house and came across the poison. She took some of it, and when found was in a serious condition. A doctor was summoned and the woman was taken to the hospital.

FOR INDUSTRIAL SCHOOLS.

The state of Massachusetts at the present time holds out great inducement to cities and towns to start industrial schools. Lawrence is one of the cities that have taken advantage of the state's offer to bear a large portion of the expense of such schools. Lowell may take up the matter later, but not until the public bath and public bath questions have been settled.

CRAP SHOOTING ON SUNDAYS.

A lot of young men around the city spend much of their time on Sundays in shooting craps. So common has become this form of gambling that, according to those who know, there are many young men who spend their entire weekly earnings in this manner. Numerous complaints reach the police station against young men who indulge this habit and lose their weekly wages as a result. The police are making a commendable effort to stamp out the vice in this city. Already many arrests are made, and a close watch will be kept on the places where the games are usually played. The scouts who are set to watch will be gathered in as well as those who play.

SENATOR LODGE'S ACTION.

Again Senator Lodge appears in the role of chief guardian and defender of republican policies. If it were patriotic to defend republican policies and even republican blunders, such as the worst features of the present tariff law, then Senator Lodge would be the greatest patriot in the land.

Notice the promptitude with which he rushes to Washington with the Massachusetts report on the high cost of living, there to have a part of it issued as a public document.

The Massachusetts report absolved the tariff from all blame for the high prices of commodities, although apparently with inadvertence it admitted that the high tariff cut off possible relief to consumers by closing access to the cheapest sources of food supply in the world's markets.

It cannot at present be estimated to what extent prices would be reduced by removal of the high tariff, but some idea may be formed from the fact that in no other country is the cost of living as high as in the United States, and that American trusts sell their products cheaper abroad than at home.

COL. ROOSEVELT'S PLEA FOR INTERNATIONAL PEACE.

The speech of ex-President Roosevelt before the Nobel Prize committee in Norway was the most statesmanlike and practical he has yet delivered, albeit it sounds strange to hear a man who has continually been urging increased naval armaments at home, plead so convincingly for international peace as a guest of a foreign court. In his speech he recommended additional treaties of peace, the formation of an arbitral court at The Hague and the establishment of a League of Peace made up of all the nations that would peace. To carry out and enforce the decrees of such a court it would be necessary to have an international army and navy, the duty of which would be to act under the direction of the arbitral court in enforcing its decrees.

Col. Roosevelt held up the supreme court of the United States as a model for the arbitral court of international justice, showing that it preserves peace among the states while deciding all interstate questions with the understanding that its decisions and decrees must be accepted as final.

It is quite probable that The Hague court at its next meeting, soon to be held, will make an effort to carry out some of Col. Roosevelt's suggestions. But these international movements make slow progress and meantime all the powers continue to build Dreadnaughts and to fortify themselves against foreign foes.

TO PREVENT DROWNINGS IN CANALS.

Mr. Harry W. J. Howe of the Charity Board, in a letter to the press, calls attention to the fact that certain portions of the local canals are dangerous to children because of their not being properly fenced in or enclosed. Mr. Howe estimates that one thousand lives have been lost in the canals since their construction, and while the estimate is not based upon accurate figures yet the total number of drownings in the canals undoubtedly goes up into the hundreds.

Mr. Howe appeals to Mayor Meehan for such action as may be necessary in order to provide better protection for children playing on the banks of the canals. The mayor himself cannot do more than urge the matter upon the attention of the city council which provides the remedy under section 32 of chapter 52, revised laws, which is as follows:

"If the city council of a city or the selectmen of a town shall, after notice in writing to the parties in interest, adjudge a canal or waterway within the limits of the city or town to be dangerous to public travel, they may by an order in writing require any person owning, operating or controlling said canal or waterway to fence the same."

The first thing to be done under this law is to find out what portion of the canal or waterway is really dangerous on account of not being properly fenced. Then have the city council notify the Locks and Canals company to have suitable fences provided.

If Mayor Meehan finds any canal or portion thereof dangerous because of the lack of proper enclosures, he can request the city council to apply the provision of the statutes just quoted.

Had we a system of public baths the fatal accidents in the canals would be greatly lessened because the boys would not seek the canals for bathing purposes. It must be said in all fairness that for lack of such facilities for bathing many boys have climbed high fences and gone down to their death in the swift current of the canals. For such accidents the city, not the Locks and Canals company, is responsible.

PEOPLE OF NOTE

For the purpose of making a geological survey of Central India, Summer Cushing of Brockton will leave in September for the east. Mr. Cushing, who is being sent out by Harvard university, is at present connected with the Salem Normal school, and during the coming summer will teach at the University of Illinois.

Dr. Gertrude E. Curtis of 471 Lenox avenue, New York, has been appointed in charge of the dental clinic on Monday afternoons at the Bellevue hospital in New York city. This is the first time a negro has been honored with an appointment to practice at this well known institution. Dr. Curtis was graduated from New York college of dental and oral surgery in May, 1909, and enjoys the distinction of being the first colored woman to get a license to practice dentistry in New York state.

Announcement comes from London that Miss Adeline Genee, the Danish dancer, will be married on June 11 to Frank S. N. Isitt of London, and following the ceremony a reception will be tendered them by the Duke and Duchess of Newcastle. The ceremony will take place in St. Margaret's chapel. Mr. Isitt is legal adviser of the Duke of Newcastle and others of the nobility. Miss Genee, who lately finished her American tour, will come back for one more visit and then will retire from the stage.

Sir James Murray has been elected one of the foreign members of the Premier academy, the number of whom is limited, like the immortals themselves, to forty. This distinction is only possessed by three other Englishmen—Dr. Arthur J. Evans, the first volume of whose "Scripta Minora" has recently been published; Dr. Barclay V. Head, a second edition of whose "Historia Numorum" is ready before long; and Sir E. Maudslayi Thompson, whose Baker de Swinebrooke's "Chronicle" and Adam de Usk's "Chronicle" (Royal Society of Literature) are also Oxford publications.

Mme. Sureout was the only woman to steer her own balloon in the recent official ascent of the Stella club, of Paris. Six balloons were entered in the test and the five others were piloted by men. The Stella has the honor of being the oldest if not the only aero club for women in the world. It was established in Paris less than a year ago and now has over 100 members. Mme. Sureout is president of the club. She is the wife of an airship builder, and is the only woman in the world with a license to navigate the air. She has already made several ascensions entirely alone.

TERRIBLY GORED

Bullfighter Attacked by Bull

MEXICO CITY, May 9.—Harper B. Lee, an American bullfighter, was fatally gored by a bull during a series of bull fights at Guadalupe last evening, according to despatches received here today.

Lee, with sixteen inches of his intestines protruding from the wound made by the bull, killed the animal and then quietly walked to the stand where he received medical aid. It is stated that the nerve displayed by the American matador is the topic of conversation in Guadalupe. He is now at the home of his uncle in that city.

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

Commencing this afternoon and for the first three days of the week another of the big vaudeville and motion picture programs that are being offered at this theatre will be seen. Heading the bill for the first three days of the week is a cyclist known as "Dare-Devil" Clegg, "the cyclist king" in his sensational "looping the loop" act that has been a feature of the program wherever he has appeared. Others on the bill are The Rathskeller Trio, in a whirlwind of laughter and melody; George Banks, monolog artist, singer and dancer; an entire new list of pictures will be shown as well as one of the best bills of the season is promised. Commencing Thursday there will be an entire change of program with Prince Kanazawa & Co., Japanese acrobats; Bertie Fowler, the cheer-up comedian; Johnnie Wise & Co. with comedy, singing and dancing and Davis & Davis, vocalists. The usual amateur contest will be an added feature of Tuesday night's program. The prices at the Opera House are five and ten cents and performances are given every afternoon from 2 to 5 and two full shows at night, starting at 7 and 8.30.

THEATRE VOYONS

The entertainment furnished at the Star theatre this afternoon, which was witnessed by two large audiences, in which women and children were well represented, was of unusual excellence. The pictures and songs were arranged to make the program apiece throughout. The pictures of economic and dramatic, proved careful selection on the part of the management. For the admission of five cents, which includes a seat it is amazing how the management can produce such a big bill. There promises to be many new faces among the amateurs tomorrow night.

STAR THEATRE

Canada is familiar to thousands of Lowell people but comparatively few really know the great progress that has been made in the Northwest during the last five years. Today the Theatre Royal features a play showing the progress of an emigrant from England in that territory in five years. It shows the arrival, the first sowing of wheat and the various steps till the bumper crop is reaped. It is a most instructive and interesting subject and one that everyone should see. "The Call of the Sea" is another excellent subject which tells a fine dramatic story and incidentally several of the ordinary sea views.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC

Don't forget that the bill at the Academy changes today and a fine show will be presented. Heading the bill are Pierce and Ioslin, premier musicians; singers and monolog artists; Wladimir Whipple, the eccentric tube comedian, who do an act that cannot help but please everybody who sees it. A fine list of pictures and the feature biograph picture will make one of the best bills seen at the Academy this season.

The admission remains the same, 5 and 10 cents.

EMPIRE THEATRE

One of the best acts on the vaudeville stage will be given at the Empire Theatre starting today. It is Jane Hood and Company in the little playlet, "A Scottish Soldier's Romance." This act has four characters and is a clever little Scotch act with a Scotch story, a Scotch scene, and Scotch music, including bag-piping. Dorothy Dahl, the neat little dancer and change artist, presents an act which is a close second. The pictures are all new and the best of the present, including both drama and comedy with a biograph as a feature. A new illustrated song will also be given today.

GIRL INJURED

FELL ON A DRINKING GLASS IN DARK

Madeline Mulligan, aged 18 years, and residing at 473 School street, was removed from her home to the Lowell hospital early this morning, suffering from a deep laceration of the throat. Although she lost considerable blood, it is stated that her condition is not serious and she will be able to leave the hospital in a few days.

The young woman, it is said, arose from her bed for the purpose of getting medicine to stop her tooth from aching and while moving about the kitchen in the dark, slipped and fell against a drinking glass, inflicting the injury. The cut looked dangerous at first and considerable blood flowed from it, but after receiving treatment at the hospital she recovered sufficiently to assure the attending surgeon that her case was not a serious one.

TALKED IN SLEEP

Man Was Placed Under Arrest

LOS ANGELES, Cal., May 9.—Walter Prescott is in jail today serving a six months' sentence as the result of his habit of talking in his sleep. Prescott, the police assert, is also known as Colnden and has served four terms in state prisons. He was sleeping on a park bench when a detective came by and heard him mumbling. Sitting down beside the man the officer listened for a while and what he heard led him to make an investigation. Prescott was arrested and his picture and record were found in the rogues' gallery. A sentence for vagrancy resulted.

PEAT GASES

SOON TO BE USED TO PRODUCE HEAT, LIGHT AND POWER

A concern having headquarters in Boston has purchased 1200 acres of peat land in the vicinity of Lynnfield and Peabody for the purpose of extracting gas from the peat to be used for the production of heat, light and power; the main object being the production of electricity for supplying power to be transmitted to a distance by wire.

The company in question has equipped a plant at Lynnfield where the success of the experiments in this line promise a revolution in the production of heat, light and power. The specific claims made are, that from 2 1/2 tons of raw peat dredged and carried to the generator at an expense of $3.68, there can be produced 1000 horsepower hours upwards at a cost of 3 1/2 tons of dry peat fuel which at the present time is worth about $8 as fuel. Under the most economic production of power by New England manufacturers at the present time, it is estimated that each 1000 horsepower hour costs from $3.00 upwards at the switchboard.

Judging from the present tendency to use electricity instead of steam for running factories, this new proposition to convert the gases contained in peat into electricity to be transmitted, it may be to distant points, promises to be the change possible at a great reduced expense wherever there is a fair proportion of peat bogs and the United States Geological survey assures us that there is an abundant supply of peat in New England.

At a time when New England pays about $100,000,000 annually for coal to be used for domestic and manufacturing purposes, any experience in the extraction or discovery that will enable the manufacturer to extract power at a cheap rate from boglands will readily commend itself to those manufacturers to whom economy in fuel has been the goal of years and one of the chief elements of success.

A LIVELY BLAZE

Broke Out in Appleton Mills

An alarm from box 24 shortly after 11 o'clock Saturday night summoned a portion of the fire department to a lively blaze in the picker room of the Appleton mills. The employees of the mill had been battling with the flames for some time before the department was summoned, but finding it getting beyond their control, called for the department. The members of the protective company succeeded in extinguishing the blaze.

WRESTLING NEWS

Jack Leon is in town and William Demetral will arrive tomorrow for the big wrestling bout in Associate hall tomorrow night. Leon is in the pink of condition "I expect to beat Demetral in straight falls," said Leon, "and the trick will be turned in short order. I know he's a good man, and has won big victories to his credit, but I have it on him in weight, and I am sure that I am just as clever."

Demetral is the recognized Greek heavyweight champion of the world, and while he is only a youngster, being only 24 years old, he expects to win the championship of them all some time. His most creditable performance is a victory over Charlie Olson, who has been triumphing the big western wrestlers for the past few years. Demetral won in straight falls over this man. He is the same class with Westergaard, Deel, Burns, Roller and Ordman.

Mayor Eugene Reed, of Manchester, N. H., accompanied by City Clerk Smith, Chief Engineer Thomas Lane of the fire department and the committee on fire department of the Queen City, paid a visit to Lowell today to inspect the new automobile fire protective which was recently installed in this city. The Manchester city government is thinking seriously of purchasing two combination automobiles for its department and the city officials came to this city for the purpose of looking over the local apparatus.

Perkins, who has charge of the manufacture of the automobile fire apparatus at the Knox factory in Springfield, was in Lowell today, but did not accompany the visitors on their tour of inspection.

WOMEN SAVED

SHE TRIED TO COMMIT SUICIDE.

BURLINGTON, Vt., May 9.—Patrolman Charles Wardwell of Winslow prevented a suicide by his quick wit yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Ossie Burroughs, wife of Private Burroughs of the 10th cavalry, had climbed under the iron bridge that spans the Winslow river and was about to leap into the swift current when Wardwell appeared on the scene. He engaged her in conversation while he climbed down the narrow wall, derricking to her side. Then with some help from others he raised the woman to a less perilous position. At the police station she still insisted that she wanted to end her life and she is being kept under observation. It was at Mrs. Burroughs' home that one soldier cut the throat of another last week and it is thought that the affair unsettled her mind.

Early yesterday morning, moans were heard in his rooms, and employees of the hotel went to him. He was then unconscious, apparently in a dying condition. Dr. James P. McAdams was called, but when he arrived Mr. Hill was dead.

Dr. McAdams said last night that Mr. Hill had probably died from heart failure, although he did not state that the cause of death was taken to the rooms of Higgins Bros. in Lawrence street, and Dr. J. V. Melsu, medical examiner, viewed it. He did not sign the death certificate. Mr. Hill came here as a contestant of his father's will, the late W. L. Hill. The will was contested by the late W. L. Hill, and three sons, Edwin W. in the U. S. navy; Joseph E. and Ralph T. of California.

Salvation Army Held Special Service for Deceased Ruler—Many Signs of Mourning in London

LONDON, May 9.—With the time-honored ceremony of a most brilliant and impressive character George V this morning was publicly proclaimed king of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland and the British dominions beyond the seas, defender of the faith, emperor of India.

Sharply at the stroke of nine four heralds, arrayed in medieval uniforms of scarlet, heavily braided with gold, mounted the balcony of Friary court at St. James palace where Queen Victoria presented herself to the people upon the opening of her memorable reign, and bled through their long silver trumpets.

The precincts of the palace by this time were crowded with a great mass of people, many of whom could secure but the briefest glimpse of the proceedings. The balconies and roofs of the ancient palace which had been draped with red cloth were reserved for the nobles all of whom were in deep mourning. Members of the royal household, the ministers and their wives and high officers of state, all in brilliant uniforms, were gathered around the court. General Sir John French with the headquarters staff in full dress uniform stood surrounded by a troop of horseguards in their red tunics and breast plates of polished steel.

From the windows of Marlborough house immediately opposite the duke of Cornwall, the young prince and princesses watched the ceremony. The heralds having concluded their duties the officers of arms, chief of whom is the duke of Norfolk, hereditary early marshal and chief butler of England took their places in the balcony forming the great heraldic company. None were mourning, this having been removed for the occasion. Sir Alfred Scott-Gatty, former principal king of arms, with the duke of Norfolk and two officers bearing the staves of office, stopped at the front of the balcony and in a voice which could be heard across the court and in the streets adjoining read the proclamation while great throngs stood uncovered in a freezing rain. The duke and Sir Alfred then called for three cheers for the king and the people responded with a ringing hurrah which were silenced only by the reappearance of the heralds who sounded another fanfare.

The last note had hardly died away when the band of the Coldstream guards, which had taken up a position in the square, struck up "God Save the King." The young princes from their point of vantage in the windows of Marlborough house stood with their hands at salute and the officers and troops stood at attention.

As the national anthem was concluded the first gun of the battery in St. James park belched forth a volley and the people in the square and streets at the same moment took up the refrain "God Save the King." This was probably the most impressive part of the ceremony, the fervent singing of the crowds which first reached those in the balcony as a hum, growing in volume as more and more singers joined in while at minute intervals the sun half drowned the chorus. Meanwhile the royal standard had been hoisted over Marlborough house, indicating that the king was in the royal residence and flags upon the public officers throughout the city were raised to the mastheads.

The royal standard at Buckingham palace alone remained at half-mast. The flags will remain at masthead until sunset this evening and again will be lowered to half-mast tomorrow.

The duke of Norfolk and Sir Alfred Scott-Gatty, the officers of state and other officers of distinguished company in Friary court continued in their positions until the people having concluded their singing of the national anthem turned towards Marlborough house and renewed their cheers for the king, a glimpse of whom was caught as he stood at the window with Queen Mary at his side. A moment later his majesty lowered the blind.

Besides the heraldic officers, the members of the cabinet who had hurriedly returned from their holidays abroad, diplomats including American ambassador, Reid, and the queen's staff and other notables including J. P. Morgan watched the proceedings from the balcony. The officers of the king's household and a few others witnessed the ceremony from Marlborough house, a scaffolding having been erected behind the balcony at which stood a view of the grounds from the street which separates St. James palace and the residence which the king occupied while he was the prince of Wales.

The popular demonstration at an end, the early marshal and his attendants proceeded to the ambassador's court whence they drove to Charing Cross and thence to the city of London to read the proclamation to the people at the designated points. The route to the city proper was lined with 7000 troops while at the places at which the procession stopped and repeated the ceremony troops and horseguards were stationed. The royal carriages of the duke of Norfolk, Sir Alfred Scott-Gatty and the officers of arms followed by General French with the headquarters staff and a cavalry troop drove briskly from St. James to Charing Cross.

Thousands upon thousands who had waited since early morning silently watched the stately progress of the heraldic procession. At Charing Cross there was such a rush that the troops had great difficulty in keeping a space clear for the heralds. The royal announcers again blew a fanfare and Sir Alfred once more read the proclamation. Again the people sang the national anthem, their voices being accompanied by the music of military bands.

Along the strand the procession continued through lines of troops and crowds of people to Temple bar at the behest of the city, where the officers of arms, sheriffs, aldermen and their robes of office, awaited the coming of the early marshal.

Elaborate Ceremony
The ceremony here was longer and more elaborate, the city of London to this day retaining its ancient privilege of barring the entrance of the king's men to the square mile in which its officers rule. In place of the barred gates of olden times a red silken rope placed across the street barred the procession. Coming to a standstill the trumpeters sounded three loud blasts, announcing the approach of the procession with the cry: "Halt, who goes there?" The reply "The officer of arms, who demands entrance of the city to proclaim his royal majesty's ascension" came from the pursuivant.

The lord mayor being informed of the presence of the royal herald and having given his permission for the entrance to the city Rouge Dragon stepped across the boundary line and handed the chief magistrate the privy council's order that the proclamation be made. The throng that crowded the narrow street stood in silence watching the proceedings.

The lord mayor then descended from his carriage and read the proclamation and said that "our high and mighty Prince George has now become our only lawful and righteous liege lord, George V." Following these words with the cry of "God save the king" the words were caught up by the crowd and swelled to a mighty chorus that filled the strand and Fleet street. The ceremony was repeated at Chancery lane.

Thence the lord mayor, with his majesty's heralds moved through the streets, lined with double files of troops, the Norfolk and Leicester regiments, the King's Own Yorkshire Light Infantry, the Cameronians and Irish Fusiliers, toward the center of the city. Vast crowds watched the passage of the historic pageant through the heart of the city. The great area about the bank of England and Mansion house was filled with a mass of humanity. The people applauded heartily the approach of the heralds and city officials.

When the heralds had taken their station on the steps of the royal exchange and silence had been maintained by the multitude from which rose thunderous cheers and cries of "God save the king." The bands played the national anthem once more.

The heralds then proceeded to the Mansion house where they were entertained by the lord mayor who according to ancient custom first officially proposed the health of the new king. The troops were then withdrawn but the masses lingered in the vicinity of the Mansion house, frequently calling for cheers for the king and queen, the duke of Cornwall and others of the royal family.

Similar scenes, though marked with less ornate pageantry, were witnessed in the other principal cities throughout the kingdom where the proclamation was read simultaneously with the reading in London.

The singing of the national anthem marked the re-opening of the stock exchange today, the members of which forthwith got down to work with a determination to discountenance any bear attacks. Influential support was at hand to effect any adverse sentiment which might follow the King's death and the tone was steady from the start with a hardening of prices. This was notable with consols which started 3-8 higher and improved to 3-4. The steadiness of continental bourses on the other hand, and the feeling that local political differences have been sunk for the time had a distinctly stimulating effect upon prices.

Above the casket will be placed the royal insignia, the crown, orb and scepter. King George, mounted, will ride immediately behind the casket followed by other male members of the royal family, foreign monarchs and special ambassadors. The queen, queen-mother and ladies of the royal family will come next in carriages. The remainder of the cortege will be made up of representatives of the army and navy, members of the imperial household and officers of state.

The Lancet today publishes an authorized statement confirming the cause of King Edward's death as cardiac failure following upon bronchitis. The statement adds: "The last hours were absolutely peaceful and painless."

ROYAL SALUTE FIRED IN NEW KING'S HONOR

THE MILK STRIKE

The Conflict in Boston Was Actively Renewed Today

BOSTON, May 9.—The conflict between the milk contractors of Boston and the Boston Co-operative Producers association over the price of milk was actively renewed today, when the producers held a mass meeting at Faneuil hall in the forenoon and in the afternoon appeared before a legislative committee appointed to investigate the conditions. The contractors were severely condemned by Secretary J. Lewis Ellsworth of the state board of agriculture, Senator Meany and Representative Crane, both of Bucklestone; Prof. J. W. Sanborn of Gilmanton, N. H.; J. B. Marceau, a producer, of Princeton; General Charles W. Wood of Worcester, Delacey Corkum of Billerica and a number of other leading dairy men.

Senator Meany, who introduced the measure for an investigation into the system into the legislature and who is a member of the committee appointed for that purpose, said:

"You are facing a trust whose arbitrary methods are not to be compared in the same breath with any trust that has ever been publicly attacked." He said that public opinion was with the producers who had already won their fight. Secretary Ellsworth pointed out that while the farmers were selling the milk at a little over three cents a quart and losing thereby the contractors were making a profit of nearly five cents a quart, while the restaurants were selling milk for between 20 and 40 cents a quart.

"If the poor contractors are not making enough money," he said, "let them increase the price slightly. The consumers would not object if the price were raised a little. Milk is the cheapest article of food and contains more real value than any other food-stuff for the price."

Gen. Wood declared that the contractors "are robbing the farmers on one hand and cheating the consumers on the other."

George W. Albee of Concord, N. H., and J. B. Marceau of Princeton declared that the root of the trouble was the matter of transportation.

Prof. Sanborn, who was introduced as the dean of milk producers in New England, urged the farmers to withhold their milk and convert it into other dairy and farm products and said that if they would do so the contractors would be bankrupt and the producers would have made more money.

That there is wide interest in the situation was evidenced by the presence of large producers from distant points in New York, Connecticut, New Hampshire and Maine.

LAWRENCE, May 8.—The seventh annual convention of the New England conference board of the International Molders union was brought to a close with two sessions yesterday. The greater portion of the morning session was taken up by International President Thomas Valentine of Cincinnati, who reviewed the situation throughout the country, asserting that for the most part conditions were favorable. The election of officers resulted as follows: Wm. J. Prendergast of Holyoke president; Charles T. Nevius of Taunton vice president; Chas. E. Anderson of Lowell, recording secretary; John S. Cate of Worcester financial secretary; Henry M. Donnelly of Biddeford, Me., first business agent; F. J. Magee of Worcester, second business agent; Eugene L. Murphy of Norwood, third business agent. On invitation of the Holyoke delegates that city was selected for the next convention, to be held in May, 1911. At the afternoon session Retiring President Dennis O'Keefe of New Britain, Conn., was presented a tribute in appreciation of his services.

Lowell Team Has Climbed to Top of Standing

First Averages Show Four Players Over the .300 Batting Mark—Fluharty Leads With .413—Fielding Averages Are Good

Back from the South comes the Lowell team at the very top of the list and defeating the strong New Bedford team twice on its own home ground and squaring accounts for the manner in which New Bedford gave it to them a week ago on the local diamond.

The Lowell team has played over 10 games and the fans have had a chance to judge the work of most of the players. The averages are presented today for the first time and show the welcome fact that four of the teams who have played in at least seven games are batting over .300. Fluharty being the big leader with an average of .413 for 11 games. The fielding averages are satisfactory and it is noticeable in the last few games played that the pitchers have been given perfect support by the team.

Taking the different departments of the team what do we think we see? Behind the bat Huston and Stone appear to be all right. Lennieux is a good emergency man but the other two have shown up well. Huston is steady, a good batter and fielder and he can also play first base well. Stone is a catcher but during the opening games played first. He looks good. In the pitching staff there is no question as to Wolfgang and Tyler. They are the two best that the league has shown thus far. A beautiful fact about the pair is that they not only can pitch but they are not afraid to go in and never shrink. Of the other three Moore, Dandies and Boutelle, little can be said either way at present. Boutelle has been playing short stop and playing the position well. A few times he has pitched part of a game and given evidence of having speed and good curves. Boutelle has fine speed and some curves but seemed to lack control. But he's only a kid and is a long way from home. After he becomes acclimated he will probably show some class. Moore has shown speed when pitching. Moore the new first baseman looks good. Campbell has shown an improvement at third, while Plz is the same old reliable at second. Ordway, who made a big hit in the Maine league last year, is laid up and hasn't had an opportunity to show what he can do. Arthur Cody or Coto of Salem, a short stop, returned at Springfield park today for a try-out in this position.

As to the outfield, no team in the league has anything on it that we can see. Fluharty, Magee and Jones are all good batters. Magee and Jones are faster at fielding than Fluharty, but Plz has it on them with the stick. Jones is one of the fastest men on the team on the bases.

If the pitchers hold out and remember we still have Pugsley coming, the Lowell team will travel as fast as any of the others and much faster than some.

The averages are as follows:

DIAMOND NOTES

Lawrence today.

Now, please stay there for a while, at least.

Some pitchers carry a diary in the pocket of the uniform in which they keep a record of the games they pitch. When the manager looks at one of them before a game he is stalled off with, "Taint my turn today." Lowell is fortunate in the possession of at least two pitchers, Tyler and Wolfgang, who not only can pitch but never refuse to go in and do their best when called upon. Those are the pitchers who should get the money.

John Smith's face has relaxed since Saturday, and he was caught smiling several times yesterday.

New uniforms and new grass diamond today.

Now if Ordway will only get back in the game so that we can see what he can do we'll soon have a line on all of them.

Fluharty and Magee are nursing bad fingers.

"Can it be that players of the New England league have reformed, or proved?" asked a fan. Probably it's because the umpires have improved, still the season is young. Give the players a chance.—New Bedford Times.

Hagan, the Haverhill shortstop, is said to be one of the speediest men in the league. His long suit is stealing bases. He steals home now and then.

Henry Merrill, who wasn't good enough for the Whalers, is doing well slugging for Haverhill. Merrill will be used in the outfield exclusively this season.

Lawrence newspapers are throwing a fit because Hank Alsmith has made a few hits, and he is already called the hardest hitting backstop in the league. The season is young.—New Bedford Times.

The New Bedford Times in its baseball extra Friday night tells how the trick was done as follows:

After making a whirlwind fight for the game in the seventh inning, when they tied the score with three runs, the Whalers went down to defeat at the hands of Lowell this afternoon by a score of 4 to 3.

Wolfgang, a Boston National recruit, drafted by that club from the Albany club of the New York State league, took the slab for the visitors.

Neither team scored in the first inning, but Lowell put two men across the plate in the second. The trouble started when Magee and Jones were passed. Moore singled and Boutelle hit to Walsh, scoring Jones on a fielder's choice.

Kidner side scored in the third, a decision by Judge Byrne against Fluharty, who beat out a hit, probably shutting the visitors out of a run.

They came back in the fourth, however, when Jones singled to left, after Stone had fanned. Wilson fumbled. Jones's grounder, and Boutelle scored. Jones hit to right field.

A wonderful catch and throw by Magee spoiled New Bedford's chances of scoring in the fourth. He dove for a liner from Cunningham's bat, fell and rolled over, but came up in time to catch McCrone off first base, completing a double play.

The "lucky seventh" saw three runs scored for New Bedford, when Walsh tripled. Wilson and Pratt walked. Griffiths sacrificed and Cassett singled to right.

Lowell resumed the lead in the first half of the eighth, sending Magee around the circuit, after hitting too hard a grounder for Walsh to handle.

COUNTY OFFICIALS

Invite an Investigation of Published Charges

Sheriff John R. Fairbairn and Deputy Sheriff Harry E. Shaw, keeper of the Lowell jail, two of the Middlesex county officials for whose removal from office a demand has been filed with Atty. Gen. Dana Malone by a committee of Middlesex county residents, deny the charges made against them and express their willingness for an investigation.

The officials thus charged include, in addition to Sheriff Fairbairn and Keeper Shaw, the three county commissioners, Levi S. Gould, Charles F. Richardson and Chester B. Williams, and Deputy Sheriff William H. Wulsh.

HARRY E. SHAW
Keeper of Jail

The commissioners are charged with waste, extravagance and favoritism in the award of contracts; the others with malfeasance in office.

The charges were presented by Atty. Archibald M. Howe of Cambridge for the Cambridge Taxpayers association, Atty. Arthur Brooks for the Civil Service Reform league and Atty. Jackson Palmer of Wellesley and Atty. Philip R. Dunbar for the committee. On the committee are Richard Henry Dana, Louis D. Brandeis, John H. Corcoran, Jesse Morton, Aibin M. Richards, Prof. Lowell Kennedy and James P. Tolman. Questioned regarding the charges, Sheriff Fairbairn said last night:

"I don't know as I have anything to say. I don't know what they are talking about. I am glad if they are going to investigate, and if there is anything wrong, I hope they'll show it up. I have nothing to fear."

Deputy Sheriff Harry E. Shaw, keeper of the Lowell jail, says he is ready for an investigation on any charges that may be preferred against the management of that institution.

"I know nothing about any investigation except what I read in a newspaper today," said Mr. Shaw. "If there has been any mismanagement at the Lowell jail while I have been in charge it is only fair to the taxpayers that they should know all about it.

"If the people who have been hinting at an investigation do not intend to ask for it, then I believe it is up to the county officials to demand an investigation. I am ready at any time to meet any charge, and now that charges have been publicly made, in justice to the officials involved, it is only fair that an investigation should be made."

IN CONVENTION

THE MERRIMACK RIVER BIBLE SCHOOL WORKERS MET

The 44th annual meeting of the Merrimack River Baptist Bible School convention will be held at the Central Baptist church at Chelmsford Centre, Wednesday.

The opening will be at 10 o'clock with a devotional service conducted by Rev. C. H. Williams of North Billerica. At 10.30 an address will be given by Rev. W. J. Swaffield, D. D., of the First Baptist church, Lawrence, and this will be followed by a discussion on "Phases of Sunday School Work," conducted by Rev. F. A. Macdonald of the Fifth Street Baptist church of Lowell, whose part of the topic will be the social life; other sub-divisions of this main topic are benevolence, educational and spiritual, and the speakers include Supl. P. P. Gilbert of Andover and Mrs. W. G. Shortess of Haverhill. Dinner is to be served at 12.15, and the afternoon will be given over to business and addresses by G. E. Murray of Lawrence and W. W. Main, the state secretary, and Rev. A. R. Dills of the Calvary Baptist church of Lowell.

Supper will be served at 5 o'clock, and at 6.30 Rev. H. H. Bishop of North Tewksbury will lead a praise service. Unfinished business will be disposed of and the evening address will be given by Rev. Edward Brailin, D. D., of Boston. The exercises leave Merrimack square for Chelmsford Centre at 5 and 35 minutes past the hour.

DRAGUT

As a result of the petition of the Boston & Northern Street Railway Co. for permission to lay 400 feet of tracks through Hildreth street from the Lowell line to Hovey square, the selectmen have set May 25 as the date for the hearing upon the matter. The hearing will be held at the town office in the evening so as to give the residents of the town a chance to talk on the question.

The regular meetings of the board of selectmen, which have heretofore been held on Saturdays, will in the future be held on Friday evenings.

A lively brush fire broke out yesterday afternoon in the rear of the Birchmeadow residence off Lakeview avenue. Word was sent to the Navy Yard company and a detachment of men was sent to the scene and after considerable trouble succeeded in extinguishing the blaze.

LOWELL SEES TWO DAYS OF SPORT AHEAD

PLAN UNDER WAY NATIONAL HOME "JIM" JEFFRIES

To Readjust the Railroad Rates

WASHINGTON, May 8.—A rate readjustment is being made by all interstate carriers in the territory between the Mississippi river and the Atlantic seaboard. The routes included are the water and rail, as well as the standard and differential lines.

Officials of the interstate commerce commission are expecting any day to receive tariffs making increases in the eastern territory. It is understood, tentatively, that the increased rates will become effective about July 1. The desire of the carriers, of course, is to anticipate the passage of the pending railroad bill by congress.

That measure carries at present a provision that any advance in rates shall not become effective until its reasonableness has been passed upon by the commission. If the rates are filed before the bill is crystallized into law, the commission will have authority to take up the advances only after they have gone into effect and on the complaint of a shipper.

The scheme of readjustment to be followed by the eastern lines probably will contemplate an advance on articles of luxury with the increases graded down to small advances on articles of the lower classes.

The preparation of tariffs to be filed with the interstate commerce commission involves an immense amount of detail work and it is not likely, therefore, that the new tariffs can be completed in time to become effective before July 1.

Thus far only three lines in the east have advanced their passenger rates and none has advanced its freight rates.

These advance rates, while not subject to review by the commission under the present law, almost certainly will be the object of attack by the public, and in the end the commission will have to pass upon the reasonableness of the advances.

If the pending railroad measure should be passed as it stands, the commission would have authority to pass upon the reasonableness of any advances made by the carriers before the increases became effective.

BROTHERHOOD OF ST. ANDREW
WORCESTER, May 9.—The New England assembly, Brotherhood of St. Andrew, which has been in session here the past few days, closed its 22d annual conference yesterday with four services.

To be Built by Cigar-makers of America

At the next meeting of the Cigar Makers' local union a vote will be taken on a proposed amendment to the constitution as follows: "That an assessment of three dollars be levied on each member, payable in 12 monthly assessments, due on the first Saturday of each month, commencing June, 1910." The purpose of this assessment is to establish a home for invalid, aged and infirm members of the Cigar Makers' International Union of America.

The cigar makers of Lowell are particularly interested in the matter from the fact that the president and secretary of the local union have continually agitated through the Cigar Makers' Journal for a "Cigar Makers' home." Mitchell Killean, who is president and Thomas E. Garvey, the secretary, are to be congratulated for their success in having the question brought before the Cigar Makers throughout the country to be voted upon.

If the amendment should be adopted the home will be built at the cost not to exceed one hundred thousand dollars and will be built either in Colorado, Utah, New Mexico or Arizona.

SLIGHT INJURIES

CHILD FELL A DISTANCE OF 23 FEET

WARREN, R. I., May 9.—The 18 months old child of Edward Crech of Merceon avenue had a remarkable escape from being killed by a fall of 23 feet out of a third story window yesterday. The baby struck on a slender sidewalk and escaped with a scratch on one of its legs. In a couple of minutes it revived from the shock and was as lively as ever.

Dr. M. H. Merchant made an examination and found no injuries.

The child, while playing in its home, climbed upon a stool and tumbled out of the window.

ALL CAPTURED

MEN CHARGED WITH GAMING ON SUNDAY

WAKEFIELD, May 9.—In a desperate attempt to escape a squad of officers who arrested them in Kimball's woods while it is said they were engaged in illegal gaming, eight out of a company of 13 men and youths dashed out of the woods, and still wearing all their clothes, hurled themselves into the waters of Crystal lake. Before going far, seven were compelled, by exhaustion, to return to the shore and the waiting officers. The others swam entirely across the half mile wide lake and were captured on landing.

BILLERICA

The board of selectmen of Billerica, as a result of the recent tour of inspection of public property, has decided to make a number of improvements at Union hall, which is owned by the town. The grounds surrounding the hall will also be improved.

A brush fire near the East Billerica-Wilmington line yesterday afternoon gave the members of the Billerica Centre fire department a long run.

Did Good Work With Choynski

BEN LOMOND, May 9.—None of Jim Jeffries' workouts has pleased his trainers more than his Saturday bouts with Choynski and Papke. The speed and endurance shown by the fighter and the ease with which he handled his opponents through nine fast rounds is still the talk of the camp. According to Farmer Burns, Jeffries' improvement in condition in the last week has been little less than remarkable and he is of the opinion that the big fellow could be in finished fighting trim two weeks hence if necessary.

Jeffries, it is pointed out, has demonstrated that he can take off his fat and acquire wind and staying powers. His trainers now say that his future work will be directed mainly to the acquisition of speed and cleverness.

Tex Rickard arrived at Ben Lomond last night for a stay of two or three days. The promoter is expected to talk over the referee problem with Manager Berger and Jeffries, though Rickard denied that such is his intention.

JOHNSON'S AUTO TRIP

SAN FRANCISCO, May 9.—Jack Johnson made an auto trip to San Jose to witness an aviation meet yesterday afternoon and a punctured tire which delayed the negro's return here started a rumor that he had been killed in a smashup.

Jack professed great indignation when told of the circulated report.

"It's strange they're trying to kill me on," he said. "It was the same way in Chicago, but I'm still on the job and I'll be on it July 4."

Johnson began regular training for the fight today. He announced that he intended to drop all discussion of the referee question for a while.

It is said the fighter weighs about 230 pounds and that he plans to take about 20 pounds off during his training. He will try to reduce his weight very gradually. The negro seems to be apprehensive of the possibility of going stale before the battle and he has mapped out a plan of work which he declares he will faithfully adhere to throughout his training. He says that for the first few days he will devote himself chiefly to light boxing every other day and road work along the beach.

WILL RECOVER

MRS. HOUGHTON RESTING COMFORTABLY AT HOSPITAL

Mrs. Henry Houghton of 157 West Meadow road, who attempted to end her life Friday afternoon by taking a dose of Paris green, is resting comfortably at the Lowell hospital, to which place she was taken almost immediately after she took the poison. The hospital officials state that she has shown considerable improvement during the past 24 hours, and it is expected that she will recover.

Mrs. Houghton was cleaning house and came across the poison. She took some of it, and when found was in a serious condition. A doctor was summoned and the woman was taken to the hospital.

FOR INDUSTRIAL SCHOOLS.

The state of Massachusetts at the present time holds out great inducement to cities and towns to start industrial schools. Lawrence is one of the cities that have taken advantage of the state's offer to bear a large portion of the expense of such schools. Lowell may take up the matter later, but not until the public and public bodies have been settled.

CRAP SHOOTING ON SUNDAYS.

A lot of young men around the city spend much of their time on Sundays in shooting craps. So common has become this form of gambling that, according to those who know, there are many young men who spend their entire weekly earnings in this manner. Numerous complaints reach the police station against young men who indulge this habit and lose their weekly wages as a result. The police are making a commendable effort to stamp out the vice in this city. Already many arrests are made, and a close watch will be kept on the places where the games are usually played. The scouts who are set to watch will be gathered in as well as those who play.

SENATOR LODGE'S ACTION.

Again Senator Lodge appears in the role of chief guardian and defender of republican policies. If it were patriotic to defend republican policies and even republican blunders, such as the worst features of the present tariff law, then Senator Lodge would be the greatest patriot in the land.

Notice the promptitude with which he rushes to Washington with the Massachusetts report on the high cost of living, there to have a part of it issued as a public document.

The Massachusetts report absolved the tariff from all blame for the high prices of commodities, although apparently with inadvertence it admitted that the high tariff cut off possible relief to consumers by closing access to the cheapest sources of food supply in the world's markets.

It cannot at present be estimated to what extent prices would be reduced by removal of the high tariff, but some idea may be formed from the fact that in no other country is the cost of living as high as in the United States, and that American trusts sell their products cheaper abroad than at home.

COL. ROOSEVELT'S PLEA FOR INTERNATIONAL PEACE.

The speech of ex-President Roosevelt before the Nobel Prize committee in Norway was the most statesmanlike and practical he has yet delivered, albeit it sounds strange to hear a man who has continually been urging increased naval armaments at home, plead so convincingly for international peace as a guest of a foreign court. In his speech he recommended additional treaties of peace, the formation of an arbitral court at The Hague and the establishment of a League of Peace made up of all the nations that want peace. To carry out and enforce the decrees of such a court it would be necessary to have an international army and navy, the duty of which would be to act under the direction of the arbitral court in enforcing its decrees.

Col. Roosevelt held up the supreme court of the United States as a model for the arbitral court of international justice, showing that it preserves peace among the states while deciding all interstate questions with the understanding that its decisions and decrees must be accepted as final.

It is quite probable that The Hague court at its next meeting, soon to be held, will make an effort to carry out some of Col. Roosevelt's suggestions. But these international movements make slow progress and meantime all the powers continue to build Dreadnoughts and to fortify themselves against foreign foes.

TO PREVENT DROWNINGS IN CANALS.

Mr. Harry W. J. Howe of the Charity Board, in a letter to the press, calls attention to the fact that certain portions of the local canals are dangerous to children because of their not being properly fenced in or enclosed. Mr. Howe estimates that one thousand lives have been lost in the canals since their construction, and while the estimate is not based upon accurate figures yet the total number of drownings in the canals undoubtedly goes up into the hundreds.

Mr. Howe appeals to Mayor Meehan for such action as may be necessary in order to provide better protection for children playing on the banks of the canals. The mayor himself cannot do more than urge the matter upon the attention of the city council which provides the remedy under section 32 of chapter 52, revised laws, which is as follows:

"If the city council of a city or the selectmen of a town shall, after notice in writing to the parties in interest, adjudge a canal or waterway within the limits of the city or town to be dangerous to public travel, they may by an order in writing require any person owning, operating or controlling said canal or waterway to fence the same."

The first thing to be done under this law is to find out what portion of the canal or waterway is really dangerous on account of not being properly fenced. Then have the city council notify the Locks and Canals company to have suitable fences provided.

If Mayor Meehan finds any canal or portion thereof dangerous because of the lack of proper enclosures, he can request the city council to apply the provision of the statutes just quoted.

Had we a system of public baths the fatal accidents in the canals would be greatly lessened because the boys would not seek the canals for bathing purposes. It must be said in all fairness that for lack of such facilities for bathing many boys have climbed high fences and gone down to their death in the swift current of the canals. For such accidents the city, not the Locks and Canals company, is responsible.

PEOPLE OF NOTE

For the purpose of making a geological survey of Central India, Sumner Cushing of Brockton will leave on September for the east. Mr. Cushing, who is being sent out by Harvard university, is at present connected with the Salem Normal school, and during the coming summer will teach at the University of Illinois.

Dr. Gertrude E. Curtis of 471 Lenox avenue, New York, has been appointed in charge of the dental clinic on Monday afternoons at the Bellevue hospital in New York city. This is the first time a negro has been honored with an appointment to practice at this well known institution. Dr. Curtis was graduated from New York college of dental and oral surgery in May, 1909, and enjoys the distinction of being the first colored woman to get a license to practice dentistry in New York state.

Announcement comes from London that Miss Adeline Gence, the Danish dancer, will be married on June 11 to Frank S. N. Isitt of London, and following the ceremony a reception will be tendered there by the Duke and Duchess of Newcastle. The ceremony will take place in St. Margaret's chapel. Mr. Isitt is legal adviser of the Duke of Newcastle and others of the nobility. Miss Gence, who lately finished her American tour, will come back for one more visit and then will retire from the stage.

Sir James Murray has been elected one of the foreign members of the French academy, the number of whom is limited, like the immortals themselves, to forty. This distinction is only possessed by three other Englishmen—Dr. Arthur J. Evans, the first volume of whose "Scripta Minora" has recently been published; Dr. Barclay V. Head, a son of the academy; and "Historia Numorum" will be ready before long; and Sir E. Maugham Thompson, whose Baker de Swinbrooke's "Chronicle" and Adam de Usk's "Chronicle" (Royal Society of Literature) are also Oxford publications.

Mme. Sureout was the only woman to steer her own balloon in the recent official ascent of the Stella club, of Paris. Six balloons were entered in the test, and the five others were piloted by men. The Stella has the honor of being the oldest if not the only aero club for women in the world. It was established in Paris less than a year ago and now has over 100 members. Mme. Sureout is president of the club. She is the wife of an airship builder, and is the only woman in the world with a license to navigate the air. She has already made several ascensions entirely alone.

TERRIBLY GORED

Bullfighter Attacked by Bull

MEXICO CITY, May 8.—Herber B. Lee, an American bullfighter, was fatally gored by a bull during a series of bull fights at Guadalupe last evening, according to despatches received here today.

Lee, with sixteen inches of his intestines protruding from the wound made by the bull, killed the animal and then quietly walked to the stand where he received medical aid. It is stated that the nerve displayed by the American matador is the topic of conversation in Guadalajara. He is now at the home of his uncle in that city.

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

Commencing this afternoon and for the first time in the week another of the big vaudeville and motion picture programs that are being offered at this theatre will be seen. Heading the bill for the first three days of the week is a cyclist known as "The Cyclist" who will perform his "loop" act that has been a feature of the program wherever he has appeared. Others on the bill are The Rathskeller Trio, in a whirlwind of laughter and melody; George Banks, a monolog artist, singer and dancer; Gertrude Pliske, operatic soprano. An entire new list of pictures will be shown as well and one of the best bills of the season is promised. Commencing Thursday there will be an entire change of program with Prince Kanawha & Co., Japanese acrobats; Bertie Fowler, the cheer-up comedian; Johnnie Wise & Co. with comedy, singing and dancing and Davis & Davis, vocalists. The usual amateur contest will be an added feature of Tuesday night's program. The prices at the Opera House are five and ten cents and performances are given every afternoon from 2 to 5 and two full shows at night, starting at 7 and 8.30.

THEATRE VOYONS

The entertainment furnished at the Star Theatre this afternoon, which was witnessed by two large audiences, in which women and children were well represented, was of unusual excellence. The pictures and songs were arranged to make the program spicy throughout. The pictures, comedies and dramas, proved careful selection on the part of the management. For the admission of five cents, which includes a seat it is amazing how the management can produce such a big bill. There is nothing to be many new faces among the amateurs tomorrow night.

STAR THEATRE

Canada is familiar to thousands of Lowell people but comparatively few really know the great progress that has been made in the Northwest during the last five years. Today the Theatre Voyons features a play, "The Progress of an Emigrant from England in that territory in five years. It shows the arrival, the first sowing of wheat and the various steps till the bumper crop is reaped. It is a most instructive and interesting subject and one that everyone should see. "The Call of the Sea" is another excellent subject which tells a fine dramatic story and incidentally several of the ordinary sea views.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC

Don't forget that the bill at the Academy changes today and a fine show will be presented. Heading the bill are Pierce and Roslin, premier musicians; singers and monolog artists; W. J. Whipple, the eccentric rube comedian, will do an act that cannot help but please everybody who sees it. A fine list of pictures and the feature biograph picture will make one of the best bills seen at the Academy this season.

The admission remains the same, 5 and 10 cents.

EMPIRE THEATRE

One of the best acts on the vaudeville stage will be given at the Empire Theatre starting today. It is Jane Hood and Company in the little play, "A Scottish Soldier's Romance." The act has four characters and is a clever little Scotch act with a Scotch story, a Scotch song, and Scotch music. Including bag-piping. Dorothy Dahl, the neat little dancer and change artist, presents an act which is a close second.

The pictures are all new and the best. The program includes both drama and comedy with a biograph as a feature. A new illustrated song will also be given today.

FELL ON A DRINKING GLASS IN DARK

Madeline Mulligan, aged 18 years, and residing at 473 School street, was removed from her home to the Lowell hospital early this morning, suffering from a deep laceration of the throat. Although she lost considerable blood, it is stated that her condition is not serious and she will be able to leave the hospital in a few days.

The young woman, it is said, arose from her bed for the purpose of getting medicine to stop her tooth from aching and while moving about the kitchen in the dark, slipped and fell against a drinking glass, inflicting the injury. The cut looked dangerous at first and considerable blood flowed from it, but after receiving treatment at the hospital she recovered sufficiently to assure the attending surgeon that her case was not a serious one.

RIFLE CONTEST HELD

The rifle teams of Companies K and C of the Sixth regiment went to the Orient rifle range Tuesday afternoon and shot for the Butler and Parker cups. The Butler cup was won for the second time by Company K and Company C won the Parker cup for the second time.

The C team led at the 200 target, but lost by 10 points at the 300 and by six at the 400.

Lieut. Burns got the Parker cup for Company C, his total being 65. The C team shot the 200 and 25 at the 300 and 500 targets. The scores:

TALKED IN SLEEP

Man Was Placed Under Arrest

LOS ANGELES, Cal., May 9.—Walter Prescott is in jail today serving a six months' sentence as the result of his habit of talking in his sleep. Prescott, the police assert, is also known as Cobden and has served four terms in state prisons. He was sleeping on a park bench when a detective came by and heard him mumbling. Sitting down beside the man the officer listened for a while and what he heard led him to make an investigation. Prescott was arrested and his picture and record were found in the rogues' gallery. A sentence for vagrancy resulted.

PEAT GASES

SOON TO BE USED TO PRODUCE HEAT, LIGHT AND POWER

A concern having headquarters in Boston has purchased 1200 acres of peat land in the vicinity of Lynnfield and Peabody for the purpose of extracting gas from the peat to be used for the production of heat, light and power; the main object being the generation of electricity for supplying power to be transmitted to a distance by wire.

The company in question has equipped a plant at Lynnfield where the success of the experiments in this line promise a revolution in the production of heat, light and power. The specific claims made are, that from 20 1-2 tons of raw peat dredged and carried to the generator at an expense of $3.48, there can be produced 1000 horsepower hours with approximately 3 1-2 tons of dry peat fuel which at the present time would cost about $8 as fuel. Under the most economic production of power by New England manufacturers at the present time, it is estimated that each 1000 horsepower hour costs from $3.00 upwards at the switchboard.

Judging from the present tendency to use electricity instead of steam for running factories, this new proposition to convert the gases contained in peat into electricity to be transmitted, it may be to distant points, promises to make a change possible at a greatly reduced expense. However, there is a fair proportion of peat bogs in the United States Geological survey assures us that there is an abundant supply of peat in New England.

At a time when New England pays about $100,000,000 annually for coal to be used for domestic and manufacturing purposes, any experiment having in view the discovery that will enable the manufacturer to extract power at a cheap rate from boglands will readily commend itself to those manufacturers to whom economy in fuel has been the element of success.

A LIVELY BLAZE

Broke Out in Appleton Mills

An alarm from box 24 shortly after 11 o'clock Saturday night summoned a portion of the fire department to a lively blaze in the picker room of the Appleton mills. The employees of the mill had been battling with the flames for some time before the department was summoned, but finding it settling beyond their control, called the fire department. The members of the protective company succeeded in extinguishing the blaze.

WRESTLING NEWS

Jack Leon is in town and William Demetral will arrive tomorrow for the big wrestling bout in Association hall tomorrow night. Leon is in the pink of condition. "I expect to beat Demetral in straight falls," said Leon, "and the trick will be turned in short order. I am not under-rating Demetral. I know he's a good man, and has won big victories to his credit, but I have it on him in weight, and I am sure that I am just as clever."

Demetral is the renowned Greek heavyweight champion of the world, and while he is the younger, being only 24 years old, he expects to be the champion of them all some time. His most creditable performance is a victory over Charlie Olson, who has been trouncing the big western wrestlers for the past few years. Demetral won in straight falls over this man. He is in the same class with Westward, Karl, Bert, Burns, Roller and Ordman.

AN OLD RESIDENT 1000 STRIKERS

Wm. D. Blanchard, Aged Did Not Return to Work Today

William D. Blanchard, one of Lowell's oldest residents, aged 87 years, two months, died at his residence, 63 Westford street, yesterday morning. He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Clarence G. Coburn, a niece, Miss Cory Evans, and a brother, Aaron. Blanchard.

He was born in Windham, N. H., March 4, 1823, and is descended from an ancient family of English origin. His father was Benjamin Blanchard and his mother, Sarah N. Davidson. Mr. Blanchard in early youth, attended the schools of his native place and Westford academy. After leaving school he became a machinist and for 52 years was employed by the Lowell Machine company, 43 years of which he was a contractor for the company.

Mr. Blanchard was a republican and served in the city government in 1859, 1860 and 1861. He was a member of Kirk Street Congregational church and also of the Old Residents association. On Aug. 19, 1847, he married Miss Henrietta W. Rice, daughter of Samuel Rice, a prominent lawyer in Gratton county, N. H.

Mr. Blanchard had been active in many affairs in the city, having been for nearly 30 years a trustee of the Mechanics Savings bank, and for many years was connected officially with the Middlesex Mechanics association. He was a mechanical genius and invented the first iron planer with four tools, and made a two foot rule which was tested by the London Standard and found correct.

AUTO FIRE PATROL

Was Inspected by Manchester Men Today

Mayor Eugene Reed, of Manchester, N. H., accompanied by City Clerk Smith, Chief Engineer Thomas Lane of the fire department and the committee on fire department of the Queen City, paid a visit to Lowell today to inspect the new automobile fire protective which was recently installed in this city. The Manchester city government is thinking seriously of purchasing two combination automobiles for its department and the city officials came to this city for the purpose of looking over the local apparatus.

The visitors arrived in Lowell about 9.30 o'clock, coming from Manchester in a big touring car. The automobile protective was called for and the visitors, together with Mayor John F. Meehan, Assistant Engineer James F. Norton of the fire department and Dr. Rogers, and Capt. Helstead, made a tour of the city.

The first place visited was Belvidere and the Oaks. The auto went down Andover street to the city line and returning to Nesmith street did a stunt up Mansur and Fairmount streets hill. After going down the steep decline to Centralville, where it was driven to the summit of Third street hill, Beacon street, down Tenth to Third, and thence to the West Sixth street fire house, where the new truck was inspected.

After the truck and the house had been inspected the party returned to city hall, where they were entertained by the mayor and later the visitors went to Boston in their auto.

Charles N. Perkins, who has charge of the manufacture of the automobile fire apparatus at the Knox factory in Springfield, was in Lowell today, but did not accompany the visitors on their tour of inspection.

SHE TRIED TO COMMIT SUICIDE.

BURLINGTON, Vt., May 9.—Patrolman Charles Wardwell of Winslow prevented a suicide by his quick wit yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Ossie Burroughs, wife of Private Burroughs of the 10th cavalry, had climbed under the iron bridge that spans the Winslow river and was about to leap into the swift current when Wardwell appeared on the scene.

He engaged her in conversation while he climbed down the narrow underderrigging to her side. Then with some help from others he raised the woman to a less perilous position. At the police station she still insisted that she wanted to end her life and she is being kept under observation. It was at Mrs. Burroughs' home that one soldier of the threat of another last week and it is thought that the affair unsettled her mind.

COLLEGE CLOSED

MACON, Ga., May 9.—Wesleyan female college was ordered closed yesterday, probably for the term, by President Atkinson, on account of typhoid fever among the students. There are at the institution approximately 300 young women, representing nearly every state in the Union.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., May 8.—The thousand strikers, employees of the nine contractors, who, it is claimed, signed the building trades agreement last night and who were to renew their building operations today after a week of idleness as a result of the strike of the 1000 members of the building laborers union, did not return to their work today as expected. This the labor leaders say was caused by the heavy downpour of rain which has stopped for the time being building operations in this city.

An amicable settlement is the expected result of a conference to be held today with the one principal company which until now has refused to sign the wage agreement. This company now employs the remainder of the 1800 now out and with their signing the strike will come to an end.

TRUEMAN HILL

Californian Died Suddenly at His Hotel

Trueman H. Hill, a resident of San Francisco, Cal., who has been on a visit here for the past four weeks, died very suddenly yesterday morning at the old Washington tavern. His age was 61 years.

Mr. Hill was formerly a letter carrier in San Francisco and about 17 years ago retired on account of failing eyesight. For some time he had not been enjoying the best of health. Early yesterday morning, means were heard in his room, and employees of the hotel went to him. He was then unconscious and apparently in a dying condition. Dr. James F. McAdams was called, but when he arrived Mr. Hill was dead.

Dr. McAdams said last night that Mr. Hill had probably died from heart failure, although he did not state the positive cause. The body was taken to the room of J. Higgins Bros., in Lawrence street, and Dr. J. V. Meigs, medical examiner, viewed it. He did not sign the death certificate.

Mr. Hill came here as a contestant of his father's will, the late W. L. Hill. The case was to be heard before the probate court.

Mr. Hill is survived by a brother, Police Officer Edwin E. Hill of this city, and three sons, Edwin W. in the U. S. navy; Joseph E. and Ralph T. of California.

MATHIEW INSTITUTE

The regular meeting of the Mathew Temperance Institute was held yesterday morning, President James J. Gallagher in the chair. There was a large attendance and considerable business was transacted. The minstrel show committee reported progress for the entertainment which will be held the latter part of the month. A committee consisting of President Gallagher, Michael F. Boyle, James F. Bourke, Walter Powers, James F. Riley, Edward Harris, Edward Letteral, John Guthrie and William Conway was appointed to make the necessary arrangements for the concert to be held in the M. T. I. hall next Sunday. The contest for the members bringing in the largest number of new members will close June 1.

HUMPHREY O'SULLIVAN

Chosen Chief Marshal of the Great A. O. H. Parade

Mr. Humphrey O'Sullivan will ride at the head of the great Hibernian state parade to be held in this city in August in connection with the state convention of the order which also will be held here and will extend over four days.

At a mass meeting of the local Hibernians, held in A. O. H. hall yesterday and which was attended by the state officers, Mr. O'Sullivan was the unanimous choice for the position of chief marshal of the parade. The gathering was a most enthusiastic one and was presided over by Michael J. McMullin. There were speeches delivered that met with a most general approval. Seated on the platform were the state officers, Mr. John W. McEvoy, Mr. James O'Sullivan, Fred H. Rourke, Michael J. Markham, Alderman Connors, John C. Rourke, president of Division 8, and delegate from this county to the national convention at Portland, Oregon. It was decided to appoint a committee of ten to act with the central council in making arrangements for the coming state convention. It was also voted to appoint a committee to interview the mill agents and see if it can be arranged to have the annual vacation for mill employees take place during convention week in August.

Mr. McMullin in opening the meeting told the central council is doing to make the convention and parade a great success, and he referred to the necessity of united and earnest action.

The State President
State President John J. Rogers of Worcester received a warm welcome when he was introduced. He referred most enthusiastically to the prospects for the parade. He said he had been in some of the western counties of the state and the members and their wives and children are already preparing to come to Lowell in large numbers. In many of the places divisions of the A. O. H. and Hibernian military companies are drilling and organizations are combining to bring bands to Lowell. He said that he has received many stipled and proud to proclaim them. We look forward to that week in August when the Hibernians of this city will be put to a supreme test and when it comes, may you be equal to the occasion.

In conclusion, let us hope that your conduct of the celebration and convention will reflect great credit, even just upon the local divisions upon our city and the A. O. H.

At the conclusion of Mr. McEvoy's remarks, Mr. Michael J. Markham arose and said that judging from the demonstration at the mention of Mr. O'Sullivan's name the sentiment of the meeting was that he should be tendered the position of chief marshal and therefore he offered a motion that it be the sense of the meeting that Mr. Humphrey O'Sullivan be chosen chief marshal of the state parade. The motion passed unanimously and a committee of two was appointed to wait on Mr. O'Sullivan at his home and escort him to the hall. During the absence of the committee other speakers were heard and when Mr. O'Sullivan entered the hall there was loud applause and cheering that continued for some time. President Rogers informed him of the action taken by the meeting and said that speaking for himself and the state officers he would place in the hands of Mr. O'Sullivan all the arrangements for the state parade. He explained that the usual custom is to have the state officers make all arrangements but he felt that Mr. O'Sullivan, because of his experience could better attend to this matter and secure the best results.

Mr. O'Sullivan
Mr. O'Sullivan expressed to the meeting his great thanks and appreciation of the honor conferred upon him and said that from now on his great endeavor will be to make this parade the greatest in the history of the A. O. H. and the biggest affair that the Lowell Hibernians ever witnessed. He spoke of the work by the order in this city and told of his own connection with it. He said that plans will be made at once to carry on the preliminary details of the parade and convention and he felt that with the cooperation of all members both events would be magnificent successes.

Fred H. Rourke told of what is being done by the committee to raise funds to finance the two big events, and the other speakers were Hubert McQuade, Daniel E. Hogan, Charles Malahan, James O'Sullivan, state vice president, John H. Dillon, Alderman Connors and Patrick Connolly.

As is already known to our readers, St. Joseph's church at Lowell, Mass., has the honor of being the "banner branch" in the archdiocese. This is a French-speaking congregation presided over by the Oblates of Mary Immaculate, to whom as their Provincial lately wrote to the diocesan office—"the mission work is always peculiarly dear."

THE KINGDOM
SHILOH SOCIETY BOAT HOME FROM MEDITERRANEAN

PORTLAND, Me., May 9.—The barkentine Kingdom of the Holy Ghost and Us Society, of Shiloh in this state, arrived here yesterday from the Mediterranean. Rev. Frank Sanford, head of the sect is on board, and it is believed that the ship has brought back the society's colonists at East Point, many of whom have been there several years and who, it is said, were in danger of falling into want. The ship was swarming with men and women and many little children, none of whom disembarked today. One of the men on board said the Kingdom sailed from Gibraltar March 17 and came by the way of St. Thomas, where a stop of a day was made. He said that Mr. Sanford was with the party, that all on board were well, and that they had only pleasant weather across.

The colony at the Holy Land has been established for eight or 10 years and Leader Sanford has spent considerable of his time there.

EX-SUPT. BYRNES

Well Known Detective is Dead

NEW YORK, May 9.—The death of Thomas Byrnes, known familiarly as Inspector Byrnes, although he had been chief of police in this city, occurred Saturday night after a long illness from chronic indigestion and gastritis.

The end was not unexpected, Mrs. Byrnes and their five daughters being at his bedside.

In his death there passes away one of the greatest detectives this country has ever known. Byrnes retired from the New York police in 1895 with a yearly pension of $3000. Besides, he was a millionaire through funds he had secured by fortunate investment.

Mr. Byrnes was born in Ireland June 15, 1842, but came to this country with his parents when four months old. He was educated in New York and when the war broke out enlisted in the First regiment, First Zouaves. He served until the regiment was disbanded and then returned to the city and Dec. 10, 1863, was appointed a policeman.

In a short time he was assigned to special duties and soon made a reputation as a successful catcher of confidence men and other criminals. He became the terror of the crooks and rose rapidly, being made a captain in 1889.

In 1892 he became superintendent of police and held the position until 1895, when he voluntarily resigned.

Organized Detective Bureau

It was while inspector and in charge of detective bureau at police headquarters in Mulberry street that Byrnes won his greatest fame.

From the day he became a member of the police until he retired on May 27, 1895, Byrnes was a thief catcher, and it was such a thief catcher that he was a valuable servant of the people.

Thomas Byrnes rose quickly from the ranks. He was first a patrolman, then a roundman, later on a sergeant and finally a captain.

Thirty years ago New York was overrun with the worst thugs. A reign of terror had spread over the town. Murders were committed almost nightly.

It was at that time that Byrnes was called to Mulberry street and told to organize a detective bureau. He had a keen and reliable detective ability while occupying positions of lower rank in the police department, and this had attracted the attention of his superiors to the quiet but determined force of picked men.

In a very short time he had organized what became known as the central office of detectives and assigned to that bureau were the best thief catchers in the department.

He had only a very limited number of detective sergeants under his command, but he was able to lead those at any time, and without trial in that way he was able to surround himself with the best talent the department could afford.

CHAS. J. GLIDDEN

Acted as Critic of Balloon Trip

ORANGE, May 9.—A unique balloon trip, in which three men, Jay B. Benton of Boston, J. Walter Flagg of Worcester and William Van Sleet of Pittsfield, made their final qualifying ascensions as pilots under a critic, ended near here yesterday, after a flight of almost 60 miles in an air line. Chas. J. Glidden of Boston, a licensed pilot, was the critic, and William Moisan of Pittsfield was taken as passenger.

The ascent was made in the balloon Boston from Aero park, Pittsfield, at 4 o'clock yesterday morning. It was the first trip of the balloon since it was rebuilt last winter, the journey being considered an unusual one for distance and number of passengers carried in a balloon of 25,000 cubic feet capacity. After rising to a considerable height, the balloon was brought to earth about 10 minutes following the start. This was repeated twice that each of the three pilots might handle the air craft separately on the short flights. All three flights were made within the city limits of Pittsfield.

Mr. Glidden left the basket after the third descent and his place in the car was taken by Mr. Moisan, who, with the three pilots, started on their long flight. A north wind carried the balloon over the Berkshires, but the air currents soon shifted and took the aeronauts southward. The highest altitude reached was 7800 feet.

When they neared this town the balloonists decided to land and did so easily in a meadow about two miles north of here. It was 8:25 a. m. when the basket touched the earth.

STONES HURLED

Strike Breakers Used Their Revolvers

GREENVILLE, R. I., May 9.—Enraged by a shower of stones hurled by children, most of the members of a band of thirty-four strike breakers, who were being brought from out of town to the mills of the Stillwater Worsted Co., where 150 men are on strike, pulled revolvers and fired a volley of shots, early last night. No one was hurt, but the attitude of the strike breakers was so menacing that the crowds attracted by the shooting allowed the men to enter the mills without protest.

The end of the strike, now four weeks old, is apparently as far off as ever. The importation of strike breakers, it is said, has intensified the bitter feeling among the operatives, who struck for higher wages. The company, it is said, will attempt shortly to reopen the mills.

MAYOR GAYNOR

Shows How to End Accident Arrests

NEW YORK, May 9.—Mayor Gaynor sent yesterday to Police Commissioner Baker a communication directing him to do away with the practice followed by the police of arresting crews on railroad trains and of the motorist and conductor of rapid transit trains and surface cars in cases where some one has been run over. This is the letter that the mayor sent to Commissioner Baker:

Complaint has been made to me that on April 21 Joseph F. Mullen, a locomotive engineer of the New York Central and Hudson River Railroad Co., was arrested without a warrant and locked up by two policemen over night; that he was taken to the police court next morning and held to $1000 bail on examination on the charge of assault; that he offered H. B. Dwyer as his bondsman; that the magistrate rejected Mr. Dwyer for the reason that he had once practiced law (which was no reason at all in criminal practice) and sent the prisoner back to jail; that thereupon a justice of the supreme court accepted Mr. Dwyer as bondsman and discharged the prisoner on bail; that on examination day the officers' evidence against the prisoner; that an adjournment was had and on the adjourned day they could furnish no evidence; that subsequently the coroner called up the Thirty-seventh street police station house and had the prisoner arrested again without a warrant and that he was afterward discharged again for lack of any evidence.

All this was done because a brakeman on the cars attached to the said Mullen's engine was hurt while he was standing on the running board of the tender of the engine in the yard of the New York Central and Hudson River Railroad company. There was nothing to show that the engineer assaulted him. It appears to have been an accident. We have all observed that policemen very often make similar arrests of motormen and others simply because an accident happened. I write this to you not merely to redress the wrong which was committed to this man but also to have you gradually do away with such occurrences in the future.

The members of the force seem to be under the erroneous notion that it is their duty to make arrests in all such cases. They should not do so unless there be some evidence after careful examination that a felony was committed, and even then they should await the issuing of a warrant unless the defendant may run away. The way is first make an examination and see whether the person has committed a felony and whether anybody can testify against him. To arrest an engineer or motorman for assault or manslaughter simply because an accident happened and without any evidence against him is an oppression forbidden by law.

TWO VITAL THINGS REQUIRED IN TREATING SKIN DISEASES

In treating and curing Eczema and other well defined skin diseases, two vital things must be done. One is to exclude dust, germs and air from the diseased parts, and the other is to get up the healing process at the same time. The new medical preparation called Cadum accomplishes both these results so effectively that the itching is stopped as soon as it is applied, and the sore parts heal up in a wonderfully short time. Anyone with skin trouble can test Cadum by getting a 10-cent box at any drug store, and thus personally realize the power of this new compound, which is just as effective in the cure of pimples, blotches, blackheads, eruptions, acne, herpes, scaly skin, rash, sores, chafings, etc.

This Year Is "1776" Centennial In Latin America

GENERAL LEONARD WOOD
BY FACH, BROS. N.Y.

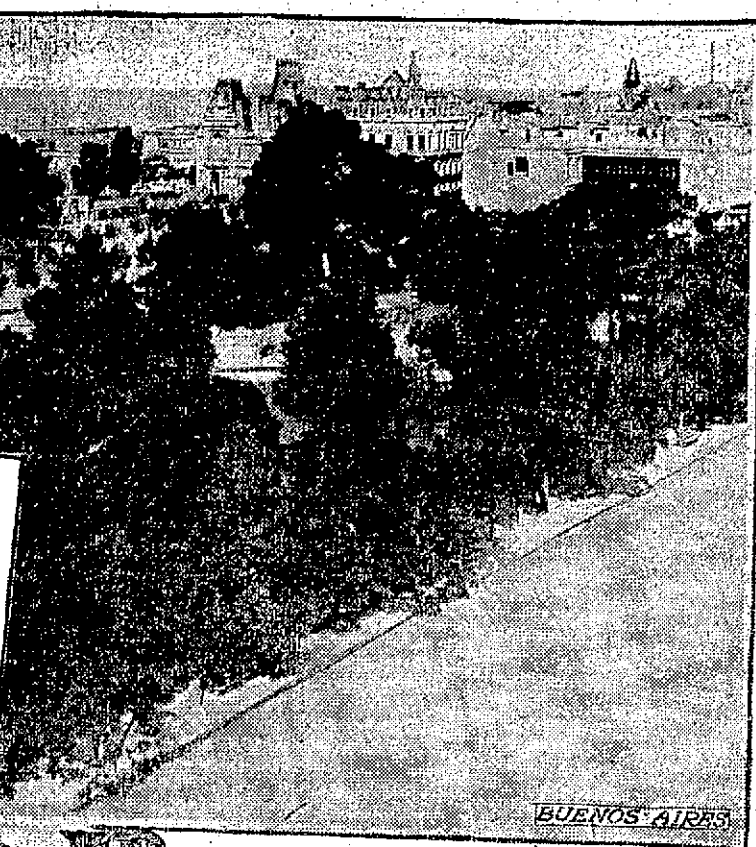

HARBOR OF RIO DE JANEIRO

STREET IN VALPARAISO, CHILE

PRESIDENT ALCORCA OF ARGENTINA

BUENOS AIRES

By CHARLES N. LURIE.

Would need to be reminded sometimes, we people of the United States of America, that there are other Americans. This seems to be an appropriate time for the reminding process, when the Argentine Republic is taking away from us the wheat trade of the world, when a newly opened railroad tunnel across the Andes connects Chile and Argentina, two of South America's most progressive countries, and when President Taft sends one of our highest army officers, with a squadron of warships, to congratulate South America on the centennial of the opening of its struggle for independence.

This is centennial year in South America. The close of the first decade of the nineteenth century saw the outbreak of the struggle that ended, years later, in the severance of the ties between Spain and Portugal and the countries of the new world. We of the north are wont to look back on our own Revolutionary war as one of the great struggles of history, forgetting that it filled only a small place in the annals of its time. We do not know, or we forget, that the strife which freed a continent bigger than our part of North America was conducted on a much grander scale and occupied many more years than our own little war on a narrow strip of seaboard territory.

It was not, indeed, the North American war for independence that immediately inspired the South Americans to revolt. While the name of Washington is venerated in South America now, his influence and that of his contemporaries played little part in shaping the minds of the Latin Americans toward a struggle with the mother countries. That impulse came later, with the news of the French revolution, following a long course of oppression by Spain and Portugal. French Revolution Set Example.

For centuries these nations had acted on the policy that guided the minds of European statesmen in relation to the treatment of colonies—that the colonies existed for the good of the mother country and not for that of the colonists. While all European countries held this doctrine to be unassailable, perhaps none of them acted upon it so thoroughly and carried its belief into action so persistently as did Spain. But the times changed, and when the seeping of liberal ideas throughout the world from the flood of the French revolution reached South America the downfall of Spanish and Portuguese domination was assured.

Although there were a few forerunners of the Spanish revolution before 1810, notably Francisco Miranda, the patriot who visited the United States in 1805 and later declared that he had obtained the approval of President Jefferson for his revolutionary projects, it was in the year named that the revolt against Spain broke out in Argentina, Chile, Venezuela and elsewhere. For twenty years terrible, heartbreaking warfare was waged with ferocity on both sides, but with a steadily progressive series of recognitions of the independence of now one portion of South America and then of another. The battle of Ayacucho, in Peru, Dec. 4, 1823, is generally considered to have broken the power of Spain once for all in South America.

Although South Americans generally date the beginning of their independence from the 19th of April, 1810, when the uprising occurred in Caracas, Venezuela, and Miranda and Bolívar were hailed as the liberators of the people, the Argentine Republic dates its birth on May 25 of the same year. It is on May 25 of the present year that Major General Leonard Wood, who was named by President Taft as a special envoy to convey the good wishes and congratulations of the United States to the Argentine Republic on the occasion of the centenary celebration of the birth of the latter, will present to President Jose Figueroa Alcora of the southern republic the greetings of her northern neighbor. Navy at Buenos Aires.

Rear Admiral Staunton will represent the navy at Buenos Aires. He will command a special squadron, consisting of the armored cruisers Montana, North Carolina, South Dakota and Tennessee and the scout cruiser Chester. It is considered especially fitting that the American navy should represent us at Buenos Aires at this time as the Argentine Republic decided a short time ago to have constructed in the United States two big Dreadnoughts, ranking with the greatest of the world's war vessels.

Argentina, the most enterprising and progressive and one of the biggest of the South American republics, has planned a series of expositions in celebration of its centennial. They will last from May to November. There will be four distinct expositions—the exhibitions of railways and land transport, of agriculture and pastoral transport, of hygiene and arts,

May 26 is also the opening day of the celebration in Uruguay, the little country lying between Argentina and Brazil. Before arriving at Buenos Aires General Wood and Admiral Staunton will stop at Maldonado, Uruguay, to pay the respects of this country to one of the smallest of her sister states in South America. Colombia will begin the observance of its centennial on July 20, Mexico on Sept. 16, Chile on Sept. 18 and other countries on other dates throughout the year. The differences between Ecuador and Peru, which have threatened trouble for a long time and in which Bolivia and Chile are involved, may tend to disturb somewhat the harmony of the celebrations, but it is hoped that the disputes will be adjusted in time to permit a unanimous celebration, from the Rio Grande to Tierra del Fuego.

Will Unveil Washington Statue.

One of the features of the exercises in Buenos Aires will be the unveiling of a statue to George Washington, whose name stands with that of Bolívar in the estimation of South Americans. The memory of President Monroe, author of the "hands off" doctrine that has permitted the South American countries to develop in their own way without fear of European interference, is hardly less esteemed. Statues of him stand in South America.

They are no inconsiderable countries, these Latin American republics over which the protecting shadow of the United States has been cast. They are rapidly advancing in population and wealth, and the standard of living for the masses of their peoples is constantly being elevated despite the turmoils which retard their political development.

Buenos Aires Growing Fast.

The three biggest of the countries south of the United States are Brazil, whose extent is almost equal to that of the continental territory of the United States, with 18,000,000 inhabitants; Mexico, with 14,000,000, and the Argentine Republic, with 7,000,000. The capital city of the last named country, Buenos Aires, is the largest city in the western hemisphere south of Philadelphia and has an estimated population of 1,200,000. It is fifteen times the size of the world's cities and is growing as rapidly as Chicago.

From almost all of the South American countries and cities come similarly gratifying reports of advances in civilization and prosperity. The United States government has recognized our kinship with our South American neighbors by the maintenance of cordial relations. The establishment of the bureau of American republics was one token of our interest in Latin America. The beautiful new building of the bureau in Washington is to be dedicated on May 25, the day after the opening of the celebration in Buenos Aires.

William Jennings Bryan, recently returned to this country from an extended tour of South and Central America, during which high honors were paid to him, is enthusiastic about South America and its future. He believes that the countries there offer great opportunities to settlers.

"I expect that between 40,000,000 and 50,000,000 people will settle there within the next fifty years," said Mr. Bryan, but he added that he did not believe that they would come from the United States. He mentioned especially the evidences of progress which he found in many parts of South America.

Canada Wants Jean Baptiste to Stay Home

Steady Loss of French Canadians Worries the Dominion.

JEAN BAPTISTE, with madame and the baby—with all of the babies, in fact—has left his ancestral home in large numbers and is continuing to leave it. Therefore the Canadian government mourns.

succeeded and that the French Canadian movement into the United States will figure as one of those big migrations of whole races that have influenced the course of history ever since or perhaps before the ancient Israelites bade farewell to Pharaoh.

Of course the migration of the French Canadian into New England is no new thing, but it is believed that this is the first time that the Dominion government has taken official notice of the loss of so many thousands claim their share of this hardworking people. It should be said of them that they figure more largely in population and industrial statistics than they do in police court reports.

And that leads us back to the starting point of all human affairs, the babies. If there is one thing more than anything else that the French Canadian is distinguished for it is the size of his family. The average number to the family in Canada, according to the Dominion government's figures, is root in another community than his native place he becomes a good citizen. The same thing is true of his descendant, for the latter has the added stimulus of a knowledge of the language of his adopted country. In most cases the older folk do not take kindly to a change of tongue, finding it difficult to get around the twists and tangles of English orthography. The younger men go in for politics, too, and take an active interest in public affairs. They come of a race that has produced many keen politicians in the past. Their vivacity and social instincts stand them in good stead in this matter.

The shining example of a French Canadian who has succeeded in the politics of the United States is Aram J. Pothier, present governor of the state of Rhode Island. He is, however, the first man of his race to hold very high office. Governor Pothier explains this circumstance thus:

"One must not forget that the French Canadians coming to New England have generally been somewhat ignorant of the English language. In this respect they have been unlike some other foreigners. Besides, many of them had large families for which they had to provide. [The numerous babies again.] Ignorance of the language and the necessity of work are, I think, the main reasons why the French Canadians have not gone into politics to any great extent.

"But there have been at least half a dozen French Canadian members of the Rhode Island legislature each year. I think we shall see French Canadians taking a more and more active part in public life in the future as they become thoroughly Americanized and no longer have linguistic obstacles to overcome.

"And I believe their influence will be felt on American public life, not in a narrow, partisan way, but in a wholesome, patriotic spirit. The French are conservative, cautious and economical."

Governor Pothier says there are about 50,000 persons of French Canadian birth or descent in Rhode Island. That is a pretty large number for a small state with a total estimated population of 523,000. The proportion in the other New England states is considerable, but probably smaller. In the western states also the French Canadians have been influential from the earliest times. The first lieutenant governor of Illinois was Pierre Minard, and many cities have had French Canadian mayors and other holders of official posts.

The protest of the Canadian government against the leaving of the habitant and his family to seek a new home in the United States may well be based on careful, long consideration of the French Canadian's frugality. With all due respect to people of other nationalities with reputations for economy to sustain, it must be said that the French Canadian can make a dollar go further than any of them. Even if he is a descendant of the old seigneurs who held lordly domains along the St. Lawrence and who were not parsimonious, the course of centuries has instilled into him a thoroughgoing sense of the value of money. And if he is a descendant of the bourgeois—well, ask any one who has been in France how much a Frenchman thinks of a franc.

PIERRE LATOUCHE.

Oldest American House In Need of Repairs

Government Called Upon to Save the Ancient Cliff Dwellings.

FROM the oldest dwelling house of mankind in America has come a cry for aid to save it from utter ruin. If the spirits of the departed can influence the living, surely the shades of the ancient cliff dwellers of the southwest have made a silent appeal to the lawmakers at Washington for action that will save their houses from becoming merely heaps of disintegrated stones.

It is one of America's most picturesque ruins that needs preservation. Its name is Balcony House, in Ruin canyon, in the Mesa Verde National park. After withstanding the tests of time for many centuries its walls are about to succumb at last.

Balcony House, with the other relics of the ancient cliff dwellers, stands in the Mesa Verde National park, acquired by the government a few years ago for the express purpose of preserving the ruins. It was found then that some of the most important, and largest ruins had suffered from depredations and the ravages of time to so great an extent that considerable repair work was needed to preserve them from entire destruction. In 1903 the sum of $2,000 was expended by the government in the work of excavating and repairing Spruce Tree House. In 1909 a similar amount was used on the Cliff Palace. Now the Balcony House, in some ways the greatest of the ruins, is calling for funds.

These most interesting relics of the ancient cliff dwellers are situated in southwestern Colorado and southeastern Utah, near the only point in the United States where four commonwealths meet at a common point, at right angles. They are Colorado, Utah, Arizona and New Mexico. The houses which it is proposed to save for the permanent instruction of persons interested in prehistoric America are situated in the Mesa Verde region, about two days' journey from Denver. The nearest point on the railroad is Mancos, Colo. In the rarefied air of the mesa, or elevated tableland, an extensive view of the surrounding mountains can be obtained. The prehistoric ruins have a setting of splendid natural scenery to add to their interest for the tourist.

The ruins houses are found in caves on the side of the elevated tableland, from 500 to 800 feet above the dry level of the creek bed that lies at the bottom of the canyons cutting into the mesa. Action of water in geological times left perfectly smooth floors upon which the cliff dwellings were constructed, far back in the dim recesses of time. The overhanging, beehive roofs make access to the houses almost impossible.

The houses that have been reached and excavated have yielded most interesting material to the archaeologists, although it must be confessed that these scientific men have not been able to give us very definite information. Even the time since the cliff dwellings were abandoned and left to ruin has not been decided with accuracy. Some authorities place it at 500 years, others double that period. It is certain that the cliff dwellings were tenanted long before the Spaniards entered the southwest, about 370 years ago.

What manner of man it was who inhabited the eagle and built himself an race that built the Balcony House, the Spruce Tree House, the Cliff Palace and the other structures on the Mesa Verde there must have been considerable infusions of alien blood in the centuries that separate the period of the oldest inhabitants of the region from the present time.

Archaeologists regret that the government did not take steps long ago

TYPICAL FRENCH CANADIAN FAMILY

And therefore the Canadian government is trying to keep Jean Baptiste and madame and the numerous babies—above all, don't forget the numerous babies—at home. Again, therefore, the Canadian government has made official protest against the publication of advertisements in the documents of the Dominion department of agriculture calling attention to the desirability of farms in Vermont and others of the United States.

All of which is preliminary to saying that the efficient but somewhat touchy government to the immediate north of their Sam's country recognizes in the French Canadian a valuable citizen and is loath to see him depart. Not that it would mind the loss of an individual French Canadian or two—there would be lots left—but losing these thrifty and frugal and economical and hardworking people on mass, as the French Canadian himself might say, is too much. So his excellency the governor general of Canada and all the other excellencies are lying awake nights devising measures to keep the French Canadian where he belongs historically, under the British flag. But it's more than an even bet that they won't of valuable citizens. For forty or fifty years the descendants of the first white Canadians have been crossing the border in ever increasing numbers, until now there are hundreds of thousands of them in New England, forming an important element of the population of the states. The largest fraction of them is engaged in mill labor, according to the latest available census reports, but many other industries

What caused him to leave his home and establish himself elsewhere is one of the fascinating mysteries over which historians and archaeologists profess to find in the present day Moki or Hopi Indians of Arizona certain physical resemblances to mummies that have been found in the ruins of the cliff dwellings.

To the lay mind it seems that the subject must remain forever a puzzle. If the Moki, who live in cliff dwellings that bear much resemblance to the ancient ruins, are descendants of the to preserve the ruins from the work of ignorant vandalism. A few of the small ruins were discovered by prospectors about thirty-five years ago, but it was not until 1888 that the more important ruins were found. Until the government intervened its protecting hand the houses were despoiled of the relics of their first inhabitants by persons who saw in them only an opportunity of making a few dollars. It is believed that the ruinous condition of the houses was brought about less by the hand of time than by the pernicious activity of vandals in tearing down walls and committing other acts of damage in their search for relics.

FUNERAL OF KING

Continued

SALVATION ARMY SERVICE

FOR THE DEAD KING

LONDON, May 9.—The tomb of Edward VII will be beneath the Albert memorial chapel at Windsor, where the body of his eldest son, the duke of Clarence, has a sepulchre. The obsequies will be held on May 20.

Before the funeral, it has practically been decided, the body of the king will lie in state in Westminster hall, under the houses of parliament, which was last the scene of a similar ceremony, when for two days and nights a constant stream of citizens filed past the coffin of the great commoner, Gladstone.

Before being taken to Westminster the body will lie in state in the throne room at Buckingham palace. King Edward's casket will be fashioned out of oak grown in the royal forest at Windsor. It will first be lowered to the vault beneath the chapel floor of St. George's chapel, Windsor castle. Afterward, when the permanent tomb has been prepared, it will be removed to Albert chapel.

Confer Over Funeral

Queen Alexandra and King George conferred with various officers of the state and household concerning the funeral arrangements yesterday.

The members of the royal family, it is believed, would prefer that there should be no lying in state, but it was represented to them that the wishes of the people were so strongly for this that they were willing to waive their personal inclinations.

King Edward still lies in the bed where he died, clothed only in night clothes, with his hands crossed on his breast. Queen Alexandra visits the chamber frequently, appearing greatly worn and tired. King George and Queen Mary spent most of the day with her in the royal chapel, the family again looked upon the body for a few minutes.

Salvation Army Service

An impressive incident yesterday afternoon illustrated Queen Alexandra's desire to show consideration for British subjects of every class. General Booth sent a message that the Salvation army wished to show honor to Edward VII by holding a service before the palace, and Alexandra gave permission.

At 1 o'clock a large band, wearing red jerseys and carrying silver instruments and banners with scarves of crepe, pushed through the crowd to the palace. The big iron gates were opened and the band formed a circle under the windows.

First they knelt, while the leader prayed, and then they sang "Nearer, My God, to Thee," "Abide With Me," and "Angels Ever Bright and Fair." Finally they marched out, singing "Onward, Christian Soldiers."

The blinds were closely drawn, but the attendants say that Queen Alexandra left her apartments with Princess Victoria and her ladies in waiting and listened to the singing from behind them.

Political Truce Foreseen

All political discussion forchadown a truce and the shelving indefinitely of the struggle between the house of commons and the house of lords. The bishop of Worcester, preaching in the cathedral, said that parliament and civilly demanded that contentious questions be put aside by the statement of all parties for a year at least.

The house of commons will meet on Wednesday, when Speaker Lowther returns, to receive the address from the throne. Premier Asquith and A. J. Balfour, leader of the opposition, will be present.

Mr. Asquith and Reginald McKenna, first lord of the admiralty, embarked yesterday at Gibraltar on the cruiser Enchantress for home.

According to a circular issued from Marlborough house last night the designation of the new queen will be Queen Mary. The role she will play at the new court has been the subject of considerable speculation.

Less Brilliant Court

As prince and princess of Wales, the new king and queen led such comparatively retired lives that it is difficult to form an opinion, but it is almost safe to assume that the court will be far less brilliant than it was under King Edward. The latter attached the fullest weight and dignity to the ceremonial of the royal family, and his state functions under his reign were lavished with the pomp and magnificence he considered befitting the court of a great empire. Further, he attracted to his court a brilliant array of wealthy social figures, in which American belles married to English aristocracy played a prominent figure. It is quite certain that great changes will be seen in the constitution of the court circles, as well as among the court officials and dignitaries of the court.

Queen Mary is credited with great strength of character, and is likely to exert far more influence on the court surroundings than did Queen Alexandra.

She is deeply religious, and has a love for charitable work connected with the church, while King George, as is known to more than a few courtiers, is known as a man of courtly life and pursuits than of courtly pomp. Hence, there is a general belief that the new court will be of a simpler and austere type, and that many of those who heretofore exercised a powerful influence in the court life will be obliged to seek comparative retirement.

Effect on Roosevelt Program

Nothing as yet has been received here from Mr. Roosevelt with regard to his plans, but it is certain that all public or semi-public entertainments will be cancelled, and it is probable that even private functions will be abandoned. The Romanesque lecture may be delayed but necessarily, at a later date that originally fixed because the funeral of the king will occur on or about that date.

The American ambassador has cancelled all engagements, including private dinners. Mr. Reid yesterday telegraphed to the foreign office cablegrams of sympathy and regret from a large number of public bodies and officials in the United States, among which were messages from the mayor of Philadelphia, the president of the New York consolidated stock exchange, and a copy of the resolution adopted by the Men's National Association congress, now in session in Chicago.

Mourning Until Nov. 7

The various embassies yesterday received formal official notice of the king's death, which was immediately communicated to the respective governments. Secretary of State Knox's cablegram was the first official note of regret received at the foreign office, being delivered by Ambassador Reid in person immediately upon its receipt.

President Taft's message, sent upon receipt of the news of the king's death, arrived a few minutes before his death. It was delivered at the palace by Ambassador Reid himself.

Saturday's court circular states that during the last moments of the king the archbishop of Canterbury read special prayers and conducted a short service in the king's chamber, at which the queen, the prince and princess of Wales, Princess Victoria and Princess Louise were present.

A supplementary gazette, issued late last night, orders full court mourning until Nov. 7, and after that half mourning until May 7, 1911.

Royal Family at Chapel

The services in all the churches throughout the United Kingdom yesterday had special reference to the death of the king. The sermons all dealt with the nation's grief, and the music was such as is customary at funeral services. Immense crowds attended to obtain entrance to St. Paul's and Westminster, but only a small fraction was admitted.

One of the most simple observances took place in the chapel in Buckingham palace, where the royal family with the members of the late king's household worshipped yesterday.

Queen Alexandra attended, and King George and Queen Mary with Princess Mary and the three young princes, all wearing deep mourning, drove over from Marlborough house. Princess Victoria, who has been her mother's constant companion, also was present.

Queen Alexandra requested that the services be brief and simple, knowing that that would have been the king's preference. Canon Sheppard, sub-dean of the chapel royal, officiated. Two hymns were sung, "The Resurrection Morn" and "Peace, Perfect Peace." Both were Queen Alexandra's selections.

The organist played Tchaikovsky's funeral march before the service and Chopin's funeral march at its conclusion, all standing toward the end. The members of the new king's household in full mourning, attended service at the royal chapel at Marlborough house.

Likens Edward to Moses

At the chapel royal in St. James' palace the afternoon service was attended by many of the late king's personal friends. The vicar of Windsor preached from the text Deuteronomy 34:4. He declared that King Edward, like Moses, died just when he had led his people into the promised land, when he was most wanted and when he had the best and ripest experience to give.

The bishop of London preached in the morning at St. Paul's. The congregation filled the great cathedral to its capacity.

The bishop spoke appreciatively of the American sympathy extended to the British people, and he read a cablegram which he had received with characteristic promptness from that country.

"Deepest sympathy for our brethren of the English church and nation; memorial service to be held at Trinity church, New York."

The bishop commented on this, saying: "Such a message shows how strong are the ties which bind us to our great sister nation across the Atlantic."

The text taken by the bishop was from the first epistle to Timothy, 6:15: "Which in his times he shall show, who is the blessed and only potentate, the king of kings and lord of lords."

Mgr. Bourne Pays Tribute

In the course of his sermon the bishop said:

"The nation has received a sudden blow, by which it is still stunned."

He paid a warm tribute to the late king as ruler, statesman and gentleman. Of the death chamber, the bishop said: "The quiet family gathering around the bedside, the committed prayer said by the archbishop before the king died, the blessing pronounced when all was over in the hushed room, all was Christian there."

Very Rev. Joseph Armistage Robinson, dean of Westminster, preached from Deuteronomy xxxiv. 10, Mr. Most Rev. Francis Bourne, Catholic archbishop of Westminster, spoke of the king's courtesy to Catholics and his desire to show equal regard for all his subjects.

Services were held in the Russian and Spanish chapels and were attended by the ambassadors and their staffs. At the Scottish church a Gaelic memorial service was attended by a large gathering.

Pew Filled with Lilies

The archbishop of Canterbury preached on the subject of King Edward before a great congregation in Westminster abbey. The state officials and tenants at Sandringham attended the church service in a body.

The new which King Edward last occupied was filled with white lilies. King George sent a message to them, saying:

"My father dearly loved his country and was always mindful of the welfare of all there. My feelings toward all will ever be the same as his."

Una O'Brien, M. P. for Cork, addressing an "All for Ireland" meeting at Bandon, paid a tribute to King Edward as being no more truly a peace-maker anywhere than in Ireland.

"For the first time, possibly, in an unhappy history in eight centuries," said Mr. O'Brien, "a meeting of Irishmen who are nationalists to the marrow in their bones, may begin proceedings by laying a tribute of respect and genuine sorrow upon the coffin of an English king."

MEMORIAL SERVICE

IN TRINITY CHURCH

NEW YORK, May 9.—Lloyd B. Sanderson, president of St. George's Society, announced that a memorial service will be held in Trinity church at three o'clock on the afternoon of the late King Edward's funeral. The service will be choral and admission will be by ticket only.

The new which the late king occupied when he visited New York, will be kept vacant and decorated with purple wreaths and draperies. In case the demands for seats exceeds the number to be allotted, a second memorial service, in all respects similar, will be held in St. Paul's chapel at the same time.

At the church, Rev. Fr. Watelle, O. M. I., superior of St. Joseph's parish, and chaplain of Court St. Paul, officiated at mass, gave communion and delivered the sermon, which was on "The Catholic Order of Foresters."

At the breakfast later, 325 guests were present. Edouard H. Gregoire, president of the committee, presided, and Frank Ricard, chief ranger of Court St. Paul, was toastmaster. The speakers were Rev. Fr. Watelle, Rev. Fr. Graton, O. M. I., chaplain of Court St. Paul; Rev. Fr. Ouellette, O. M. I., N. V. Marcotte of Cambridge, high state ranger; Dr. A. G. Payette, vice state chief ranger; J. E. Rochette, chief ranger of Court St. Paul, and Councillman Henry Achin, Jr. Arthur J. Martel played some delightful piano solos. D. L. Page catered.

The committee in charge was composed of Ed. F. Gregoire, president; Arthur Leveille, secretary; Ulderico Delgaut, Ernest Verville and Frank Ricard, ex-officio.

BOY COLLIDED WITH CAR

EXTRA HAD NARROW ESCAPE

Boy Ran Up Against an Electric Car in Middlesex Street

Ernest Tourigny, aged seven years and residing in Howard street, had a narrow escape from being seriously hurt shortly before 1 o'clock this afternoon as a result of running into an electric car at the junction of Middlesex and French streets. The boy lost two teeth and received a general shaking up, but no bones were broken.

The boy attends the parochial school of Notre Dame de Lourdes and prior to the opening of the season this afternoon he and other boys were playing chase in the yard. In an effort to escape from a boy who was chasing him Tourigny ran into the street and struck up against the side of the inward bound North Chelmsford car, which is due at Merrimack square at 1.03 o'clock.

As soon as the motorman saw the boy rush across the street he attempted to bring the car to a stop, but before he could do so the boy struck the side of the car with force sufficient to stun him and cause him to fall to the ground.

When picked up it was found that he was badly shaken up and frightened, but outside of the loss of two teeth he was apparently all right. The ambulance was summoned, but before it arrived the boy was taken to his home in Howard street.

BOARD OF TRADE LOSS IS $60,000

Sec. McKenna Ends His Duties Wednesday

The executive committee of the board of trade will meet this evening while on Wednesday the board of directors will meet and formally accept the resignation of Sec. John A. McKenna, who will immediately afterward sever his connection with the board and will take up his new duties as sales manager for the Heinze Electric company. Mr. McKenna served four years as secretary of the board and proved to be a most valuable assistant to the board. When he entered the employ of the board it had a membership of 92, when he retired the membership was 700, and the immense gain in a great measure was due to his personal efforts for he was an untiring worker in the board's behalf.

There are several candidates for his position, the two most prominent being Thomas H. Lawler and Erving D. Kimball. It is not likely that the directors will take any action on the election until the annual meeting, which will be held on June 7th.

Boys Are Blamed for Starting Fire

GREENFIELD, May 9.—The ruins of yesterday's fire were visited by several thousand people yesterday.

It is now estimated that the damage will not exceed $60,000. The heaviest loss is on the stock of Luey & Abercrombie, wholesale grocers, and W. N. Potter & Sons, grain and flour dealers. Both the Potter brothers were away during the fire. They have not yet made an estimate of their losses.

The safe of Luey & Abercrombie was injured in the fire and has not yet been opened. Mr. Luey estimates the value of the firm's goods that were burned at $20,000. All the burned property was well covered by insurance.

The selection will cause a temporary foot bridge to be built at once over Green river, where the burned bridge stood. A special town meeting will be held as soon as possible and authority obtained for the erection of a steel or concrete bridge.

While it is not absolutely certain it seems after all the conflicting reports are sifted that the fire started in the old covered bridge by boys smoking cigarettes.

KING EDWARD TRIBUTE PAID HIM BY LOCAL PASTOR

At the First Baptist church Sunday morning Rev. Selden W. Cummings gave expression to the following tribute to King Edward VII.

"I was living in this country when the late Queen Victoria died, and could not help noticing the marked sorrow and sympathy everywhere shown for the loss of that noble woman, wise ruler and gracious queen. Her son, King Edward VII, when he ascended the throne announced that he would seek to perpetuate the worthy principles that governed the rule of his royal mother. This, I believe, it will be generally admitted he has done.

The late king manifested always the keenest interest in the welfare of his subjects. Their life and well being claimed his first thought. He became deeply attached to their sovereign, trusted him implicitly, feeling he was friend indeed. His influence was by no means limited to the nation over which he ruled. The principle of universal brotherhood was extended and deepened during his reign. He was a warm advocate of universal peace and worked unceasingly to that end. With rare tact and skill he cemented the bonds connecting his nation with others, and a much better feeling exists today between the people of the British empire and the other nations of Europe than when he ascended the throne. While looking with favor upon the strong points of democracy he stood firmly for all that was best in aristocracy. If the nobility had all been as zealous in carrying out the spirit of the words noblesse oblige as King Edward was while king, the position the democrat takes in regard to the aristocrat might be very different. Words reported to have been spoken by his majesty shortly before his death can truly be applied to his reign: 'Well, it is all over, but I think I have done my duty.'

We mourn today with her majesty, Queen Alexandra, whose name is a household word throughout the empire, and whose sweet Christian character is an ideal for English women. To the royal family and the parent country our hearts go out in deepest sympathy for this loss of so wise a king. May the new king, George V., by

VESSEL CAUGHT FIRE

ST. PIERRE, Miq., May 9.—Sixteen seamen were obliged to abandon their vessel, the fishing schooner Amade, off this port when she caught fire on Quero Bank on Friday last. They arrived here today on the schooner Narka which picked them up after they had taken to their boats. The Amade registered 35 tons net and was built at Grand Bank, N. F., in 1887.

COL. ROOSEVELT'S PROGRAM

LONDON, May 9.—If Mr. Roosevelt adheres to his traveling program he will arrive in London on May 16. The fixing of May 20 as the date of King Edward's funeral, will, however, preclude the possibility of the former president's delivering his Romanes lecture upon the original date arranged which was the 18th. It is hoped at Oxford university that an arrangement can be made for a postponement of the lecture until after the obsequies.

If Mr. Roosevelt is in London on the day of the funeral he will be expected to attend, but the question has already arisen as to what his status would be on that occasion. He could hardly be treated as a private individual, and the public would certainly expect that he be given a place among the notables.

The press repeats the suggestion that the American government appoint Mr. Roosevelt its special representative at the funeral.

GAS TANKS IN DANGER

NEW YORK, May 9.—Six explosions in quick succession in the filling department of the Standard Oil Co.'s plant on the East river in Williamsburg today scattered flames all about the building and in a few minutes a great blaze enveloped the immense plant. Firemen carried out six men who were badly burned. All are expected to recover. Tanks of a gas company nearby were in danger from the heat of the fire but were kept cool with streams of water from the fire engines until the fire was extinguished. Burning oil dropped from the pier to the water, endangering several steamships and barges. They were cut loose from the pier and floated out to the middle of the river. It took the firemen nearly an hour to put out the fire.

BRIDE IS ONLY 15

Groom Only a Youth of 19

FITCHBURG, May 9.—The marriage of Miss Elsie M. Marland of this city, 15 years old, and Nelson F. Richard, aged 19, which took place on April 27, was made public yesterday by the grandfather of the girl, Young Marland. They were married in Clinton at the parsonage of the Congregational church by Rev. W. W. Jordan.

After the marriage, the couple returned to this city, the bride going to the home of her grandfather, where she has since remained, and the groom going to his lodgings on River street. The marriage was kept a secret until a few days ago, when the girl's grandfather found a letter written to her by Nelson, in which he addressed her as "wife." Mr. Marland asked his granddaughter what it meant, and she finally admitted that she was married. The groom has been forbidden by Mr. Marland to come to his home to see his wife, and already legal steps have been taken to have the marriage annulled on the ground that the girl was under the age of consent. Mr. Marland is the guardian of his granddaughter.

Mr. Marland says that on April 27 the girl asked to be allowed to visit some friends in Clinton and he granted her request. She met her sweetheart and they then went to Clinton, where they secured a license, informing the clerk that they were residents of that place.

OUT ON STRIKE

LYNN, May 9.—Thirteen carpenters, eleven electricians and plumbers, and four electricians quit work today on a building near construction on Market street because of the alleged failure of a contractor to keep an agreement with the union. The primary cause of the strike was the presence on the job of non-union bricklayers.

AN OLD RESIDENT

Dennis Donohoe Passed Away Today

Mr. Dennis Donohoe, an old and respected resident of this city, passed away this morning at his home, 668 Central street. Deceased was a native of Ireland and came to this city more than a quarter of a century ago. For many years he was a member of the Sacred Heart parish and later took up his residence in St. Peter's parish. He was well known by both the old and young residents of the section of the city in which the family resided.

He was a good natured, kind and loving father, always an earnest worker for the family, the members of which have the most heartfelt sympathy of their many friends in their hour of bereavement. He was the father of Timothy and Dennis Donohoe, both of whom served several terms in the common council of this city. He also has a son, Daniel of Haverhill and another Jeffrey who is a member of the U. S. cavalry.

BOY ARRESTED

HE IS CHARGED WITH SHOOTING CRAPS

Arthur Biledeau, aged 16 years, was arrested while shooting craps in Bowlers street last evening by Inspector John A. Walsh. The arresting officer, besides getting one of the principals in the game, got a pair of dice and some small change. Owing to the fact that Biledeau is under 17 years of age, he will not be arraigned until Friday morning at the juvenile session of the court.

OLD RESIDENT DEAD

LYNN, May 9.—Harrison Nowhall, one of the oldest residents of Lynn, died today of the influenza at old age. He was 90 years of age. He was a member of the first board of assessors of Lynn and was town treasurer in 1840, previous to the city's incorporation.

Strike of Laborers Has Assumed Serious Aspect

NEW YORK, May 8.—The strike of laborers engaged in construction work on the New York Central railroad north of the Harlem river assumed a serious aspect today when pistol shots were fired at trains being made up in the yards at Melrose. No one was hit and the police dispersed the mob. Afterwards stones were hurled at trains and at men at work from a bridge over the tracks to the north. In the charge on this mob two men picked out as ringleaders were arrested. The men have been making trouble for several days. Before the shooting today a mob of about 50 men went to the railroad yards where is new men were at work, and induced them to quit. Following today's troubles all sections of the yards and their approaches were strongly guarded by the police.

THE HEINZE TRIAL

NEW YORK, May 9.—The trial of P. A. Heinze, former president of the Mercantile National bank, charged with misapplication and over-certification, entered its third week today. The government closed its case last week after introducing a mass of evidence in an effort to connect Heinze's alleged misapplication and over-certification of the checks of Otto Heinze & Co., his brother's firm, with the promotion of a speculation in United Copper stocks conducted by that firm. Motions for dismissal of various counts of the indictment are pending but Judge Hough in the United States circuit court indicated that he would not hear argument on the motions until Heinze's counsel had cross-examined the government's accountants who testified at the sessions of the trial last week.

The government's star witness, John Fernsler, who described last week the alleged methods pursued by the United Copper Co. in paying certain dividends out of a small amount of cash proceeds of a big loan, was early put under fire by John B. Stanchfield of Heinze's counsel. The lawyer objected to a reference made by Fernsler to the Morse case as an attempt to influence the jury and taxed Fernsler with giving out "colored" statements about the Heinze case to the newspapers. Fernsler acknowledged having told the newspapermen that the Heinzes had but $2,000,000 with which to pay $8,000,000 in dividends from 1902 to 1908. Fernsler said it so appeared from the books. He admitted he had not seen the original books of the Montana Ore Purchasing Co. in Butte. Mr. Stanchfield also got the witness to say that he had not told the jury that the United Copper Co. had $1,332,000 in deposits in various banks in January, 1907, when one of the dividends regarding which he had given testimony was paid.

"So they didn't have to borrow money for this dividend?"

"No," replied the witness.

LOCAL DELEGATES

Will Attend Atlantic Waterways Meeting

The local board of trade has selected the following delegates to attend the Atlantic Deepener Waterways convention to be held under the auspices of the Massachusetts State Board of Trade to be held at the Hotel Vendome, Boston, on May 19th; Messrs. James O'Sullivan, Fred C. Garrett, Jesse H. Shepherd, Harvey B. Greene, John A. McKenna.

The convention is being held for the purpose of considering the Atlantic deeper waterways movement; to create a general interest among the residents of New England in the question of improving the inland waterways along the Atlantic coast and to stimulate activity in the National Convention of the Atlantic Deepener Waterways association, to be held at Providence, R. I., in the autumn of 1910.

This preliminary convention in May will be called to order in the banquet hall at the Hotel Vendome by President Lloyd E. Chamberlain of the Massachusetts State Board of Trade, who will welcome the assembled delegates on behalf of the Massachusetts State Board of Trade.

The order of exercises, which will be led by speakers of eminence who are competent and qualified to speak on this subject, will embrace a thorough and comprehensive discussion of the Atlantic Deepener Waterways Movement. In the evening, at the same hotel, a banquet will be served at 6.30, at which the chief speakers will be Congressman J. Hampton Moore of Pennsylvania, president of the Atlantic Deepener Waterways association; Congressman J. Frank Small of North Carolina; Hon. A. J. Pothier, governor of Rhode Island, and other eminent men.

This convention will be comprised of delegates from each of the constituent bodies of the Massachusetts State Board of Trade, delegations from the other New England states and local boards of trade and commercial and civic organizations, together with governors of the New England states, and prominent business men who are interested in the commercial development of the same section.

The purpose of this convention is educational. The promoters state that New England has not made the advancement on the question of waterway navigation which has been shown in the other parts of the country, particularly the west and middle west, and it is believed if she is to maintain her commercial supremacy and show the progress and enlightenment which is characteristic of her efforts in other avenues, she must awake to the possibilities of this great movement, which has already become the leading question in other sections of the country.

HOT GAME

BETWEEN O'BRIEN'S PETS AND LIBERTY SQUARES

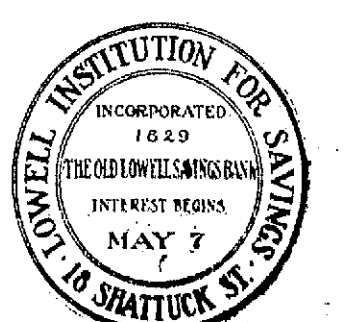

The Liberty Square Reserves and O'Brien's Pets crossed bats at Mud Pond recently in a game on which much money was bet and much discussion had previously been handed about. Edward F. Brady, one of Lowell's most ardent fans, pitched for the Liberty Square Reserves, while Matt Carney twirled for the O'Brien Pets. The game was a wonderful event and in all probability they'd be playing yet only in the 15th inning with the score 4 to 1. The chief announced that the sawbath was ready for inspection and dissection, whereupon both sides quit the ball field. Another game will be played to decide the bats. The feature of the game was the marvelous work of Pitcher Brady. Nothing like him has been seen this season and all present hope that nothing like him will be seen again this season.

6 O'CLOCK SERIOUS CHARGES

CRAP SHOOTING GAME DISTURBED BY OFFICERS YESTERDAY

Were Made Against Several Offenders in Police Court

Charles J. McKenna was arraigned before Judge Hadley in police court this morning on a complaint charging that he keeps a barbershop at 227 Gorham street last Thursday noon and the larceny therefrom of two pairs of clippers and two razors.

Antonio Homans, the complainant, was the first witness, and he testified that he keeps a barbershop at 227 Gorham street. Thursday noon about 12:25 o'clock he left his place, locking the door, and went to dinner. He returned about 1:15 o'clock and upon entering the place found that the rear window had been opened and two pairs of clippers and two razors were missing. The window had been pried open.

J. J. Highland, employed by William H. Hawes, a pawnbroker in Central street, said that McKenna called at his place and offered the clippers for sale and he refused them.

Inspector Martin A. Maher explained about the arrest of McKenna, who at the time of his arrest denied that he knew anything about the clippers. Continuing the inspector said: "When I spoke to McKenna he said that he did not know what I was talking about." Inspector Maher produced a rather crude jimmy which had been used to force the window and in answer to questions put by the court he said that he had fitted the end of the jimmy into the impression under the window frame and found that it fitted the opening.

McKenna, testifying in his own behalf, said that he would be able to prove an alibi if given an opportunity. He said that he was at the city farm until after 1 o'clock and going down to the South common met several men there during a conversation with one of them that the latter gave him the clippers to sell, promising him a drink if he got rid of them.

Probable cause of guilt being found, McKenna was held under $400 bonds for his appearance before the superior court.

Threatened His Wife

Napoleon Perreault was charged with threatening to do bodily harm to his wife, Rosanna.

During the course of the testimony it was brought out that Perreault and his wife have been living apart for some time and Mrs. Perreault testified that on May 15th he told her that if she did not return to him he would chop her up into sausage meat or shoot her. She also produced several threatening letters alleged to have been sent her by her husband.

Perreault said that he meant no harm to his wife, but would like to have her return to him. If she did not wish to do that he was willing to pay whatever it might cost her to get a divorce. She said that she would never live with him and that it is her intention to get a divorce from him.

He was found guilty and ordered under $200 to keep the peace for six months.

Was Drunk in Court

Charles Ambromski appeared in court this morning on a complaint of drunkenness. It seems that after his arrest he was bailed out and when he came to an appearance in court this morning his condition was such that he was taken downstairs to a cell. He will appear in court tomorrow morning.

Sent to Reformatory

Joseph Geoffrey was charged with stealing groceries from the store of Pierre Drapeau in Salem street on April 20 and 24. It seems that the young man by either breaking a pane of glass or finding the glass broken, was able, by reaching his hand through the aperture, to steal sugar, bottles of olives and other articles.

Inspector Charles Laflamme, who arrested Geoffrey, informed the court that the boy's father was going to have a warrant sworn out, claiming that he was a stubborn child, but at the suggestion of the inspector, who informed the father that it would be unnecessary owing to the fact that complaints against him had been made, the warrant was not issued.

The young man was sentenced to the Massachusetts reformatory at Concord.

Present at a Game

Joseph Boudreau was charged with being present at a game of crap yesterday. Joseph stands about four feet with his high heel shoes, wears knee pants and looks to be about 14 years of age, but he claims to be 21 years old. He admitted that he was present and a fine of $5 was imposed. The others escaped.

Judge Hadley inquired where the defendant had been found and he was informed that he was taken from Richmond avenue. "Worthen street is the centre of crap shooting from my own personal observation," said Judge Hadley.

Stole Flowers From Church

Napoleon Berard entered the "Elbow Congregational church" yesterday morning while the service was going on and it is alleged stole a box containing 36 carnations which was on a piano in the vestry. Berard had little or nothing to say other than that he was under the influence of liquor at the time and did not know what he was doing. He belongs in Maine and said that he was able to pay a fine, but did not want to be sent to jail. The flowers were the property of Miss Harriet G. Lee, of Tewksbury, who is organist at the church. Berard was fined $100 bonds for his appearance Friday morning.

Drunken Offenders

Annie Manning, who was charged with drunkenness, said that she took a little glass of punch last night and that it knocked her out. Estrophan Sheridan found her about 12:30 o'clock this morning lying on the sidewalk in Elliot street. She was fined $5. Joseph Goulet was also fined $5.

Thomas McCaffrey, Robert McNamara, Peter Martin, John J. McNally and Edward P. Curry were each fined $5.

Louis Perreault, a parole man from the state farm, will be returned to that institution. William H. Reagan was sentenced to four months in jail. There was one first offender who was fined $2 and several simple drinks were released.

THE LATEST REPORT Says That Ten Were Killed in Ottawa Explosion

OTTAWA, Ont., May 9.—Ten persons are known to be dead and at least fifty were injured, some very seriously, as a result of the explosion which shook Canada's capital to its foundations and sent the city into the street panic stricken shortly before six o'clock Sunday night. The magazine of the General Explosives Co., four miles away, located across the river on the outskirts of the French city of Hull, blew up with terrific violence. Fire broke out in the workshop of the factory and attracted a crowd of a thousand men and boys, who had been watching a baseball game in a field nearby. Warnings were disregarded, and the crowd stayed until two terrific explosions filled the air with a mass of stones which had formed the walls of the factory two feet thick. Men and boys were mowed down as by a blast of artillery. Skulls were crushed, arms and legs broken, and death was scattered over a quarter of a mile of ground. Flying debris reached the houses of workmen a quarter of a mile away. In front of one of these Fernand Lorrain was terribly mangled, while his wife at his side was left uninjured but covered with the blood of her husband.

Two deaf and dumb sisters named Carrier were killed at their supper table, while their parents were not injured, by a half ton boulder which had traveled almost half a mile. One victim had his head cut nearly off.

The electric lighting system was damaged and darkness added to the difficulties of searchers for victims.

At a quota of sufferers were received. The company states the amount of the explosives which went off was under ten tons, but as plate glass windows, five miles away, were broken by the shock, this is considered as under-estimated. Practically every window in Hull was broken and glass was broken in every part of Ottawa, the principal business street being literally strewn with the fragments of plate glass store fronts.

Windows of the Canadian parliament building were broken at Rideau hall, the official residence of the governor general, which was only two miles from the scene of the explosion; almost practically all of its windows and two chimneys came down. Grey and the entire household in alarm sought safety in the open.

Hull has twice sought court orders for the removal of this industry, but the company provided absolute safety.

The Quebec laws require explosives to be made behind heavy walls instead of the flimsy structures ordinarily employed in such works, and this largely accounts for the loss of life.

The property damage is probably within $100,000.

The parish church of the Holy Redeemer, half a mile away, contained an unusual number of statues. The head of every one of these was shaken off, while the bodies were left standing.

MULATTO WAS ELECTROCUTED

OSSINING, N. Y., May 9.—Gilbert Coleman, a mulatto, convicted of wife-murder in New York city, was electrocuted in Sing Sing prison today. Coleman smiled as he entered the death chamber and walked to the chair with a firm step. He breathed a prayer as the electrodes were being applied.

SERIOUS INJURY OWLS' MEETING

Razors and Knives Used in Fight

Lowell Men Attended Session in Boston

ATTLEBORO, May 9.—Lonsacott section of this town was the scene last evening of a fight among Italians. Razors, revolvers, and knives were used and one man, Tony Morilli, was seriously injured. He was badly cut about the head, face and left arm and also received a stab wound in the abdomen. It is believed he will recover. Another man was badly slashed with a razor. He was found by Chief Nerney and taken to the office of Dr. Battershall.

One of the fighters made his way to Orange street and hid in the cellar of William Blair's house. There he was found by the police and was taken to the lockup. Later he was pointed out by witnesses as one of the assailants of Morilli and he will be so charged in court tomorrow morning. His name is Catalani.

It was about 8 o'clock when Chief of Police Nerney was notified of the affair and he hurried to the scene with Officers Grogan, Bora, Welsh and Palmer. The policeman spent the evening searching the woods about Lonsacott in hopes of locating the other men who were engaged in the fracas, but at a late hour had been unsuccessful.

Lowell Men Attended Session in Boston

BOSTON, May 9.—About 30 members, representing seven nests of the order of Owls, met yesterday afternoon at the New Marlboro hotel, with J. W. Bowker of the Lowell nest in the chair and Herbert A. Kenny acting as secretary. The purpose of the meeting was to reconstruct the society under the name of New England Order of Owls, which has just been granted a charter.

The nests represented were Boston, Cambridge, Jamaica Plain, Revere, Lowell, Lawrence and Springfield. The speakers included Col. Roger F. Scannell, Dr. J. J. Condy, Martin Joyce and J. J. Sheen of Boston, Senator Hildbrand, R. J. Flynn and Messrs. Murphy and Turnbull of Lowell, G. M. Ryan of Jamaica Plain, H. Doyle of Revere, K. J. Hickey of Cambridge, J. Veneau of Springfield and F. J. Cahill of Lawrence.

At the close of the meeting any of those present refused to talk about the proceeding. A committee of 13 will meet at the state house on Tuesday and hold a special meeting in one of the rooms of the state house.

GRAND SHOWING

K. of C. Attended Sacred Heart Church

AND RECEIVED HOLY COMMUNION IN A BODY

Very Rev. Fr. Smith, O. M. I. Tendered a Reception and Presented a Check By the Knights

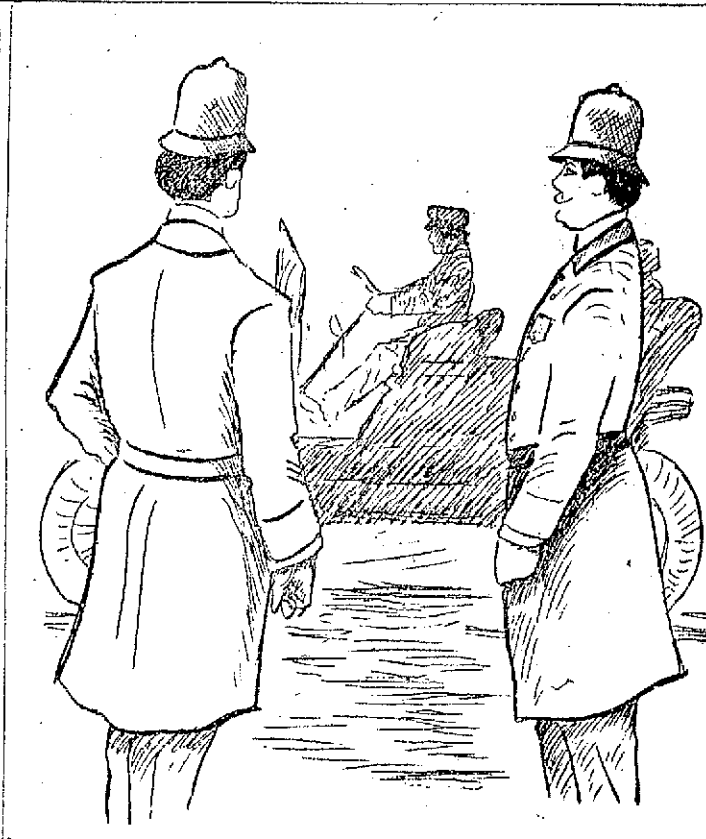

The members of Lowell council, Knights of Columbus, received holy communion at the Sacred Heart church yesterday and they made a splendid showing. By a happy coincidence, the communion day, now an annual event with the Knights, gave an opportunity to pay honor to the worthy chaplain of the council, Very Rev. T. Wade Smith, O. M. I., recently elevated to the provincialship of the order. The double event was most successful and the Knights came away from the Sacred Heart church after leaving with Rev. Fr. Smith a check for a substantial amount, which the reverend gentleman said would go into the parish school fund.

Shortly before 8 o'clock special cars conveyed over 200 Knights from the square to the junction of Gorham and Moore streets, whence they marched to the church, accompanied by the members of the Holy Name society as a guard of honor. The Rev. E. J. Cornell was celebrant of the mass. After the gospel, Fr. Smith ascended the pulpit and as he looked over the church, he said to the very doors by devout and reverent men, his emotion was apparent to every eye. He welcomed the Knights to the Sacred Heart church, praised them for such a magnificent manifestation of Catholic spirit, such an edifying public profession of faith. It was particularly gratifying, he said, to see the heads of families and men prominent in business, professional and social life, come so openly, publicly and devoutly forward to the banquet table of the Lord. Such example did more to teach good, to controvert evil teachings, and to strengthen the faith of the weaklings than a thousand sermons.

The K. of C. choir, under the direction of Mr. James E. Donnelly, rendered Von La Hache's union mass. At the offertory Mr. Donnelly and Mr. Wm. P. Thornton sang a beautiful "Ave Maria." Dr. Thomas F. Carroll acted at the organ. After mass the choir and congregation joined in singing "Holy God, We Praise Thy Name." The Knights then marched from the church to the school hall in Andrews street, where breakfast was served and a reception tendered to Very Rev. Fr. Smith. An appetizing meal was dispensed by the Grand Knight, Daniel S. O'Brien called the members to order in special meeting, to take action on the death of the late John J. Keefe, a prominent member of the council, whose funeral occurred today.

A delegation of fifteen members was appointed to represent the council. After the special meeting Grand Knight O'Brien spoke briefly yet eloquently on the occasion and its two-fold significance. He praised Very Rev. Fr. Smith's devotion to the Catholic people of Lowell and his interest in the Knights of Columbus. He said that not only was the order, but the promotion of Rev. Fr. Smith, then the Knights of Columbus. He then presented Rev. Fr. Smith a check for a substantial amount, a slight token of regard from the Knights.

Fr. Smith was given a tremendous ovation when he arose to speak. When the applause subsided he referred to the great good that the communion day has done for the Knights, making them stronger in the faith. He referred to his recent promotion as indeed a great honor but with equally great responsibilities, so large has the jurisdiction of the Oblates grown to within a few years, a mission being recently established in Seattle, Wash. Rev. Fr. Smith briefly referred to the necessity of a large Catholic orphanage in Lowell and felt that the Knights should take the matter up and push it forward, with other Catholic bodies, to a successful completion. Other speakers were Rev. Lawrence Tighe, O. M. I., Rev. Fr. Cornell, O. M. I., Hugh J. Molloy, and Robert J. Thomas, state auditor. All the speakers endorsed Fr. Smith's re-

OFFICERS SAW AUTOMOBILISTS VERY CAUTIOUS IN PASSING THROUGH LOWELL YESTERDAY

AUTO DRIVERS

Observed the Speed Limit Yesterday

There was no exceeding of the speed limit by automobilists who passed through this city yesterday, for by this time motorists within one hundred miles of Lowell have been informed that the "lid is on" overspeeding and those who were in the congested parts of the city yesterday could see the drivers operating their machines at a snail's pace through the streets.

Drivers going through this city of late have been in the habit of shutting off their power when they enter the city and attempting to coast.

Yesterday there was no one at the 100 foot trap in Moody street nor the 600 foot trap in Central street, but there were a couple at a trap laid out in Andover street, but they failed to get any of the "benzene wagons" overspeeding while passing through the new trap.

marks relative to the need of a Catholic orphanage in Lowell.

Recitations were given by Mr. James B. Coughlin, one of which, "The Letter" brought much applause. Mr. Jas. E. Donnelly, a most delightful entertainer, when called upon, said that he did not have any music and hence could not favor the company. The members were insistent, however, that Mr. Donnelly contribute to the program and he consented, appearing in a new role that was particularly pleasing for he told a story in his own inimitable style.

Some years ago, he said, a number of men determined to build a benevolent society to relieve the poor among whom they themselves were wealthy. As they sat around the festive board, toast after toast was heartily drunk. But suddenly one more serious and thoughtful than the rest, proposed that in their day of prosperity they should not forget the poor among whom they themselves were wealthy. He suggested that they in their wealth should do something for the poor. The suggestion was roundly applauded, and one portly gentleman arose and with greatunction said: "The suggestion is good. We, too, were once poor. Today we are wealthy and prosperous. In our day of wealth and prosperity we should not forget the poor. I propose three cheers for the poor!" Needless to say the recitation brought down the house.

The pleasant affair broke up about 10:30 o'clock, all declaring it to be the most successful in the council's history. At the parish mass Rev. Fr. Tighe, O. M. I. was celebrant and Rev. Fr. Cornell, O. M. I. preached the sermon. At the offertory Mr. Henry Curry sang a beautiful "Ave Maria."

PEACE CONGRESS

HARTFORD, Conn., May 9.—The formal opening of the New England Arbitration and Peace congress took place this afternoon in the hall of representatives at the state capitol. The congress will continue through three days with exercises in this city and at New Britain. The convention was called to order by the president of the Connecticut Peace society, Arthur Deering Call, who presented Dean Henry Wade Rogers of Torrington and on behalf of the city by Mayor E. L. Smith. Dean Rogers in addressing the congress spoke on "The present problem" and following his address Benjamin B. Trumbull of Boston, secretary of the American Peace society, spoke on "Lessons from the History of the Movement."

During the morning the delegates registered and many of them upon assignment spoke in the various public schools of the city on peace topics.

JURY DISAGREED

In Case of Howard vs. Boston & Northern

The jury in the case of Sadie and Milton Howard vs. the Boston & Northern street railroad, after deliberating for about 12 hours, on the evidence, failed to agree upon a verdict and reported a disagreement this morning. Judge Hardy then discharged the jury.

The case now on trial is that of Desjardins vs. Lowell Textile company, an action of tort.

15 WERE KILLED

Fifty Injured By Explosion at Ottawa, Canada

OTTAWA, Ont., May 8.—An explosion which, late last evening, wrecked the plant of the General Explosive Co. of Canada, situated a mile from Hull, Que., and four miles from this city, killed 15 persons and injured 50. The force of the explosion was terrific. The country for miles around was laid waste and many small dwellings in the city of Hull, on the side nearest the scene of the explosion, were flattened to the ground.

A baseball game was in progress a short distance from the powder works about 8 o'clock last evening. The teams were playing the last inning, and when a fire was seen in one of the small buildings of the powder plant the crowd began to swarm up the hill to get a better view of the explosion. Warning of danger came in the onlookers in two minor explosions soon after the fire got well under way. A shower of sparks and fragments of the wrecked building fell among the spectators and there was a scurrying about the way. Some men in the crowd, aware of the possibilities of the danger when the main magazines were reached by the flames, pleaded with the crowd to go still farther back and many of them headed the warning.

Others, apparently enjoying the element of danger in the spectacle, stood within 1000 yards of the burning buildings.

They were kept on the qui vive by detonations which sent showers of burning brands in all directions. The baseball game broke up and the remainder of the spectators and the players rushed up to join the crowd at the first.

It was then that the main magazines exploded. There were two stunning detonations. Everything within a radius of a mile and half was torn and shattered. Giant trees were snapped off close to the earth; barns and dwelling houses were converted into kindling wood, and even in Ottawa, four miles from the scene, hundreds of plate glass windows were shattered to fragments.

The scene where the crowd from the hill stood resembled a battlefield. Headless, armless and legless bodies were lying about among scores of unconscious persons. To the few who retained a flicker of consciousness, it appeared as though over a hundred had been killed. The strange silence which followed the final death-dealing blast was more terrifying than the cries and moans which came with a return to consciousness of the badly injured.

The terrific shock brought thousands of terrified people into the streets of Hull. Some thought it was an earthquake, while others cried out that the comet had struck the earth. Hundreds of chimneys were toppled over, and there is scarcely a whole light of glass left in the northeastern section of the city.

The first aid from the hospitals and the police found that fully 40 small frame dwellings had been shattered and many injured people were imprisoned in the wreckage. The police and firemen were joined by scores of willing volunteers in the work of rescue.

An hour and a half after the explosion word came into the city of the disaster, and ambulances and automobiles were rushed to the scene. The injured were carried to the local hospitals until there was room for no more, and then they were brought across the river to this city.

At 10 o'clock last night a police estimate placed the number of dead at 15 and the injured at 50.

In this city, four miles from the scene of the explosion, the earth trembled, buildings shook and hundreds of windows were shattered.

Rideau Hall, the official home of Earl Grey, and the buildings on Parliament hill caught the full force of the explosion. Every window on one side of Rideau Hall was blown out and two great stone chimneys toppled over on the roof of the building. The parliament buildings were also badly damaged.

Rideau Hall is still occupied by Earl Grey and his family.

The whole vice-regal establishment fled panic-stricken to the street. They were soon reassured that there was no further danger. As soon as Earl Grey learned the extent of the disaster, he ordered a detachment of troops sent across the river to help the authorities.

The building in which the main explosion occurred was built of stone, the walls being two feet thick.

Fragments of stone weighing up to half a ton were shot through the air for a quarter of a mile, shattering the frame dwellings of workmen which ran to within an eighth of a mile of the factory.

In a home just north of the works, two sisters, named Carrier, aged 18 and 19, were killed while sitting at the supper table. John Blanchfield was sitting with his wife in the day room of his home, when a fragment of rock struck him and he left her unharmed but covered with his blood.

The heart of a lad named Fabian was cut clean from his body.

The electric light works were darkened and the city of Hull left in darkness and added to the confusion and the difficulty of locating victims.

The Ottawa hospitals are crowded with injured and it is almost certain that some of these are so badly hurt that the list of fatalities will grow.

Lowell Man Once Met the New King of England

An interesting reminiscence of King George V of England, when as Prince of Wales he made a visit to India, is narrated by Charles J. Glidden, of Lowell, well known for his automobile and balloon exhibits, who attended a reception given to the prince and his princess at Agra.

"While at Agra, India," he says, "with Mrs. Glidden on our tour of the world with the motor car we as guests of the lieutenant governor general attended a reception given to King George and his queen, then prince and princess of Wales."

The affair was gorgeous in the extreme and was attended by about 100 prominent English officers, rajahs and noted Indian natives. It was held in a suite of army tents, furnished and decorated like a palace, the occasion being their majesties' tour of India.

"The dining hall was large and spacious, and was connected with the others by passageways. The walls were hung with paintings and rare tapestries, the latter the work of the natives, and one would not for a moment believe that he was sheltered from the cool Indian night air only by canvas and not palace walls."

"The lawn upon which the tents were erected was covered with rich carpets and rugs from Cashmere, and chairs and divans with highly colored upholstery were placed about the inclosed space."

"In the center of the receiving tent was a rug 30 or 40 feet square made of the finest yarns and gold thread especially for the occasion."

"On arriving at the outer portal of the tent palace we were received by the red-coated officers, to whom we showed our cards of invitation. We were then passed along between lines of officials to the coat room, where uniformed valets and maids divested us of our outer wraps."

"Another change of 'no. of' military notables was passed, and we found ourselves in the reception tent, surrounding the magnificent rug—valued at $50,000—standing comfortably with the honored invited guests."

"At the appointed time Prince George with the princess on his arm came walking slowly in from an adjoining tent, bowing gracefully right and left to the guests, the gentlemen returning the salutations by a low bow and the ladies by making a courtesy."

"The prince and princess took their position in the center of the rug, while the band played the national air. A half dozen distinguished English officers and Indian rajahs were then presented to the prince, while to the princess were presented as many English ladies."

"This ceremony lasted only about 15 minutes, and their highnesses then slowly passed out as they had entered. The guests were then invited to the banquet tent, and after a few had passed over the celebrated rug of gold it was quickly rolled up by servants and removed."

"On the Indian tour we subsequently ran across the prince and princess several times in different sections of the country, and witnessed ceremonies excelled only by the noted durbars."

COUNTY OFFICIALS

Invite an Investigation of Published Charges

Sheriff John R. Fairbairn and Deputy Sheriff Harry E. Shaw, keeper of the Lowell jail, two of the Middlesex county officials for whose removal from office a demand has been filed with Atty. Gen. Dana Malone by a committee of Middlesex county residents, deny the charges made against them and express their willingness for an investigation.

The officials thus charged include, in addition to Sheriff Fairbairn and Keeper Shaw, the three county commissioners, Levi S. Gould, Charles H. Richardson and Chester B. Williams, and Deputy Sheriff William H. Walsh.

HARRY E. SHAW
Keeper of Jail

The commissioners are charged with waste, extravagance and favoritism in the award of contracts; the others with malfeasance in office.

The charges were presented by Atty. Archibald M. Howe of Cambridge for the Cambridge Taxpayers' association, Atty. Arthur Brooks for the Civil Service Reform league and Atty. Jackson Palmer of Wellesey and Atty. Philip R. Dunbar for the committee. On the committee are Richard Henry Dana, Louis D. Brandeis, John H. Corcoran, Jesse Morton, Alvin M. Richards, Prof. Lowell Kennedy and James P. Tolman.

Questioned regarding the charges, Sheriff Fairbairn said last night: "I don't know as I have anything to say. I don't know what they are talking about. I am glad if they are going to investigate, but if there is anything wrong, I hope they'll show it up. I have nothing to fear."

Deputy Sheriff Harry E. Shaw, keeper of the Lowell jail, says he is ready for an investigation on any charges that may be preferred against the management of that institution.

gation except what I read in a newspaper today," said Mr. Shaw. "If there has been any mismanagement at the Lowell jail while I have been in charge it is only fair to the taxpayers that they should know all about it."

"If the people who have been hinting at an investigation do not intend to ask for it, then I believe it is up to the county officials to demand an investigation. I am ready at any time to meet any charge, and now that charges have been publicly made, in justice to the officials involved, it is only fair that an investigation should be made."

PLAN UNDER WAY NATIONAL HOME "JIM" JEFFRIES

To Readjust the Railroad Rates

WASHINGTON, May 9.—A rate readjustment is being made by all interstate carriers in the territory between the Mississippi river and the Atlantic seaboard. The routes included are the water and rail, as well as the standard and differential lines.

Officials of the interstate commerce commission are expecting any day to receive tariffs making increases in the eastern territory. It is understood, tentatively, that the increased rates will become effective about July 1. The desire of the carriers, of course, is to anticipate the passage of the pending railroad bill by congress.

That measure carries at present a provision that any advance in rates shall not become effective until its reasonableness has been passed upon by the commission. If the rates, as filed before the bill is crystallized into law, the commission will have authority to take up the advances only after they have gone into effect and on the complaint of a shipper.

The scheme of readjustment to be followed by the eastern lines probably will contemplate an advance on articles of luxury with the increases graded down to small advances on articles of the lower classes.

The preparation of tariffs to be filed with the interstate commerce commission involves an immense amount of detail work and it is not likely, therefore, that the new tariffs can be completed in time to become effective before July 1.

Thus far only three lines in the east have advanced their passenger rates and none has advanced its freight rates.

These advance rates, while not subject to review by the commission under the present law, almost certainly will be the object of attack by the public, and in the end the commission will have to pass upon the reasonableness of the advances.

If the pending railroad measure should be passed as it stands, the commission would have authority to pass upon the reasonableness of any advances made by the carriers, of any advances made by the carriers before the increases became effective.

To be Built by Cigar-makers of America

At the next meeting of the Cigar Makers' local union a vote will be taken on a proposed amendment to the constitution as follows: "That an assessment of three dollars be levied on each member, payable in 12 monthly assessments, due on the first Saturday of each month, commencing June, 1910." The purpose of this assessment is to establish a home for invalid, aged and infirm members of the Cigar Makers' International Union of America.

The cigar makers of Lowell are particularly interested in the matter from the fact that the president and secretary of the local union have continually agitated through the Cigar Makers' Journal for a Cigar-Makers' home. Mitchell Killen, who is president and Thomas F. Gurvey, the secretary, are to be congratulated on their success in having the question brought before the Cigar Makers throughout the country to be voted upon.

If the amendment should be adopted the home will be built at the cost not to exceed one hundred thousand dollars and will be built either in Colorado, Utah, New Mexico or Arizona.

SLIGHT INJURIES

WARREN, R. I., May 9.—The 13 months old child of Edward Creech of Metacom avenue had a remarkable escape from being killed by a fall of 23 feet out of a third story window yesterday. The baby struck on a cinder sidewalk and escaped with a scratch on one of its legs. In a couple of minutes it revived from the shock and was as lively as ever.

Dr. M. H. Merchant made an examination and found no injuries. The child, while playing in its home, climbed upon a stool and tumbled out of the window.

ALL CAPTURED

MEN CHARGED WITH GAMING ON SUNDAY

WAKEFIELD, May 9.—In a desperate attempt to escape a squad of officers who surprised them in Kimball's woods while it is said they were engaged in illegal gaming, eight out of a company of 13 men and youths, dashed out of the woods, and still wearing all their clothes, hurled themselves into the waters of Crystal lake. Before going far, seven were compelled, by exhaustion, to return to the shore and the waiting officers. The others swam entirely across the half mile wide lake and were captured on landing.

BILLERICA

The board of selectmen of Billerica, as a result of the recent tour of inspection of public property, has decided to make a number of improvements at Union hall, which is owned by the town. The grounds surrounding the hall will also be improved. A brush fire near the East Billerica-Whitington line yesterday afternoon gave the members of the Billerica Centre fire department a long run.

Did Good Work With Choynski

BEN LOMOND, May 9.—None of Jim Jeffries' workouts has pleased his trainers more than his Saturday bouts with Choynski and Papke. The speed and endurance shown by the fighter and the ease with which he handled his two opponents, through nine fast rounds is still the talk of the camp. According to Farmer Burns, Jeffries' improvement in condition in the last week has been little less than remarkable and he is of the opinion that the big fellow could be in finished fighting trim two weeks hence if necessary. Jeffries, it is pointed out, has demonstrated that he can take off his fat and acquire wind and staying powers. His trainers now say that his future work will be directed mainly to the acquisition of speed and cleverness. Daily sparring and tussling with Jim Corbett and Frank Gotch, which is expected to be the order of the day, will give the former champion the seasoning that his trainers wish him to undergo.

Tex Rickard arrived at Ben Lomond last night for a stay of two or three days. The promoter is expected to talk over the referee problem with Manager Berger and Jeffries, though Rickard denied that such is his intention.

JOHNSON'S AUTO TRIP

SAN FRANCISCO, May 9.—Jack Johnson made an auto trip to San Jose to witness an aviation meet yesterday afternoon and a punctured tire which delayed the negro's return here started a rumor that he had been killed in a smashup.

Jack professed great indignation when told of the circulated report. "It's strange they're trying to kill me," he said. "It was the same way in Chicago, but I'm still on the job and I'll be on it July 4."

Johnson began regular training for the fight tonight. He announced that he intended to drop all discussion of the referee question for a while.

It is said the fighter weighs about 220 pounds and that he plans to take about 20 pounds off during his training. He will try to reduce his weight very gradually. The negro seems to be apprehensive of the possibility of going stale before the battle and he has mapped out a plan of work which he declares he will faithfully adhere to throughout his training. He says that for the first few days he will devote himself chiefly to light boxing every other day and road work along the beach.

WILL RECOVER

MRS. HOUGHTON RESTING COMFORTABLY AT HOSPITAL

Mrs. Henry Houghton of 157 West Meadow road, who attempted to end her life Friday afternoon by taking a dose of Paris green, is resting comfortably at the Lowell hospital, to which place she was taken almost immediately after she took the poison. The hospital officials state that she has shown considerable improvement during the past 24 hours, and it is expected that she will recover.

Mrs. Houghton was cleaning house and came across the poison. She took some of it, and when found was in a serious condition. A doctor was summoned and the woman was taken to the hospital.

THREE DOLLARS PER YEAR. TWENTY-FIVE CENTS PER MONTH

The sworn daily average circulation of The Lowell Sun for the year 1909 was

16,828

Sworn to by John H. Harrington, proprietor, Martin H. Reidy, business manager, and Alfred Pilotte, pressman, of The Sun, before me, January 1, 1910. J. JOSEPH HENNESSY, Notary Public.

This is by far the largest average circulation of any newspaper in Lowell.

FOR INDUSTRIAL SCHOOLS.

The state of Massachusetts at the present time holds out great inducement to cities and towns to start industrial schools. Lawrence is one of the cities that have taken advantage of the state's offer to bear a large portion of the expense of such schools. Lowell may take up the matter later, but not until the public and public bath questions have been settled.

CRAP SHOOTING ON SUNDAYS.

A lot of young men around the city spend much of their time on Sundays in shooting craps. So common has become this form of gambling that, according to those who know, there are many young men who spend their entire weekly earnings in this manner. Numerous complaints reach the police station against young men who indulge this habit and lose their weekly wages as a result. The police are making a commendable effort to stamp out the vice in this city. Already many arrests are made, and a close watch will be kept on the places where the games are usually played. The scouts who are set to watch will be gathered in as well as those who play.

SENATOR LODGE'S ACTION.

Again Senator Lodge appears in the role of chief guardian and defender of republican policies. If it were patriotic to defend republican policies and even republican blunders, such as the worst features of the present tariff law, then Senator Lodge would be the greatest patriot in the land.

Notice the promptitude with which he rushes to Washington with the Massachusetts report on the high cost of living, there to have a part of it issued as a public document.

The Massachusetts report absolved the tariff from all blame for the high prices of commodities, although apparently with inadvertence it admitted that the high tariff cut off possible relief to consumers by closing access to the cheapest sources of food supply in the world's markets.

It cannot at present be estimated to what extent prices would be reduced by removal of the high tariff, but some idea may be formed from the fact that in no other country is the cost of living as high as in the United States, and that American trusts sell their products cheaper abroad than at home.

COL. ROOSEVELT'S PLEA FOR INTERNATIONAL PEACE.

The speech of ex-President Roosevelt before the Nobel Prize committee in Norway was the most statesmanlike and practical he has yet delivered, albeit it sounds strange to hear a man who has continually been urging increased naval armaments at home, plead so convincingly for international peace as a guest of a foreign court. In his speech he recommended additional treaties of peace, the formation of an arbitral court at The Hague and the establishment of a League of Peace made up of all the nations that would peace. To carry out and enforce the decrees of such a court it would be necessary to have an international army and navy, the duty of which would be to act under the direction of the arbitral court in enforcing its decrees.

Col. Roosevelt held up the supreme court of the United States as a model for the arbitral court of international justice, showing that it preserves peace among the states while deciding all interstate questions with the understanding that its decisions and decrees must be accepted as final.

It is quite probable that The Hague court at its next meeting, soon to be held, will make an effort to carry out some of Col. Roosevelt's suggestions. But these international movements make slow progress and meantime all the powers continue to build Dreadnoughts and to fortify themselves against foreign foes.

TO PREVENT DROWNINGS IN CANALS.

Mr. Harry W. J. Howe of the Charity Board, in a letter to the press, calls attention to the fact that certain portions of the local canals are dangerous to children because of their not being properly fenced in or enclosed. Mr. Howe estimates that one thousand lives have been lost in the canals since their construction, and while the estimate is not based upon accurate figures yet the total number of drownings in the canals undoubtedly goes up into the hundreds.

Mr. Howe appeals to Mayor Meehan for such action as may be necessary in order to provide better protection for children playing on the banks of the canals. The mayor himself cannot do more than urge the matter upon the attention of the city council which provides the remedy under section 32 of chapter 52, revised laws, which is as follows:—

"If the city council of a city or the selectmen of a town shall, after notice in writing to the parties in interest, adjudge a canal or waterway within the limits of the city or town to be dangerous to public travel, they may by an order in writing require any person owning, operating or controlling said canal or waterway to fence the same."

The first thing to be done under this law is to find out what portion of the canal or waterway is really dangerous on account of not being properly fenced. Then have the city council notify the Locks and Canals company to have suitable fences provided.

If Mayor Meehan finds any canal or portion thereof dangerous because of the lack of proper enclosures, he can request the city council to apply the provision of the statutes just quoted.

Had we a system of public baths the fatal accidents in the canals would be greatly lessened because the boys would not seek the canals for bathing purposes. It must be said in all fairness that for lack of such facilities for bathing many boys have climbed high fences and gone down to their death in the swift current of the canals. For such accidents the city, not the Locks and Canals company, is responsible.

PEOPLE OF NOTE

For the purpose of making a geological survey of Central India, Mr. Cushing of Brockton will leave in September for the east. Mr. Cushing, who is being sent out by Harvard university, is at present connected with the Salem Normal school, and during the coming summer will teach at the University of Illinois.

Dr. Gertrude E. Curtis, of 471 Lenox avenue, New York, has been appointed in charge of the dental clinic on Monday afternoons at the Bellevue hospital in New York city. This is the first time a negro has been honored with an appointment to practice at this well known institution. Dr. Curtis was graduated from New York college of dental and oral surgery in May, 1909, and enjoys the distinction of being the first colored woman to get a license to practice dentistry in New York state.

Announcement comes from London that Miss Adeline Gence, the Danish dancer, will be married on June 1 to Frank S. N. Isitt of London, and following the ceremony a reception will be tendered them by the Duke and Duchess of Newcastle. The ceremony will take place in St. Margaret's chapel. Mr. Isitt is legal adviser of the Duke of Newcastle and others of nobility. Miss Gence, who lately finished her American tour, will come back for one more visit and then will retire from the stage.

Sir James Murray has been elected one of the foreign members of the French academy, the number of whom is limited, like the immortals themselves, to forty. This distinction is only possessed by three other Englishmen—Dr. Arthur Evans, the first volume of whose "Scripta Minora" has recently been published; Dr. Barclay V. Head, a second edition of whose "Historia Numorum" will be ready before long; and Sir E. Maunde Thompson, whose Baker de Swinehoe's "Chronicle" and Adam de Usk's "Chronicle" (Royal Society of Literature) are also Oxford publications.

Mme. Surcouf was the only woman to enter her own balloon in the recent official ascent of the Stella club, of Paris. Six balloons were entered in the test and the five others were piloted by men. The Stella has the honor of being the oldest if not the only aéro club for women in the world. It was established in Paris less than a year ago and now has over 100 members. Mme. Surcouf is president of the club. She is the wife of an ailing builder, and is the only woman in the world with a license to navigate the air. She has already made several ascensions entirely alone.

TERRIBLY GORED

Bullfighter Attacked by Bull

MEXICO CITY, May 9.—Harper B. Lee, an American bullfighter, was fatally gored by a bull during a series of bull fights at Cuadalupe last evening, according to dispatches received here today.

Lee, with sixteen inches of his intestines protruding from the wound made by the bull, killed the animal and then quietly walked to the stand where he received medical aid. It is stated that the nerve displayed by the American matador is the topic of conversation in Cuadalupe. He is now at the home of his uncle in that city.

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

Commencing this afternoon and for the first three days of the week an entire new list of the grandest and most popular picture programs has been offered at this theatre will be seen. Heading the bill for the first three days of the week is a cyclist known as "Dare-Devil" Gregg "the cyclist" in his sensational "looping the loop" act that has been a feature of the program wherever he has appeared. Others on the bill are The Rathskeller Trio, in a whirlwind of laughter and melody, George Banks, monolog artist, singer and dancer and Gertrude Blake, operatic soprano. An entire new list of pictures will be shown as well as one of the best bills of the season is promised. Commencing Thursday there will be an entire change of program with Prince Kanazawa & Co., Japanese acrobats, Bertie Fowler, the cheer-up comedian, Johnnie Wise & Co. with comedy singing and dancing and Davis & Davis, vocalists. The usual amateur contest will be an added feature of Tuesday night's program. The prices at the Opera House are five and ten cents and performances are given every afternoon, from 2 to 5 and two full shows at night, starting at 7 and 8.30.

THEATRE VOYONS

The entertainment furnished at the Star theatre this afternoon, which was witnessed by two large audiences, in which women and children were well represented was of unusual excellence. The pictures and songs were arranged to make the program spicy throughout. The pictures, comic and dramatic, proved careful selection on the part of the management. For the admission of five cents, which includes a seat it is amazing how the management can produce such a big bill.

There promises to be many new faces among the amateurs tomorrow night.

STAR THEATRE

Canada is familiar to thousands of Lowell people, but comparatively few know the great progress that has been made in the Northwest during the past five years. Today the Theatre Voyons features a film showing the progress of an emigrant from England in that territory in five years. It shows the arrival, the first sowing of wheat and the various steps in the bumper crop is reaped. It is a most instructive and interesting subject and one that everyone should see. "The Call of the Sea" is another excellent subject which tells a fine dramatic story and incidentally several out of the ordinary sea views.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC

Don't forget that the bill at the Academy changes today and a fine show will be presented. Heading the bill are Pierce and Tosini, premier musicians; singers and monolog artists; Waldo Whipple, the eccentric rube comedian, will do an act that cannot help but please everybody who sees it. A fine list of pictures and the feature biograph picture will make one of the best bills seen at the Academy this season.

The admission remains the same, 5 and 10 cents.

EMPIRE THEATRE

One of the best acts on the vaudeville stage will be given at the Empire Theatre starting today. It is James Hood and Company in the little playlet, "A Scottish Soldier's Romance." This is a new four character and is a clever little Scotch act with Scotch music, including bag-piping. Dorothy Dahl, the neat little dancer and change artist, presents an act which is a close second.

The picture part of the new and best. The program includes both drama and comedy with a biograph as a feature. A new illustrated song will also be given today.

GIRL INJURED

FELL ON A DRINKING GLASS IN DARK

Madeline Mulligan, aged 18 years, and residing at 473 School street, was removed from her home to the Lowell hospital early this morning, suffering from a deep laceration of the throat. Although she lost considerable blood, it is stated that her condition is not serious and she will be able to leave the hospital in a few days.

The young woman, it is said, arose from her bed for the purpose of getting medicine to stop her tooth from aching and while moving about the kitchen in the dark, slipped and fell against a drinking glass, inflicting the injury. The cut looked dangerous at first and considerable blood flowed from it, but after receiving treatment at the hospital she recovered sufficiently to assure the attending surgeon that her case was not a serious one.

RIFLE CONTEST HELD

The rifle team of Companies K and C of the Sixth regiment went to the Inland rifle range Saturday afternoon and shot for the Butler and Parker cups. The Butler cup was won for the second time by Company K and Company C won the Parker cup for the second time.

The C team led at the 200 target, but lost by 15 points at the 300 and by six at the 500.

Lieut. Burns got the Parker cup for Company C, his total being 68. He had 22 points at the 200 and 23 at the 300 and 500 targets. The scores:

TALKED IN SLEEP

Man Was Placed Under Arrest

LOS ANGELES, Cal., May 9.—Walter Prescott is in jail today serving a six months' sentence as the result of his habit of talking in his sleep. Prescott, the police assert, is also known as Cobden and has served four terms in state prisons. He was sleeping on a park bench when a detective came by and heard him mumbling. Sitting down beside the man the officer listened for a while and what he heard led him to make an investigation. Prescott was arrested and his picture and record were found in the rogues' gallery. A sentence for vagrancy resulted.

PEAT GASES

SOON TO BE USED TO PRODUCE HEAT, LIGHT AND POWER

A concern having headquarters in Boston has purchased 1200 acres of peat land in the vicinity of Lynnfield and Peabody for the purpose of extracting gas from the peat to be used for the production of heat, light and power; the main object being the production of electricity for supplying power to be transmitted to a distance by wire.

The company in question has equipped a plant at Lynnfield where the success of the experiments in this line promise a revolution in the production of heat, light and power. The specific claims made are, that from 20 to 25 tons of raw peat dredged and carried to the generator at an expense of $3.68, there can be produced 1000 horsepower hours with approximately 3 to 4 tons of dry peat fuel which at the works would be worth about $3 as fuel. Under the most economic production of power by New England manufacturers at the present time, it is estimated that each horsepower hour costs from $3.00 upwards at the switchboard.

Judging from the present tendency to use electricity instead of steam for running factories, this new proposition to convert the gases contained in peat into electricity to be transmitted, it may be to distant points, promises to mean a change possible at a greatly reduced expense wherever there is a fair proportion of peat bogs and the United States Geological survey assures us that there is an abundant supply of peat in New England.

At a time when New England pays about $200,000,000 annually for coal to be used for domestic and manufacturing purposes, any experiment, invention or discovery that will enable the manufacturer to extract power at a cheap rate from boglands will readily commend itself to those manufacturers to whom economy in fuel has been the quest of years and one of the chief elements of success.

A LIVELY BLAZE

Broke Out in Appleton Mills

An alarm from box 24 shortly after 11 o'clock Saturday night summoned a portion of the fire department to a lively blaze in the picker room of the Appleton mills. The employees of the mill had been battling with the flames for some time before the department was summoned, but finding it getting beyond their control, called the fire department. The members of the protective company succeeded in extinguishing the blaze.

WRESTLING NEWS

Jack Leon is in town and William Demetral will arrive tomorrow for the big wrestling bout. Leon is in the pink of condition "I expect to beat Demetral in straight falls," said Leon, "and the trick will be turned in short order. I am not under-estimating Demetral. I know he's a good man, and has some big victories to his credit, but I have it in him to win, and I am sure that I am just as clever."

Demetral is the recognized Greek heavyweight champion of the world, and while he is only a youngster, being only 24 years old, he expects to be the champion of them all some time. His most creditable performance is a victory over Charlie Olson, who has been trimming the big western wrestlers for the past few years. Demetral won in straight falls over this man. He is in the same class with Western, Reed, Burns, Roller and Ordman, every state in the Union.

COLLEGE CLOSED

MACON, Ga., May 9.—Wesleyan female college was ordered closed yesterday, probably for the term, by President Answorth, on account of typhoid fever among the students. There are at the institution approximately 300 young women, representing nearly every state in the Union.

WOMEN SAVED

SHE TRIED TO COMMIT SUICIDE.

BURLINGTON, Vt., May 9.—Patrolman Charles Wardwell of Winoski prevented a suicide by his quick wit yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Ossie Burroughs, wife of Private Burroughs of the 10th cavalry, had climbed under the iron bridge that spans the Winoski river and was about to leap into the swift current when Wardwell appeared on the scene.

He engaged her in conversation while he climbed down the narrow underderrigging to her side. The woman, to a less perilous position. At the police station she still insisted that she wanted to end her life and she is being kept under observation. It was at Mrs. Burroughs' home that one soldier cut the throat of another last week and it is thought that the affair unsettled her mind.

AN OLD RESIDENT 1000 STRIKERS

Wm. D. Blanchard, Aged 87, is Dead Did Not Return to Work Today

PROVIDENCE, R. I., May 9.—The thousand strikers, employees of the nine contractors, who, it is claimed, signed the building trades agreement last night and who were to renew their building operations today after a week of idleness as a result of the strike of the 1600 members of the building laborers union, did not return to their work today as expected. This labor leaders say was caused by the heavy downpour of rain which has stopped for the time being building operations in this city.

An amicable settlement is the expected result of a conference to be held today with the one principal company which until now has refused to sign the wage agreement. This company now employs the remainder of the 1600 now out and with their signing the strike will come to an end.

William D. Blanchard, one of Lowell's oldest residents, aged 87 years, two months, died at his residence, 63 Westford street, yesterday morning. He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Clarence C. Coburn, a niece, Miss Cory Evans, and a brother, Aaron Blanchard.

He was born in Windham, N. H., March 4, 1823, and is descended from an ancient family of English origin. His father was Benjamin Blanchard and his mother, Sarah M. Davidson. Mr. Blanchard in early youth, attended the schools of his native place and Westford academy. After leaving school he became a machinist and for 52 years was employed by the Lowell Machine company, 32 years of which he was a contractor for the company.

Mr. Blanchard was a republican and served in the city government in 1853, 1860 and 1861. He was a member of Kirk Street Congregational church and also of the Old Residents association. On Aug. 19, 1847, he married Miss Henrietta W. Rice, daughter of Samuel Rice, a prominent lawyer in Grafton county, N. H.

Mr. Blanchard had been active in many affairs in the city, having been for nearly 30 years a trustee of the Mechanics Savings bank and for many years was connected officially with the Middlesex Mechanics association. He was a mechanical genius and invented the first iron planer, with four tools, and made a two foot rule which was tested by the London Standard and found correct.

AUTO FIRE PATROL

Was Inspected by Manchester Men Today

Mayor Eugene Reed, of Manchester, N. H., accompanied by City Clerk Smith, Chief Engineer Thomas Lane of the fire department and the committee on fire department of the Queen City, paid a visit to Lowell today to inspect the new automobile fire protective which was recently installed in this city. The Manchester city government is thinking seriously of purchasing two combination automobiles for its department and the city officials came to this city for the purpose of looking over the local status.

The visitors arrived in Lowell about 9.30 o'clock, coming from Manchester in a big touring car. The automobile protective was called for and the visitors, together with Mayor, John F. Meehan, Assistant Engineer James F. Norcross, the fire department and Dr. J. H. Hinchman, Capt. Halstead, made a tour of the city.

The first place visited was Belvidere and the Oaklands. The auto went down Andover street to the city line and returning to Nesmith street did a stunt up Mansur and Fairmount streets hill. After going down the steep decline to Rogers street the apparatus proceeded to Centralville, where it was driven to the summit of Third street hill, over Beacon street, down Tenth to Third, and thence to the West Sixth street fire house, where the new truck was inspected.

After the truck and the house had been inspected the party returned to city hall, where they were entertained by the mayor and later the visitors went to Boston in their auto.

Charles N. Perkins, who has charge of the manufacture of the automobile fire apparatus at the Knox factory in Springfield, was in Lowell today, but did not accompany the visitors on their tour of inspection.

Chosen Chief Marshal of the Great A. O. H. Parade

Mr. Humphrey O'Sullivan will ride at the head of the great Hibernian state parade to be held in this city in August in connection with the state convention of the order which also will be held here and will extend over four days.

At a mass meeting of the local Hibernians, held in A. O. H. hall yesterday and which was attended by the state officers, Mr. O'Sullivan was the unanimous choice for the position of chief marshal of the parade. The gathering was a most enthusiastic one and was presided over by Michael J. McEvoey. There were speeches delivered that met with a most general approval. Seated on the platform were the state officers, Mr. John W. McEvoey, Mr. James O'Sullivan, Fred H. Rourke, Michael J. Markham, Alderman Connors, John C. Tourke, president of Division 8, and delegates from this county to the national convention at Portland, Oregon. It was decided to appoint a committee of ten to act with the central council in making arrangements for the coming state convention. It was also voted to appoint a committee to interview the mill agents and see if it can be arranged to have the annual vacation for mill employees take place during convention week in August.

Mr. McEvoey in opening the meeting told what the chief is doing to make the convention and parade a great success, and he referred to the necessity of united and earnest action.

The State President

State President John J. Rogers of Worcester received a warm welcome when he was introduced. He referred most enthusiastically to the prospects for the parade. He said he had been in some of the western counties of the state and the members and their wives and children are already preparing to come to Lowell in large numbers. In many of the places divisions of the A. O. H. and Hibernian military companies are drilling and organizations are combining to bring hands to Lowell. He said that he has received many

Well Known Detective is Dead

NEW YORK, May 8.—The death of Thomas Byrnes, known familiarly as Inspector Byrnes, although he had been chief of police in this city, occurred Saturday night after a long illness from chronic indigestion and gastritis.

The end was not unexpected. Mrs. Byrnes and their five daughters being at his bedside.

In his death there passes away one of the greatest detectives this country has ever known. Byrnes retired from the New York police in 1895 with a yearly pension of $3000. Besides, he was a millionaire through funds he had secured by fortunate investments.

Mr. Byrnes was born in Ireland June 15, 1842, but came to this country with his parents when four months old. He was educated in New York and when the war broke out enlisted in the First Regiment Fire Zouaves. He served until the regiment was disbanded and then returned to the city and Dec. 10, 1863, was appointed a policeman.

In a short time he was assigned to special duties and soon made a reputation as a successful catcher of confidence men and other criminals. He became the terror of the crooks and rose rapidly, being made a captain in 1869.

In 1872 he became superintendent of police and held the position until 1885, when he voluntarily resigned.

The column devoted to the Propagation of the Faith, in this week's issue of the Pilot has the following:

As is already known to our readers, St. Joseph's church at Lowell, Mass., has the honor of being the "banner branch" in the archdiocese. This is a French-speaking congregation presided over by the Oblates of Mary Immaculate, to whom as their Provincial lately wrote to the diocesan office—"the mission work is always peculiarly dear."

The director of this great branch altitudes frequently in public and private to the mission cause. Many of his members make full returns for the year within the first few months and regular meetings are held. Souvenir cards are distributed occasionally to the promoters and special premiums awarded to those who have charge of several bands.

Acted as Critic of Balloon Trip

ORANGE, May 9.—A unique balloon trip, in which three men, Jay B. Benton of Boston, J. Walter Flag of Worcester and William Van Sleet of Pittsfield, made their final qualifying ascensions as pilots under a critic, ended near here yesterday, after a flight of almost 60 miles in an air line. Chas. J. Glidden of Boston, a licensed pilot, was the critic, and William Moisan of Pittsfield was taken as passenger.

The ascent was made in the balloon Boston from Aero park, Pittsfield, at 4 o'clock yesterday morning. It was the first trip of the balloon since it was rebuilt last winter, the journey being considered an unusual one for distance and number of passengers carried in a balloon of 25,000 cubic feet capacity. After rising to a considerable height, the balloon was brought to earth about 10 minutes following the start. This was repeated twice that each of the three pilots might handle the air craft separately on the short flights. All three flights were made within the city limits of Pittsfield.

Mr. Glidden left the basket after the third descent and his place in the car was taken by Mr. Moisan, who, with the three pilots, started on their long flight. A north wind carried the balloon over the Berkshire, but the air currents soon shifted and took the accented southward. The highest altitude reached was 7500 feet.

When they neared this town the balloonists decided to land and did so easily in a meadow about two miles north of here. It was 8:25 a. m. when the basket touched the earth.

Strike Breakers Used Their Revolvers

GREENVILLE, R. I., May 9.—Enraged by a shower of stones hurled by children, most of the members of a group of thirty-four strike breakers, who were being brought from a town to the mills of the Sullivan Worsted Co. where 150 men are on strike, pulled revolvers and fired a volley of shots, early last evening. No one was hurt, but the attitude of the strike breakers was so menacing that the crowds attracted by the shooting allowed the men to enter the mills without protest.

The end of the strike, now four weeks old, is apparently as far off as ever. The importation of strike breakers is said to have intensified the bitter feeling among the operatives, who struck for higher wages. The company, it is said, will attempt shortly to reopen the mills.

NEW YORK, May 9.—Mayor Gaynor sent yesterday to Police Commissioner Baker a communication directing him to do away with the practice followed by the police of arresting crews on railroad trains and of the motor and conductor of rapid transit trains and surface cars in cases where some one has been run over. This is the letter that the mayor sent to Commissioner Baker:

Complaint has been made to me that on April 21 Joseph P. Mullen, a locomotive engineer of the New York Central and Hudson River Railroad Co., was arrested without a warrant and locked up by two policemen over night; that he was taken to the police court next morning and held in $1000 bail for examination on the charge of assault; that he offered H. Dwyer as his bondsman; that the magistrate rejected Mr. Dwyer for the reason that he had once practiced law (which was no reason at all in criminal practice) and sent the prisoner back to jail; that thereupon a justice of the supreme court accepted Mr. Dwyer as bondsman and discharged the prisoner on bail; that on examination day the officers who made the arrest could furnish no evidence against the prisoner; that an adjournment was had and on the adjourned day they could furnish no evidence; that subsequently the coroner

In treating and curing Eczema and other well defined skin diseases, two vital things must be done. One is to exclude dust, germs and air from the diseased parts, and the other is to set up the healing process at the same time. The new medical preparation called Cadum accomplishes both these results so effectively that the itching is stopped as soon as it is applied, and the sore parts heal up in a wonderfully short time. Anyone with skin trouble can test Cadum by getting a 50-cent box at any drug store, and thus personally realize the power of this new compound, which is just as effective in the cure of pimples, blotches, blackheads, eruptions, acne, herpes, scaly skin, rash, sores, chafings, etc.

Lowell Team Has Climbed to Top of Standing

First Averages Show Four Players Over the .300 Batting Mark — Fluharty Leads With .413—Fielding Averages Are Good

Back from the South comes the Lowell team at the very top of the list and defeating the strong New Bedford team twice on its own diamond-hole and squaring accounts for the manner in which New Bedford gave it to them a week ago on the local diamond.

The Lowell team has played over 10 games and the fans have had a chance to judge the work of most of the players. The averages are presented today for the first time and show the welcome fact that four of the teams who have played in at least seven games are batting over .300, Fluharty being the big leader with an average of .413 for 11 games. The fielding averages are satisfactory and it is noticeable in the last few games played that the pitchers have been given perfect support by the team.

Taking the different departments of the team what do we think we see? Behind the bat Huston and Stone appear to be all right. Lemieux is a good emergency man but the other two have shown up well. Huston is steady, a good batter and fielder and he can also play first base well. Stone is a catcher but during the opening games played first. He looks good. In the pitching staff there is no question as to Wolfgang and Tyler. They are the two best that the league has shown thus far. A beautiful fact about the pair is that they not only can pitch but they are not afraid to go in and never shrink. Of the other three Moore, Buckles and Boules, little can be said either way at present. Boules had been playing short stop and playing the position well. A few times he pitched part of a game and gave evidence of having speed and good curves. Buckles has fine speed and some curves but lacks control. But he's only a kid and is a long way from home. After he becomes acclimated he will probably show some class. Moore has shown speed when pitching. Morse the new first baseman looks good. Campbell has shown an improvement at third, while Fitz is a game old reliable at second. Ordway, who made a big hit in the Maine league last year, is laid up and hasn't had an opportunity to show what he can do. Arthur Cody or Cote of Salem, a short stop, reports at Spaulding park today for a try-out in this position.

As to the outfield, no team in the league has anything on it that we can see. Fluharty, Magee and Jones are all good batters. Magee and Jones perhaps are faster at fielding than Fluharty, but he has it on them with the stick. Jones is one of the fastest men on the team on the bases. If the pitchers hold out, and remember we still have Pugsley coming, the Lowell team will travel as fast as any of the others and much faster than some.

The averages are as follows:

Some pitchers carry a diary in the pocket of the uniforms, in which they keep a record of the games they pitch. Lowell is fortunate in the possession of at least two pitchers, Tyler and Wolfgang, who not only can pitch but never refuse to go in and do their best when called upon. While Washington baseball fans are not claiming a pennant, or even a first division berth for their team, they can point with pride to their $10,000 battery, Pitcher Walter Johnson and Catcher Charley Street. This pair compares with the greatest in the game ever produced. Johnson has everything that a pitcher needs—control, speed, good curves and a cool head. Street is one of the best backstops playing today and is in the same class with Kling, Sullivan and Bresnahan. Besides being a star catcher, he is an excellent field general and has a strong throwing arm. Street holds the unique distinction of being the only ball tosser who ever caught a ball dropped from the Washington monument, a fall of 505 feet. He accomplished the feat in 1908. Were Johnson and Street on a team like the Cubs, Tigers or Pirates, with the great players behind them, there is little doubt that they would go down in baseball history as one of the greatest game ever produced. This season Johnson is twirling in grand form. In a recent game against Philadelphia he fanned ten men.

From the Ruins of the Houses in Cartago

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica, May 9.—Up to noon yesterday 800 bodies had been taken from the ruins of the houses, which were overthrown in the earthquake last Wednesday evening at Cartago. The estimate of death last evening placed the number at 1500, but it was not counted, many of them having been removed to adjoining towns and villages and since the disaster, scores have died from their injuries.
Dr. Bocanegra, the Guatemalan representative to the Central American court of justice, was completely demoralized when removed from the ruins the day following the earthquake, but he is now recovering from the shock. Physically he was slightly injured.
Cartago, a village of 2000 people, about 18 miles east of San Jose, also suffered severely from the earthquake, reports reaching here indicating that nearly a hundred persons were killed. Large fissures have opened up in the city, which have given an additional cause for alarm. Ten thousand persons have been rendered homeless, and the severe rains and lack of food and drinking water are responsible for much suffering.
A ceremony attending the inauguration of Ricardo Jimenez as president of Costa Rica, took place yesterday on one of the plazas in San Jose, owing to the fact that the people feared to enter the government building.

The Zion second team played the U. S. Bunting second team at Bunting park. The feature of the game was the bowling of Albert Whitworth, who took eight wickets for 21 runs.

Terry Martin vs. Honey Melody, Thornton, R. I.
SATURDAY
Bill Papke vs. Joe Thomas, San Francisco.
George Memie vs. Lew Powell, Los Angeles.
Jim Driscoll, England's featherweight champion, arrived in New York late Thursday night. He went to Lakewood Friday to assist his namesake, Boye Driscoll, who will box ten rounds with Willie Beecher at the Fairmont A. C. on Tuesday night. The clever Englishman says he will go to California in a few weeks to begin training for his 45 round fight with Abe Attell at Colma on July 2. "I had a successful campaign on the other side," said Driscoll, "beating Seaman Hayes and Spike Robson, both of them being easy. I knocked them out clearly and showed that I could punch. In the coming fight with Attell I will be at my best as the weight is 125 pounds four hours before ring time. I am glad that Abe has consented to 45 rounds, for I'll surely beat him at that distance. I'm in the Jeffers-Johnson fight is a great one. I'm sure it will be a party of leading sporting men are coming over here next month to take it. John L. Sullivan, who is touring England, has made a big hit. The Freddy Welsh-Packey McFarland bout in London on Decoration day promises to be a clincher. I don't care to predict the winner."

Jimmy De Forest has called off the proposed 12-round bout between Phil Moore and Jimmie Walsh in Boston. The two men agreed to weigh 115 pounds four hours before the battle, but failed to post a forfeit on May 1. De Forest says Moore's recent victory over Walsh in New York city caused the latter's feet to grow cold.

Lawrence Murphy has refused to make a match with Jack Goodman, according to the latter's manager, Sammy Kelly. Goodman offered to weigh 133 pounds at 8 o'clock, but Murphy insisted that the scaling should be done three hours later. Murphy now says he cannot meet Goodman under any conditions, as he has agreed to box Abe Attell again. Kelly declares Murphy and Attell are mixed up in a "family affair" or rather a scheme to get some more easy money.

THE FORECASTER
WASHINGTON, May 9.—"Unparalleled in the history of the weather bureau," is the way in which Prof. Edward B. Garriott, official forecaster of the bureau, last night described the ranges and distribution of temperature in the United States during the past two weeks.
He pointed out that "the incalculable damage to fruit and vegetation in the central valleys and southern states caused by the cool wave during the latter part of April might have been avoided in large degree by a proper appreciation of the timely warnings issued by the weather bureau and the employment of approved frost-protecting devices."
"The warm wave," he added, "following the cool period, produced the highest April temperature on record at points in the north-central states and temperatures that approached the records in middle interior and middle eastern states. To turn 'his warm wave' followed during the first week of May by an extensive and persistent cold area which, during three consecutive nights, carried the frost line over the middle Mississippi and Ohio valleys and southern portions of the middle Atlantic states."

CRUSHED BETWEEN CARS
Harry McDonald, of 180 A street, was crushed between two freight cars near the Western avenue freight office early yesterday morning and suffered severe bruises about the body and a fracture of three ribs. The ambulance removed him to St. John's hospital for treatment.

STATE WIDE PROHIBITION.
BOSTON, May 9.—The legislature met today. Among questions of public importance was the state wide prohibition and the repeal of the anti-race-track measure adopted at the last session.
REV. J. P. MANNING DEAD
HOULTON, May 9.—Rev. J. P. Manning, pastor of St. Mary's Roman Catholic church, died today. He was born at Providence, R. I., fifty years ago and attended St. Laurent college in Montreal, St. Joseph, near St. John, N. B., of which he afterward became professor of English, and St. Charles college at Baltimore. He was stationed at Fort Fairfield, Me., fourteen years, coming here eighteen months ago.

A YOUNG UNDERTAKER
A son was born this morning to Mr. and Mrs. John J. Higgins. Mr. Higgins is the well known undertaker and his place of business is located in Lawrence street.

FOURTH OF JULY
"MAJOR" FISKE ARRANGING A GREAT CELEBRATION
"Major" Josiah Fielding Fiske is to the fore again and he, at the instigation of a number of business men in Centralville, is trying hard to arouse enthusiasm in favor of the holding of an all-day celebration on the Fourth of July. The proposed event is not going to be along the lines formerly followed—a night before event, but is to be an all-day event on the Fourth.
The major has been conferring with a number of the business men and in conversation with a representative of The Sun this afternoon said that the business men were very enthusiastic over the proposed event and as a result there will be a meeting of the business men next Thursday night at 7.30 o'clock at the West Sixth street fire house.

FAVORITE WITHDRAWN
LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 9.—Waldo, the favorite of the Kentucky Derby which will be run at Churchill Downs tomorrow, was withdrawn today on account of lameness.
GAMES POSTPONED
New England at Lynn—Brockton-Lynn game postponed, rain.
New England at Haverhill—Haverhill-Fall River game postponed, rain.

POLISH SOCIETY
TO ERRECT A BUILDING TO CONTAIN A HALL
The recently organized Polish National Home association of Lowell met yesterday and elected the following officers: President, Stanislaus Wozniak; vice president, S. D. Monarszynski; treasurer, Stephen Sobczak; recording secretary, Henry Fiesles; financial secretary, Anthony Kazalecki; trustees, Anthony E. Wozniak, Frank Kurak, Simon Kokoska, Andrew Puchopko and Antoni Witkos.
The association intends to erect a building which shall contain a hall and ante-rooms, to be used for meetings, entertainments and other social affairs.

PARK BOARD
PLANS OUTDOOR RECREATION FOR PORTLAND PEOPLE
PORTLAND, Ore., May 9.—Out-door recreation for all the people of Portland is planned by the city park board and by next summer these public playgrounds for young and old will be equipped fully. From the little tads who roll in the sand piles to the grown-ups who plunge into the swimming pools, none will be overlooked. The public park system will include facilities for all kinds of athletic sports and assembly rooms for forenals. The plan goes a step farther than is usually the case in park systems of American cities.
Work has already been started on a big swimming pool for one park and it is expected to be completed by July 1. An indoor gymnasium, with reading rooms, shower baths and plunge, will be built alongside and the same roof will cover a large auditorium with a stage for lectures, concerts and amateur dramas.
The track will be built out of doors for boys and nearby the gymnasium and all apparatus. There will also be wading pools and sand piles for the little tots. It is expected to make these park playgrounds the centers for many activities in the different parts of the city. The young people will be given an opportunity to dance and games of all kinds will be provided.
A project now under consideration is the making of each of these centers a branch of the public library. This feature, so that a healthy rivalry may be stimulated, one community contending with another in athletics and forenals.

AFTER DOCTORS FAILED
Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Cured Her
Knoxville, Iowa.—"I suffered with pains low down in my right side for a year or more and was so weak and nervous that I could not do my work. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills, and am glad to say that these medicines have done more for me than anything else and I had the best physicians here. I can do my work and rest well at night. I believe there is nothing like the Pinkham remedies."—Mrs. CLARA FRANKS, R. F. D. No. 3, Knoxville, Iowa.
The success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, is unparalleled. It may be used with perfect confidence by women who suffer from displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregular periods, pelvic pain, backache, bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, or nervous prostration.
For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills, and suffering women owe it to themselves to at least give this medicine a trial. Proof is abundant that it has cured thousands of others, and why should it not cure you?

TO BE ORDAINED ABEL WHEELER DEAD

Four Young Men to Enter Priesthood

The Oblate clergy of this city will be honored this week by a visit from Mr. Donnelly, O. M. I., titular archbishop of Ploemais, and superior general of the Oblate Order, who is making an official visit to the Oblate houses in America. While in Lowell Bishop Donnelly will elevate four young Oblates to the priesthood, the ordination taking place at the Sacred Heart church on Saturday morning. On Friday morning at the same church Bishop Donnelly will administer minor orders to 12 Oblate theologians. On Friday afternoon he will administer confirmation to 300 children at St. Joseph's church.

Among those to be ordained are Rev. T. Franklin Wood, O. M. I., of St. Edward Chaput, O. M. I., of this city. The former is a former pupil and graduate of the Sacred Heart school. He will be ordained to the priesthood Saturday morning, and will sing his first mass Sunday morning, May 16. The ceremony for the elevation of the young men to the priesthood will be presided over by Rev. William J. Kerwin, O. M. I., of Holy Angels college, Buffalo, N. Y. Mass will be at 10:30.

Rev. Edward Chaput, O. M. I., is a native of Lowell and will sing his first mass at the Sacred Heart church at 7:30 o'clock. He will reside in that parish and will receive communion from his hands at the first mass.

The others to be ordained are Rev. John Roche, O. M. I., also a resident of the Sacred Heart parish, and Rev. John M. O'Brien, O. M. I., of Buffalo. Fr. Roche will sing his first mass at the Sacred Heart church at 8 o'clock next Sunday and will assist at Fr. Wood's first mass at 10:30. Another Sacred Heart school boy about to be ordained is Rev. John Riordan, of Brighton seminary, who will be elevated to the priesthood at Boston on Saturday, May 21. On the following day he will sing his first mass at the Sacred Heart church at 10:30 o'clock. On Sunday, May 22nd, Fr. Roche will sing his first mass at the Sacred Heart church. The Sacred Heart parish has become widely known, especially in the Oblate order as a nursery of priests, and now has the proud distinction of being presided over by the provincial of the Oblate order, Rev. T. Wade Smith, O. M. I.

Mr. Donnelly will remain in America until July. He has previously toured Canada and will return to Ottawa upon leaving Lowell.
